TRAPPED ARMY IS WIPED OUT; 5,100 SEIZED

6,000 Germans Fall on Other Fronts.

LONDON, Sept. 2 [Thursday]—(AP).—The Red army advancing in the Donetz basin has wiped out the German Taganrog army, killing or capturing more than 40,000 enemy troops and routing or mauling eight divisions totaling 120,000 men, Moscow announced early today.

An additional 6,000 Germans fell yesterday trying to stem soviet armies driving toward Stalino, Poltava, Bryansk, and Smolensk along a 600 mile front, said a war bulletin recorded early today by the soviet monitor.

The Taganrog debacle was the greatest single German defeat since Stalingrad. More than 35,000 Germans were killed and 5,100 captured in the final liquidation of the encircled troops caught west of the Sea of Azov city, the announcement said.

Germans Admit Retreat.

German troops were withdrawing in the Donetz basin—Berlin military circles telling Swedish correspondents the axis fears of an allied invasion in the west prompted the retreat. German lines also were sagging east of Smolensk, south of Bryansk, and deep inside the Ukraine, the Russians indicated.

The Germans, in a frantic effort to halt the wide Russian breakthru beyond Taganrog, were said by Moscow to have hurriedly shifted some of their inland forces to the south.

The Russians then promptly went over to the offensive southwest of Voroshilovgrad, punching out gains of four to six miles toward Stalino.

Claim Reds Mass Troops.

Complete erasure of the collapsing German Donetz front apparently was foreshadowed in a Berlin broadcast which said the Russians were amassing a tremendous striking force along the stretches of the middle Donetz river. This area is on the "roof" of the extended German salient. A Russian break-thru there probably would result in an even larger encirclement of German troops than those trapped at Taganrog.

Soviet bombers pounded German troop trains and truck convoys rushing into the area between Mariupol and Taganrog. Several trains were smashed, more than 100 trucks destroyed, and 25 planes shot down, the war bulletin said.

Reds Gain 7½ Miles.

Advances of four to seven and one-half miles also were announced on the Bryansk and Smolensk fronts as the Russians recaptured 300 villages yesterday.

Of the Smolensk front, where Russian troops were reported within 45 miles of that central anchor, the Moscow announcement said:

These attacks collapsed under Russian artillery blasts and 2,000 Germans were killed in an unchecked Russian advance, the bulletin said.

Nazis "Shorten Front."

A German broadcast quoted Col. Ernst von Hammer, military correspondent, as admitting tonight that German troops were retreating southwest of Voroshilovgrad in the Donetz basin, in "another shortening of the front." He added that "the soviets attempted in vain to impede the move," the same phraseology used in explaining the Taganrog reverse.

Voroshilovgrad, approximately 70 miles northeast of Stalino and 90 miles north of Taganrog, is already some distance behind the front, and the German announcement indicated the Nazis were falling back upon the defenses of Stalino, their army headquarters for the entire southern front and seriously threatened main bastion in the Donetz basin.

The German high command made no mention of the withdrawal but noted soviet attacks against Rumanian troops holding the last German foothold in the Caucasus.

Illinois Yank Gives an Arm to Save a Pal

A U. S. EVACUATION HOSPITAL IN SICILY, Aug. 30 [Delayed]—(AP).—The room was full of wounded soldiers and they all lay facing an open door—waiting.

In one bed Sgt. Martin Moritz was propped up. There was a fresh bandage on the six inch stub which was all that was left of the right arm he used in doing chores on the family farm back in Benson, Ill. [in Woodford county, about 30 miles northeast of Peoria].

Into the room marched Lt. Gen. George S. Patton Jr., head of the United States 7th army. He walked up to the bed where Moritz lay, nervously waiting to receive the highest honor the American army can bestow.

Wounded Aiding a Casualty.

The general's aide was nervous, too. His voice shook as he read the citation which told how Moritz, after his arm was shattered by an enemy bullet while he was helping a wounded soldier, tried to amputate the arm himself so he could continue treating the other man.

It told how, when litter bearers came to save him, he insisted the other man be picked up first, and how he suffered an abdominal wound later when the Germans shelled the aid station in which he was lying.

"The courage displayed by Moritz both on the battlefield and in the hospital," the citation concluded, "was an inspiration to all who saw it."

Receives the D. S. C.

As his aide finished reading, the general produced a distinguished service cross, saying:

"Soldier, I have pinned medals on none more worthy than you."

Then he pinned the medal on Moritz, gripped the sergeant's left hand tightly in both his hands, and walked out.

The sergeant had not uttered a word. He just cried silently. The tears that filled his gray eyes were tears of pride.

The sergeant, only 28 years old, is looking forward to finding work where courage and character are more important than right arms. He feels sure he can be fitted with an artificial arm. His mother and father are dead and his only close relatives are five brothers and a step-sister back home on the farm in Illinois, and a step-brother in New Guinea.

Story of His Heroism.

"But I don't want to be a burden to them," he said.

Moritz was an army medical worker with a battalion which made two amphibious landings behind the German lines along the north coast of Sicily. Telling of the day the German sniper hit his right arm, he said:

"It happened at Brolo on Aug. 11. It was my fourth amphibious landing. We went ashore 16 miles behind the enemy's lines.

"One of the boys got hurt. I helped him and got him under cover, but then we had to move. A German sniper caught me in the right arm. The bullet tore most of

U. S. SHIP'S OWN BOMBS BLOW IT IN TWO; SAVE 136

Men Against Sea in Pacific Storm.

[Lt. Comdr. Joseph Leverton Jr., commander of the mine sweeper Wasmuth, whose sinking was announced yesterday, tells of the rescue of all 136 men aboard in the following interview with an Associated Press war correspondent.]

BY EUGENE BURNS.

AT A FAR WESTERN BASE IN THE ANDREANOF ISLANDS, Alaska, April 7 [Delayed]—(AP).—One hundred and thirty-six men fought death when the old 1,200 ton four piper U. S. S. Wasmuth, converted from a destroyer to mine sweeper, broke in two after two of her depth charges slipped overboard and exploded.

The ice filled 70 mile an hour gale froze tons of salt water on the bow after the stern wrenched off and it took 3½ hours for a tanker to get a line aboard in the blackness. Then the ships rammed holes into each other.

And yet, not one casualty occurred.

Admiral Credits Skipper.

This seamanship was effected by the Wasmuth's skipper, Lt. Comdr. Joseph Wilson Leverton Jr., 34 years old, of Washington, D. C.

Rear Adm. Thomas Cassin Kinkaid; commander of the North Pacific, said "Leverton's performance was outstanding. It will be recorded in the annals of American seamanship."

Leverton gave credit to sturdy men and to Lt. Comdr. [now Comdr.] Alfred J. Homann of Santa Rosa, Cal., skipper of the rescue tanker Ramapo.

"The U. S. S. Wasmuth," said Leverton, "left Kodiak Christmas eve [1942] to escort seven vessels thru the Aleutian chain.

"The first night out it began to blow. Waves were 75 feet high at times.

"Spray washed into our stacks as the ship was rolling more than half over. The seas flattened everything on our forecastle except anchors and guns and carried away stanchions of 2 inch steel pipes, lifelines, and the jackstaff.

"The temperature dropped to 12. Spray froze.

Couldn't Reach 2 Depth Charges.

"We bolted down boats, closed doors, restricted passage. We decided even to secure depth charges. But men could not reach the outside two without loss of life.

"Three days we rode this storm, pounding and pitching and rolling. Men lashed themselves into their bunks.

"At the height of the storm, at 4:45 p. m., Dec. 27, I was on the bridge and over the wind's screeching I heard an explosion.

"Some equipment on the fantail had carried away, smashing loose the depth charge rack, and some rolled into the sea. At 50 feet the first exploded. In 53 seconds a second exploded.

"I knew my ship was hurt. I

Daniel Peterkin Jr., president of the Howard Aircraft corporation, and his general manager, Roy A. Watkins, a flyer in the last World war, yesterday congratulated THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE on the air power show which it is sponsoring in Tribune Square in coöperation with the army air forces, materiel command, during a broadcast over radio station W-G-N. They were interviewed by Jack Brickhouse, W-G-N announcer, next to the cockpit of the PT-23 trainer, which the Howard company manufactures near St. Charles for the army.

Only five days are left in which to see the show, which will close Labor day night. Today the show will be visited by Irvin L. Porter, chairman of the Cook county war finance committee; Norman B. Collins, executive vice chairman of the Illinois war finance committee, and other war savings officials as a preparatory step to their opening of the third war loan drive next Thursday.

Many employes of the Douglas Aircraft company, Park Ridge, will tour the show today.

As a "thanks from Douglas" gesture to THE TRIBUNE, a Skymaster circled low over the show yesterday afternoon. It was the same model which flew President Roosevelt to Casablanca, Gen. Giraud from North Africa to Washington, and Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands from England to Canada.

SUB SINKS NAZI FREIGHTER NEAR TURKISH COAST

BY SAM BREWER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Aug. 31 [Delayed].—The German freighter Thisbe was sunk just outside Turkish territorial waters in the Black sea last night two hours after leaving Istanbul. Forty men went down when the ship, heavily laden with chrome ore, was sunk by two torpedoes fired by a submarine, presumably Russian, despite the ship's escort of planes and ships.

The Thisbe had spent a week here loading 2,000 tons of Turkish chrome ore, which is vital to German war industries.

The only crewmen to escape the sinking were five who had been unwilling to face the dangers of the voyage and had jumped overboard the previous night.

The hazards for axis shipping between Mediterranean and Black sea ports have been increasing recently. Only a few vessels risk the trip because of Russian submarines in the Black sea and British in the Aegean.

250 City Boys Rewarded for Aid on Farms

BY RITA FITZPATRICK.

Two hundred fifty strapping city lads, bronzed by the country sun and rugged from hard work, were awarded certificates of merit by the war man power commission yesterday for assisting farmers of the southern Chicagoland area this summer. Ten of the boys, selected as outstanding war farm volunteers by the Catholic Youth organization, received gold statuettes for cheerful, efficient labor and excellent behavior.

These honors were conferred on the youthful crop corps at the closing of Thornton and Palos camps sponsored by the C. Y. O. in coöperation with the farm extension service and the United States employment service. The boys had been housed in the camps thruout the summer.

Having done the work of men, the hardy, young crew, most of whom were between the ages of 14 and 16, gathered at Thornton camp, a former CCC camp at 183d street and Cottage Grove avenue, to mark the event as boys. There was much tumbling, boxing, baseball, shouting, and laughter.

Points to Production.

"To look at them now you would never realize that these youngsters produced more than 100,000 bushels of onion sets, 30,000 bushels of carrots, and 10,000 bushels of tomatoes this summer," C. A. Hughes, Cook county farm adviser of the farm extension service, said. "They have worked out well, better than expected, and I am speaking for the farmers."

An appeal by the C. Y. O. to the high school boys of Chicago this spring attracted some 450 youths who spent at least three weeks as part of the boys land army at the two camps, Charles Leonard, director of social service for the C. Y. O. and supervisor of the camps, explained. Some 65 boys remained thruout the entire summer. They were paid at a rate of 50 cents an hour and put in eight to 10 hours daily, he said.

Ten Receive Statuettes.

"We can't compute the value of these boys' labor," Bishop Bernard J. Sheil, who presented the certificates and statuettes, maintained. "Their production figures speak for themselves, but in addition the boys have learned the real meaning of food, having planted and harvested the crops themselves. They have learned to appreciate the soil. No experiment in my experience has been so successful."

The boys to whom the bishop awarded the statuettes were Bob Majewski, 15 years old, 5039 South Elizabeth street; Bob Weatherley, 15, 1531 Ardmore avenue; Lyle Nelms, 15, 428 North Hamlin avenue; Fred Fischer, 15, 316 West 42d place; John Tihinen, 15, 1340 West 52d street, all of Thornton camp; Frank Jedrocha, 16, 4347 South Honore street; Richard Boyna, 14, 11947 Eggleston avenue; Bob Biedermann, 15, 5613 North Parkside avenue; Tony Vader, 17, 2244 Warren avenue, and Cyril Greenan, 13, 7714 Lowe avenue, all of Palos camp.

DECIDE DRAFT STATUS OF 300 CIO STRIKERS AT INQUIRY TONIGHT

Granite City, Ill., Sept. 1 [Special].—Three hundred members of the CIO United Steel Workers' union, who are out on strike at the Granite City Steel company plant making hull plate for the navy, will know tomorrow night whether they will be liable to reclassification in the draft as a result of the walkout.

Chairman W. F. Smith of the Granite City draft board announced today he had been informed that the army takes the position that the members were out on an unauthorized strike.

Smith said the board would meet tomorrow night to take up the matter. Leaders of the CIO union have been asked to attend.

"If we find that the strike is unauthorized," Smith said, "we shall consider what action to take regarding the strikers."

ROOSEVELT HOST TO CHURCHILLS AT WHITE HOUSE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 1.—Prime Minister Winston Churchill of Great Britain arrived at the White House late today from Quebec. He was accompanied by Mrs. Churchill.

Officials said the prime minister and President Roosevelt will continue the conversations they held at the Quebec conference. Brendan Bracken, British minister of information, indicated at a press conference yesterday that the two government chiefs would discuss post-war plans as well as political problems.

Altho it had been known that Mr. Churchill was coming here, he and Mrs. Churchill slipped into town on their special train unannounced. A White House statement, issued late in the afternoon, said they were met by President Roosevelt.

It was believed by those close to the White House that considerable attention would be given to the Russian situation, in view of the invitation Mr. Churchill extended yesterday in his Quebec radio address for Premier Josef Stalin of Russia to join the President and prime minister in a war conference.

F. D. R. Asked to Surrender Killer Lepke

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 1 [Special].—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey issued a statement today calling upon President Roosevelt to surrender Louis [Lepke] Buchalter, convicted leader of Murder, Inc., and now a federal prisoner, to the state of New York, where he faces electrocution for a Brooklyn slaying.

Louis [Lepke] Buchalter.

Because Lepke was serving a 14 year sentence at Leavenworth penitentiary on a narcotics charge before he was tried and sentenced for the Brooklyn murder, his sentence must be commuted by President Roosevelt before he can be transferred to Sing Sing's death house. Lepke has served three years of his sentence.

Delays Executions.

At the same time that he appealed to the President in a statement to surrender Lepke, Gov. Dewey delayed the execution of Lepke, Emmanuel Weiss, and Louis Capone until Oct. 21. Convicted of killing Joseph Rosen, a Brooklyn storekeeper, in 1936, they were scheduled to die in Sing Sing prison Sept. 16.

Lepke will remain in federal custody, Dewey said, "until by act of the President of the United States he is surrendered to the state of New York in accordance with custom."

Counsel for the three defendants, Dewey disclosed, have asked a hearing on pleas for executive clemency, but he added that it would be delayed because "the President has thus far failed to surrender Buchalter to the state of New York."

Charge Release Blocked.

Charges that federal authorities are blocking the execution of Lepke were made on July 9 by Acting District Atty. Thomas C. Hughes of Brooklyn.

Lepke is reported to have told his guards during his trial that he never would be electrocuted. His associates were reported to have said that if Lepke talked, it would be "embarrassing" to several nationally known persons.

Hughes demanded of Atty. Gen. Francis Biddle on July 10 that he take action to release Lepke to New York, but Daniel M. Lyons, a pardon attorney in the department of justice, informed Hughes that his office "was not persuaded" to recommend that Biddle take such steps.

RULES U. S. ARMY CAMP IN BRITAIN NO FOREIGN LAND

BY E. R. NODERER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 1.—A Bristol girl who defied a government order to work in a United States army camp on the ground that it was foreign territory today unsuccessfully challenged the authority of Minister of Labor Ernest Bevin to compel her to take a job there as stenographer.

Thru her lawyer, Seymour Williams, she argued in court that any camp occupied by a foreign army in Britain automatically became foreign territory to which the ministry of labor orders did not apply.

"If this is so," Williams contended, "the American army camp becomes the territory of the United States and nobody can be ordered to work in a land outside the boundaries of the United Kingdom."

The court did not agree with this viewpoint, however, and dismissed the plea that the ministry of labor exceeded its jurisdiction. The girl was fined $5 for disobeying the order.

WFA SUSPENDS LIMITATIONS ON SLAUGHTERING

Plan Approved Here

Chicago packers and live stock dealers said WFA action suspending quota limitations on slaughter of live stock would result in a substantial increase in the amount of meat available to consumers in retail channels. They predicted that distribution would be evened out among stores and consumers would have a larger variety of meats on which to spend their ration points.

The Live Stock and Meat council, a nation-wide organization of packers and producers, said removal of quota limitations "appears to be a step toward sound meat management."

Washington, D. C., Sept. 1 (AP).—The war food administration today suspended all quota limitations on the slaughter of live stock for a two month period in a move to increase civilian meat supplies.

Previous orders relating to quotas for beef, veal, pork, lamb and mutton for all classes of slaughterers were suspended, effective immediately, until midnight, Oct. 31.

The suspension does not affect provisions requiring the collection of ration tickets for meat under the rationing program of the office of price administration.

Officials said its possible effect will be to channel more meat into the civilian markets for those who have the ration points to purchase it.

40 Per Cent for Army.

The requirement that federally inspected slaughterers set aside 40 per cent of their weekly production of beef meeting army specifications is retained. All other quota limitations are set aside.

This 40 per cent is available for purchase only by the military, the war shipping administration, contract schools, and ship operators.

All the remaining beef and the whole supply of other meats, WFA officials said, will be available for civilian tables during the period.

Greater Supply Sought.

They explained that the move was made to stimulate early slaughtering of live stock to relieve the drain on the feed supply, prevent the overtaxing of packing house facilities later in the year, and provide civilians with a larger supply of meat than has been available for some months.

The three paragraph announcement said the prohibition against slaughterers paying less than the support prices for hogs, or paying more than any OPA ceiling on hogs would remain in effect, as would provisions requiring that meat be stamped with a license or permit number.

Quotas Set for Military.

Quotas originally were established to assure that the fighting services would obtain adequate supplies of meat and to effect wider distribution of supplies available for civilians. At that time the situation was about like this:

The army and navy buy only federally inspected meats, meaning that in large part they buy from the large packers. In addition, the big packers are the largest distributors to civilians in areas outside the meat producing sections of the country.

These packers, however, were not getting sufficient cattle to meet the demands made by the government and also to supply east and west coast needs whereas some smaller packers, distributing in a relatively restricted area, were able to increase their slaughterings. By imposing quotas, it was hoped to divert more meat into distribution channels where it would move to the army and navy and to meat-short areas. The quotas, however, cut down the deliveries to civilian channels.

ARREST SOLDIER; DE TARNOWSKY'S WIFE AT HEARING

Charles L. F. McIntosh.

The search for Charles L. F. McIntosh, 30 years old, redhaired AWOL army private accused of cashing more than $1,000 in worthless checks, and the mystery of the disappearance of Mrs. Alice Rand de Tarnowsky, Barrington heiress, both were ended yesterday with the arrest in New York of the soldier on charges of violating the white slave act and transporting fraudulent checks.

E. E. Conroy, New York chief of the federal bureau of investigation, said agents arrested McIntosh Tuesday night in the Biltmore hotel where he was registered with Mrs. de Tarnowsky. The soldier, who was alleged to have posed as an army air forces sergeant, was held by United States Commissioner G. W. Cotter in $7,500 bail for appearance in Chicago Sept. 14 on the check charges.

Companion at Hearing.

Mrs. de Tarnowsky, whose husband, Capt. Alexis de Tarnowsky, is stationed in the east with the army engineer corps, appeared at the hearing. The FBI said there were no charges against her. J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director, said McIntosh faced white slave act charges, filed in Buffalo, for taking a woman companion into New York state. Conroy said the couple registered at the Biltmore as "Mr. and Mrs. Charles McIntosh."

At her Barrington home last night, George Doi, Japanese-American servant, said he had not heard from Mrs. de Tarnowsky since she left there July 19. Subsequently she was reported seen in Chicago, Aurora, St. Charles, South Bend, Ind., and other cities with McIntosh. Bogus checks were used to pay the expenses of the soldier and his companion in night clubs and hotels. Two checks bounced in South Bend, where Mrs. de Tarnowsky's car was found about two weeks ago.

Report Visit Last Week.

Sgt. John Pufahl of the Morton Grove county police station said Mrs. de Tarnowsky's appearance in New York added further mystery to the reported visit last week to the home of Noble J. Puffer, county superintendent of schools, a neighbor, of a woman, then believed to be Mrs. de Tarnowsky, and a companion whom she called Joe.

The Puffers' maid, Mrs. Lucille Thompson, Negro, reported the man offered her $100 to "get the de Tarnowsky baby [Sandra, 3 months old] for her mother." The maid refused and they drove away. Pufahl said he was investigating this as a possible kidnap attempt. Capt. de Tarnowsky, who had been home on furlough, had left for the east. He previously had reported their car missing, naming his wife as the driver.

COAL DEALERS POOLING TRUCKS AND MAN POWER

Chicago coal dealers again are pooling their trucks and man power to obtain a maximum use of these facilities for deliveries this fall and winter when consumption is expected to exceed last winter's use by 22 per cent, Harry L. Gormley, regional manager of the office of defense transportation, said yesterday.

Under the pooling agreement reached a year ago by members of the Chicago Associated Coal Yard Owners dealers delivered fuel to the nearest consumers, then credited the dealers who obtained the orders with the sales from their yards. Because of the anticipated increase in coal consumption as a result of the conversion of residential oil heating equipment to coal, the ODT is seeking to extend the program of pooling of trucks and man power among other dealers.

Gormley said that the present serious man power shortage may force the ODT to ask the war man power commission to declare the retail coal industry "locally needed" in order to obtain deferments from selective service boards and assure dealers of an adequate number of coal haulers.

HELD TO JURY IN ROBBERIES.

Sol Schiller, 38 years old, 2342 Madison street, identified by six laundry and milk truck drivers as the man who had held them up, was held to the grand jury in $10,000 bond yesterday by Judge Charles S. Dougherty in Felony court.

LUCE MAGAZINES UNDER FIRE IN N. Y. NEWSPAPER

Columnist Adds Charge of 'Lack of Ethics.'

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 1.—Henry R. [White Feather] Luce, whose loose journalism has several times landed his Time-Life-Fortune axis in the courts on serious charges, today was accused in a New York newspaper of operating publications which are not on the level.

It was the first time an article has appeared in a New York newspaper taking Luce over the jumps. The China born editor, however, has been under fire in the courts, in the press, and in vast sections of the country where he attempted to whip up enthusiasm for entry into the war. At one time the premier of the province of Quebec accused him of stirring up racial hatred and of editorial falsehood.

[Luce's failure to enter military service after having clamored for war editorially and as a leading interventionist brought him a stream of white feathers thru the mails in February of last year, hence the title "White Feather" Luce.]

Charges False Dealing.

Today's stinging attack was written by Westbrook Pegler in his New York World-Telegram column, "Fair Enough." Pegler accused Luce's publications of welshing on a $1,000 payment for an article ordered from him several years ago, then of secreting copies of photographs they had pretended to return.

The columnist accused the Luce publications of sweatshop dealings with writers and asserted that "they are not on the level."

"Kept an Eye on Them."

Pegler wrote he had insisted upon return of the photographs because they were intended expressly to dress the story Luce's editor "had ordered and refused to pay for." He continued:

"'But I knew they weren't on the level down there so I kept an eye on them and, sure enough, after a while, when I might have forgotten about the pictures, one of them showed up, not in Life but in Time.

"There was nothing to be gained by protesting to such people so I let it go. Any one who would do such a thing in the first place can't be reached by an appeal to journalistic ethics."

First Rebuff of Kind.

Pegler's charges were the first rebuff involving unfair treatment of writers, but Time-Life-Fortune's inaccurate and prejudiced reporting has brought down many a storm upon the publisher.

It was only last October that Luce did a crawfish act in the presence of 24 reporters representing newspapers in England, Canada, Australia, South Africa and other parts of the British commonwealth who stormed "White Feather's" streamlined conference room on the 26th floor of the Time and Life annex in Radio City here.

The correspondents were angry over an editorial in Time in which it was said that if the British were fighting merely "to hold the British empire together," they would fail to enlist the full sympathy of the American people.

Stammers a Defense.

Luce stammered during the interview as he sought to defend a particular passage of the editorial. And when he insisted that his offending remarks be regarded as having been "made off the record," thereby preventing the correspondents from quoting him, he was asked if he "had anything to be ashamed of" as the London Times man got up and left the room.

On another occasion the Luce smear brush brought the province of Quebec, Canada, down about his ears in an official disavowal by Premier Adelard Godbout of an eight page layout that appeared in Life on Oct. 19, 1942, purporting to depict life in "French Canada."

"We should have been very happy," said Premier Godbout, "had not those pages constituted adverse publicity abounding in exaggerations and errors both of fact and interpretation. . . . Suffice it to say that to try to stir up race against race and religion against religion is to set one's hand to a nefarious task."

Admitted Faking Story.

Luce also is remembered as the publisher whose magazine Time was forced to pay $20,000 in settlement of a libel suit brought by Curtis B. Dall, former son-in-law of President Roosevelt, whom Time falsely reported to have committed suicide in a story the magazine admitted was faked to draw attention to a foreign news item.

Again in Bloomington, Ind., heads of the state university remember with distaste a pictorial representation of reputed campus life as revealed by Life in that city a few months back.

The illustrated story as Life portrayed it was said by the citizens of Bloomington and by mothers and fathers especially of student co-eds attending the university to have been an untruthful version that reflected on the reputation of both their daughters and the school, and Life was forced to apologize.

Accused of Red Leaning.

The Washington Times-Herald has accused Luce of both denouncing communism and marching along with the Communist party line. Pointing out that, "while he [Luce] is bleating at the top of his editorial lungs about how fair, how unbiased, how patriotic he is, this fellow is forever striving to stir up bitterness for the sake of his own power and profits."

A year before Pearl Harbor Luce had been one of the leading conspirators in foisting Wendell L. Willkie upon the Republican party and contributed financially and editorially to his campaign.

Luce was born in Tengchowfu, China, April 3, 1898, the son of missionaries. He grew up inside a compound and his boyhood knew none of the luxury he now disports in the way of a palatial estate and a 15 room penthouse apartment.

BARRETT ORDERS AUDIT OF FUNDS FOR GRAVE CARE

Charges Some Cemetery Trusts Misused.

A campaign directed against "dishonest cemeteries and their unscrupulous promoters so that they may be driven from our midst" was started in Cook county yesterday by Atty. Gen. George F. Barrett, who said he was acting on complaints that certain cemetery organizations have dissipated funds that were to be held in trust for the upkeep of graves.

Terming his action a drive against racketeering cemetery operators, the attorney general sent letters to all cemetery organizations under his jurisdiction in Cook county—193 in all—requesting full information concerning their "perpetual care" funds be submitted to him within 30 days. He added that he had no intention to embarrass corporations that have handled their trust funds properly. He sent the questionnaire to all, however, on the theory that honest organizations will be cleared by their answers.

Makes Prosecution Threat.

"Perpetual care funds are trust funds and should be regarded as such in each transaction," he said. "All cemeteries should put forth special effort to see that their 'perpetual care' agreements are carried out in detail, for often families, widows and children of deceased persons make great sacrifices in setting up these funds.

"It is my desire to protect those persons and families who have paid money to cemeteries for the care and upkeep of graves and who have not received this service. It is also my intention to prosecute to the fullest extent of the law those corporations or individuals who have misused or dissipated these trust funds."

Barrett said he had received complaints that some cemeteries had failed to keep their agreements to keep the graves in good condition, cut the grass, and plant flowers.

Charge Neglect of Graves.

"Some of these reports say that cemeteries have paid no attention whatsoever to the graves and burial lots which they have been paid to maintain," he said. "In some instances citizens state that grass and weeds are so thick on graves that if it were not for the grave markers or tombstones it would be impossible to identify them.

"Others have made the charge that 'perpetual care' funds in certain cemeteries have been abused and dissipated. Reports have been made that these funds have been used to make personal loans to close friends of cemetery operators and promoters. Because of this abuse in some instances, according to the information we have received, funds of certain cemeteries that were supposed to be held in trust for the maintenance and upkeep of graves have almost been wiped out."

Barrett said he would welcome complaints from the public, but stressed the fact that his campaign was not intended to cast reflection upon corporations that have handled their trust funds properly.

Demands Fund Audit.

"There is no disposition on my part to embarrass or cause any undue reflection upon any corporation whose trust funds have been honestly conserved and properly administered, and I feel certain that officers of each such corporation will welcome an opportunity to show that it is not abusing any of its trusts or corporate franchises," he said.

The cemetery corporation heads were instructed to provide Barrett with information in the form of an audit, prepared and certified by an independent public accountant. The information is to include lists of amounts received for perpetual care and the names and addresses of the persons from whom the amounts were received; detailed lists of securities and other property in which the funds have been invested; whereabouts of all securities; profit and loss statements for the last five years, and a showing of the receipts of income.

REVOLVING FUND CASH TO ASSURE COUNTY PAY DAY

Members of the Cook county board discovered yesterday that they had available enough cash for the pay roll for the last half of August. Clayton F. Smith, the board president, said that the 6,000 employes, threatened with a payless payday, would receive their money—a total of about $625,000—tomorrow.

The cash is in what is known as the county's revolving fund, which was set up several years ago with a capital of $6,100,000. In normal operation the fund was used to tide the county over lean periods in each year and was replenished by the end of the fiscal year, which begins in December.

It was learned that there is about $740,000 in the revolving fund now, and Smith called a special meeting of the county board for this morning. He said that the board would authorize use of the money for the pay roll. County Treasurer Victor L. Schlaeger, who had announced that pay rolls would be met only if cash was available in the county till, indicated he would accept the authorization. There was, however, no showing as to whether succeeding pay rolls can be met.

UMW DENOUNCES NEW DEAL BOOST FOR 'SCAB SHOPS'

Assails Labor Policies of 'Incompetent Stooges.'

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 1.—The United Mine Workers' Journal today blasted the Roosevelt administration's labor policies and charged that "New Dealers and politicians are operating to re-establish the open shop—the scab shop in American industry."

The Journal, official publication of the United Mine Workers of America, denounced the Smith-Connally anti-strike law and the interpretation placed upon it by President Roosevelt in conferring broad powers on the war labor board to prevent work stoppages. In a three column Labor day editorial, workers were warned that liberties taken away because of the war may never be returned.

"Not on Christmas Tree."

"If labor waits for its freedom to be given back, it may wait in vain," the Journal stated. "It has been said that . . . freedom is something that has to be taken by men who want to be free. No political Santa Claus stocks it in his bag."

Then the editorial added this cryptic warning:

"The liberty tree is not a Christmas tree."

Echoes of the charges against the New Deal by business men and others as early as 1933 were stirred by the publication in such statements as the following:

"Out-Hitler Hitler."

"There is not one scheme or device used in Berlin, Rome, Moscow or Tokio which doesn't have its imitation over here. Some of the imitations may be feeble, but every one is fascist in principle and some of them out-Hitler Hitler in many respects.

"To compare the faithfulness, the loyalty and the productivity of labor in the war effort to the muddling, supercilious doing of professors, government career men, dollar a year stooges and incompetent management directing the war effort within and without industry, makes your blood boil."

According to the editorial, labor is only slightly less enslaved "than Uncle Tom on Simon Legree's plantation," being regulated by buro-crats [termed burrocrats] who "were put in power by executive decree."

SBARBARO URGES CIVIL RIGHTS BE GUARDED IN WAR

Grants Writ to Prisoner Rehabilitated 25 Years.

Chief Justice John A. Sbarbaro of Criminal court ruled yesterday that it is the duty of the courts to examine closely the reasons for the detention of citizens who complain they are held illegally because of the "arrogance or stupidity of any agency or board not governed by judicial procedure and not presided over by individuals trained in the law." He ordered the release of a prisoner held in Pontiac reformatory on a charge of technical parole violation committed 25 years ago.

Judge Sbarbaro.

"In these troublesome times of war, when the citizen is beset on all sides by regulatory boards and agencies, the courts are his last bulwark between oppression of his legal rights and justice," Judge Sbarbaro said. "In times of stress and excitement the writ of habeas corpus should not be abused, but on the other hand it should be generously used so that the citizenry is not deprived of justice because of technicalities and red tape."

Model Citizen for 25 Years.

The case before Judge Sbarbaro was the dramatic one of Thomas Walsh, 47 years old, a "model citizen" and parent for the last 25 years, who was sent back to prison for two years by the Illinois parole board on a technical charge of failing to report to the board for the required period after his parole in 1918 from a prison sentence for participation in a $50 holdup.

Walsh, who took the name of James Russell several years ago, took the stand in his own defense and, under questioning by his attorney, James M. Burke, told the following story:

He pleaded guilty on Dec. 28, 1916, to a charge of robbing a tavern of $50 and was sentenced to 1 to 20 years in the reformatory. He was paroled on Sept. 2, 1918, to the Rock Island arsenal. When the arsenal closed after the armistice he went to Detroit, Mich., for work, assuming that he no longer was required to report to the parole board.

Acquitted on Old Indictment.

He returned to Chicago a few years later, married, joined the Catholic church, and settled down as a trucker and teamster. On April 22, 1942, Walsh heard of an indictment in Rock Island county charging him with the murder of a sheriff, committed in 1918. He immediately surrendered, was tried, and was found not guilty of the charge.

On Dec. 7, 1942, the Illinois parole board declared him a parole violator and sent him to prison for a minimum term of two years, one month, and 15 days.

Mrs. Ruth Walsh, his wife, dressed in mourning clothes and speaking in a tear broken voice, testified that she knew nothing of her husband's youthful crime, but said he was an "ideal husband and father" and that his prison sentence in no way altered her love for him.

Neighbors Add Pleas.

She said that they and their 14 year old son, James, had lived at 8014 Jeffery avenue, their present address, for some time, and pointed to the friends and neighbors crowding the courtroom as evidence of their good standing in the community.

Atty. Burke then placed 20 of the Walshes' neighbors on the stand as character witnesses. Each testified to conviction of Walsh's rehabilitation. The attorney also presented in Walsh's behalf a letter from Msgr. Daniel Byrnes of the Church of the Visitation.

Judge Sbarbaro granted the writ, saying, "Society should extend this man a helping hand instead of a kick which would crumble the structure of respectability he has built around himself and family."

HELD IN STORE BURGLARY.

Theodore Pukala, 1302 Thomas street, and Elmer Fanther, 1330 Thomas street, both 17 years old, are scheduled to appear in Boys' court today on charges of attempted burglary of Kaplan's department store, 1505 Chicago avenue. They were seized while trying to force open the rear door, police said.

WACs Get New Emblem for Hats

Celebration Held

Maj. Doris E. Epperson, WAC director in the 6th service command, headed a group of 35 WAC officers who were guests of the Officers club in the Knickerbocker hotel at a dinner-dance last night. The occasion was in celebration of their transfer from the WAAC, women's army auxiliary corps, to the WAC, women's army corps. All had been sworn in earlier yesterday.

Col. C. J. Otgen, commanding officer of district 3, Illinois, represented Maj. Gen. H. S. Aurand, commander of the 6th service command. Other guests included Col. J. F. Butler, assistant chief of officer personnel, 6th service command, and Lt. Col. Charles Z. Henkle, in charge of WAC recruiting, 6th service command.

Besides dropping an "A" in their organization title, the WACs also get new emblems for their hats. The new ones will be the regular army officer's eagle.

PLUNGES 42 FEET, THEN RUNS, BUT POLICE FIND HIM

William Cannon, 18 year old Negro, was being questioned for shoplifting at central police headquarters yesterday when he leaped out a fifth story window, fell 42 feet to the south side elevated structure, clambered down a pillar another 22 feet to the ground, and sprinted a block and a half to Michigan avenue, where pursuing policemen seized him.

He later told police he was trying to commit suicide because he was on probation and knew he would be jailed.

Cannon had been picked up for the theft of two suits from a loop department store. He was being questioned in the bureau of investigation when he ran to the window and jumped. Detective George Witry said he saw the Negro land on his back near the third rail on the elevated and crawl to the pillar down which he made his way to the ground.

When police caught up with him, Cannon was hiding in a parked automobile. He was brought back to police headquarters, where he complained of pains in his body, and was removed to Bridewell hospital suffering from internal injuries.

OPA ASKS COURT TO PERMIT STAR CHAMBER QUIZ

Would Bar Lawyers from Meat Inquiry.

The office of price administration filed suit in federal District court yesterday for an order commanding 15 wholesale meat peddlers to appear—without their attorneys or a court reporter—before Harry Adelman, OPA attorney, for interrogation concerning their dealings with the Empire Packing company, 3840 Emerald avenue.

The suit set forth that the wholesalers were served with subpenas duces tecum to appear Aug. 24 and Aug. 25 before Adelman in the metropolitan area offices at 228 North La Salle street. Altho the men appeared, they were accompanied by Attorneys Edward J. Rothman, M. D. Kaufman, and Herman L. Aaron, and a court reporter.

Refuse to Testify.

As each meat dealer was called before Adelman, the latter requested his counsel and the court reporter to leave the room. The attorneys protested and the hearings ended abruptly.

Altho the packing company was enjoined by court order last November from violating the ceiling prices on beef sales, the subpenas called for the production of records of dealings between the wholesalers and the packing company during the period from May 1 to Aug. 10.

Seeks Order Today.

"We didn't know what the OPA wanted to find out from these men," Atty. Rothman said last night. "We did, however, want to prevent them from taking these men behind locked doors and interrogating them on something that may incriminate them."

Robert D. Johnstone, OPA attorney who filed the suit, said he would appear this morning before Judge John P. Barnes to seek the order directing the men to appear before Adelman at a time designated by the court.

The wholesalers named in the suit are: Julius Baer, 907 Fulton street; Sol Lazar, 3648 Roosevelt road; Otto Beck, 1850 Millard avenue; Joe Chochole, 9625 Damen avenue; H. H. Zuegel, 2413 Roosevelt road; Walter Lizak, 5301 Newport avenue; Joe Meyers, 3350 Evergreen avenue; Mark Zuro, 6556 South Wolcott avenue; J. K. Sharkey, 638 West 103d street; Ben Fagel, 2631 Division street; Ray Rinderer, 8045 Green street; Joe Zuro, 2124 South Pulaski road; Rocky Belice, 8229 Artesian avenue; Elgy Wimp, 1718 North Mason avenue, and Jack Markus, 5124 Ingleside avenue.

ALLIES SINK 140 AXIS SHIPS IN A MONTH IN AEGEAN, IONIAN SEAS

LONDON, Sept. 1 (AP).—The allied nations radio at Algiers, Algeria, today said 140 enemy vessels were destroyed in one month's operations in the Aegean and Ionian seas.

Germany's war report yesterday said:

"The German navy and air force sank during the month of August two cruisers, six destroyers, one submarine, one minesweeper, and five motor torpedo boats, and five other warships. In addition, 70 merchant ships, totalling 377,000 gross registered tons, and four sailing transports were sunk, while 125 other ships totalling about 580,000 gross registered tons were hit. No Britons Sent to Reich, New Italian Regime Says

LONDON, Sept. 1 (AP).—War Secretary James Grigg announced today Italy's assurance that no British prisoners had been transferred from her hands to Germany since the fall o the fascist regime on July 25. "We know a certain number were transferred shortly before the change of government, but still await details from the protecting power," he said. Inquiries had been made thru the International Red Cross.

NAZIS USING BIG GUNS TO BATTLE ALLIED BOMBERS

Heavy Fire Is Thrown by 'Flak Fortresses.'

BY E. R. NODERER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 1.—Allied bombers attacking German cities are encountering heavy anti-aircraft fire from giant "flak fortresses" in the principal target areas, it was authoritatively stated here today.

These fortresses, noted particularly at Berlin and Hamburg, mount both heavy and light guns and throw up intense barrages.

Early in the war the Nazis mounted light guns, such as 20 mm. and 30 mm. pieces, on their tallest buildings to get a clear field of fire but special structures were necessary to support the heavy weapons.

Weapons on Fortresses.

The fortresses include weapons of 88, 105, 128, and 150 mm. The 88 mm. weapon is one of the Nazis' most effective guns and has been in use since the Spanish war. In addition to anti-aircraft purposes, it is used as an anti-tank gun, ordinary field artillery, and, mounted on a tank chassis, as mobile artillery.

The 150 mm. gun, of about 6 inches, is believed to be the largest used for anti-aircraft. It is a naval gun and has been encountered around some ports.

In addition to throwing up the usual explosive shells, the Germans are said to make great use of what the British call "deterrent devices," designed to make the barrage appear worse than it is. These anti-morale weapons include special projectiles which throw off sparks, burning fragments or incendiary matter of various kinds, few of which are lethal.

How Berlin Is Defended.

The Germans are not believed here to have developed any startling innovations in anti-aircraft defense, most of the guns being substantially unchanged since the war began. The Nazis rely on masses of guns and searchlights, making up in "weight of metal" for the lack of accuracy or any other defense deficiency, the British say.

Berlin's defenses begin with searchlights about 20 miles beyond the city and guns about 12 miles out, it is asserted here, with lighter weapons, supplemented by the "flak fortresses," in the target area. All the Nazi guns from 88 to 150 mm. can fire well beyond the average operational heights of the allied raiders.

Fixed defenses in Germany are augmented by guns mounted on railroad trucks or chassis which enable them to be moved quickly to areas under attack.

Miss Mary Misch with Coast Guardsman Victor Mature.

Miss Mary Misch, 17 years old, of Danville, who won a hometown contest by getting $151,000 worth of war bond pledges, joined Victor Mature, cinema star now serving in the coast guard, yesterday in Treasury center's noontime program.

Miss Misch planned to dine last night with Virginia Weidler, film actress, in the Mayfair room of the Blackstone hotel. There were six other girls in the Danville contests in which Miss Misch turned in her $151,000 record out of the total of $301,000 in pledges.

Mature, who is a 1st boatswain's mate in the coast guard, is back from 10 months service in the North Atlantic. He will appear at the bond rally in the Civic Opera house Tuesday night for the official opening program of the third war loan drive here.

U. S. AUTHORIZES CHICAGO NURSES' TRAINING SCHOOL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 1.—Dr. Thomas Parran, surgeon general of the United States public health service, today approved an allotment of $103,648 to the St. Anne's hospital school of nursing in Chicago for free training of approximately 235 student nurses under the United States cadet nurse corps program. Total allotments approved today were $3,749,630 to 58 accredited nursing schools. The funds will provide complete tuition, fees, stipends, maintenance, and uniforms for an anticipated 10,175 student nurses.

LARGE SECTIONS OF BERLIN RAZED IN 77TH ATTACK

R. A. F. Sets Big Fires; Air Offensive Rolls On.

LONDON, Sept. 1 (AP).—Hundreds of R. A. F. heavy bombers tore thru a powerful German fighter screen last night to rock Berlin with a 45 minute deluge of block leveling explosives that gutted sections of the axis military heart and left flames visible 70 miles away. The raid was the 77th on the German capital.

The British air ministry indicated this second concentrated assault in eight days equaled the 1,800 ton Aug. 23 blow which wiped out entire districts in western and southern Berlin, paralyzed utility services, and sped the evacuation of thousands.

Forty-seven bombers, eight of them Canadian, and one fighter were lost in the latest Berlin attack and auxiliary night assaults on air fields and other targets in France and the Low Countries.

Follow Up Night Raid.

Allied planes followed up last night's hail of bombs on Berlin with daylight attacks on rail yards in Roosendaal, Holland, and a big Nazi sea going barge off the Dutch islands. Pilots reported that at Roosendaal hits were made on the junction of four busy rail lines.

The British air ministry said "great damage" was inflicted on Berlin, altho clouds and great fires set by the airmen prevented full assessment of the results. Berlin, however, acknowledged "considerable damage."

The saturation attack on Hitler's capital, where the word was given four years ago for the invasion of Poland, began at 11:30 p. m. and continued into the morning of the fifth year of war.

Only Half Got Thru: Nazis.

A Berlin broadcast said only half of the R. A. F. raiders reached the capital and that 47 British planes were downed in the Berlin attack.

Neutral dispatches to Stockholm said many Berliners, expecting the raid, stood at the doors of air raid shelters into which they jumped at the first siren wail.

At a United States bomber base in England, it was disclosed that the following midwesterners took part in yesterday's Flying Fortress raid on the Nazi fighter plane base at Amiens-Glissy, France: Lt. Marvin P. Lord, Milwaukee, Wis.; Sgt. Vernon O. Miller, Mill Creek, Ill., and Sgt. Russel Nelson, Indianapolis, Ind.

DANE SAVES NINE U. S. FLYERS AND SELF FROM AXIS

LONDON, Sept. 1 (AP).—Henry Frandsen, 33 years old, Danish fishing boat captain, saved nine American flyers forced down at sea recently and by his act of mercy he escaped the Germans, who established a military dictatorship in his homeland Sunday.

Frandsen sighted a dinghy bearing the survivors of the crew of a Flying Fortress about a 100 miles west of Heligoland. He took them aboard and, instead of returning home, headed for England. The Americans had been injured when the Fortress crashed and burned after being hit by anti-aircraft fire over Heligoland. Frandsen said the British whisked them away so fast he never learned their names.

"I am happy to have saved them," he said. "If I hadn't a German patrol boat might have found them. And it turns out I am now safe in England."

TOKIO REPORTS RAIDS ON HANOI BY U. S. PLANES

New York, Sept. 1 (AP).—The Japanese Domei agency, in a dispatch broadcast by the Tokio radio, reported today that two formations of American fighter and bomber planes based in China bombed and strafed targets in the Hanoi area of French Indo-China yesterday. The broadcast was recorded by the United States foreign broadcast intelligence service.

Naval Guns and Carriers Shell Marcus.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 1 (AP).—A task force of the United States navy has bombed and shelled Marcus Island, outpost guarding the approaches to Tokio.

The audacious raid, in which the Americans dared the Japanese home fleet to come out and fight, obviously had a strong psychological impact on the Japanese, for the Tokio radio said:

"The enemy could have raided the mainland if he wanted to, so the people of Japan must further solidify the defense against the enemy."

First word of the raid on Marcus, only 1,200 miles from Tokio, came from a broadcast Japanese war bulletin, which said the island was attacked at dawn Sept. 1—Tuesday Chicago time. It said "many enemy planes raided Minamitori Shima [Marcus Island] at dawn today, and the enemy shelled the land by naval guns."

"Arrived on Schedule."

This report was confirmed by a navy statement here a few hours later. The American naval spokesman said:

"A carrier task force raid planned for Sept. 1 is presumably in progress at Marcus Island. The United States task force should have arrived on scheduled time. However, no report has been received from the raiding force and it is presumed that there will be none until need for radio silence ceases to exist."

Not in 20 months of this war had the navy issued a statement reporting a raid while it still was in progress.

Marcus Island lies 900 miles northwest of enemy-held Wake Island. It is an air and radio base and because of its strategic location holds dominance over the southeastern approaches to the Tokio area.

Dot In the Ocean.

The island is about one and one-half miles long and two-thirds of a mile wide and is the easternmost of the Japanese Bonin group. It is also known as Weeks Island.

An American task force raided Marcus on March 4, 1942, under the leadership of Adm. William F. Halsey. No enemy aircraft or ships were present but heavy anti-aircraft fire was encountered.

The American planes dropped 96 bombs on the small island, damaging hangars, fuel and ammunition dumps, radio installations, and aircraft runways. The American force lost only one aircraft.

Wake Island was raided at the same time and subsequently was attacked several times by air. Marcus, however, is out of range of long distance bombers based on Midway Island, and the organization of a new assault against it had to await availability of sufficient naval strength in the Pacific.

Carry Fight to Japan.

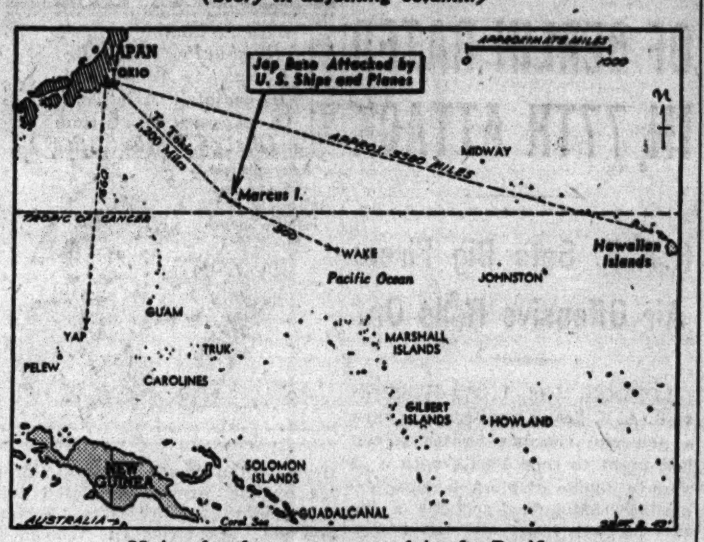
The make-up of the task force was not indicated. It seemed likely, however, that it included one or more battleships, since the navy has found that the heavy anti-aircraft wallop of the big fellows is an effective defense for carriers.

The immediate purpose of the raid was a subject of great speculation. Landing to recapture Wake Island and make it an advance American base might be screened by an attack on Marcus.

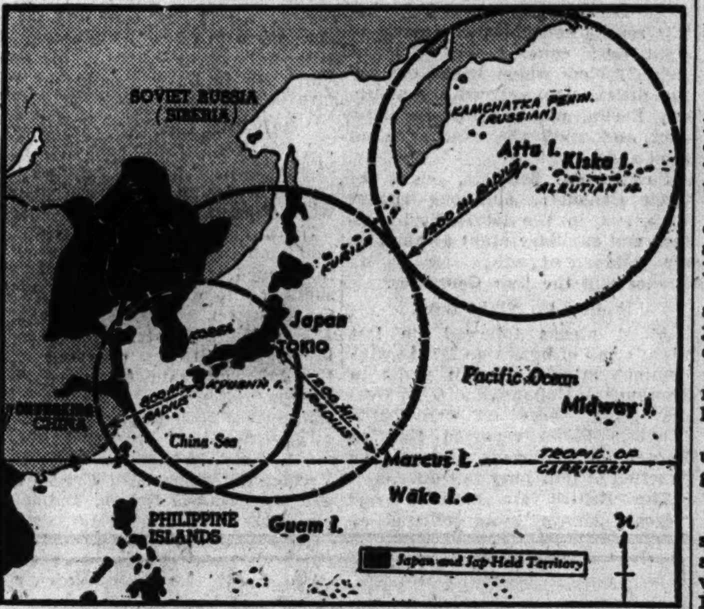
The long range significance of the attack, however, was clear. As one officer expressed it, "We are carrying the fight to Japan."

Navy Bombards a Japanese Base

(Story in adjoining column.)



Major development reported in the Pacific.



Distances in the far east, made important by recent allied advances. The 800 mile radius puts allied bases the same distance from the main Japanese islands as the aircraft carrier Hornet was when the bombers of Tokio took off more than a year ago. The Marcus Island raid puts our forces within 1,200 miles of Tokio. Our Aleutian bases are 1,200 miles from the northern Japanese islands.

the flesh and bone away. My arm flopped around and got in my way when I tried to help the other fellow.

Tries to Cut Off Arm.

"I tried to get my knife out of my pocket with my left hand to amputate it. It was just hanging by a small flap of flesh but I couldn't get the knife open. I jammed a handkerchief and a glove into the wound to make it stop bleeding.

"I saw another soldier on the hill where I was and asked him to help me get the other wounded fellow to an aid station. He said, 'Boy, I'd like to, but I'm on a mission to knock out some German tanks that are giving us hell and I just can't stop. But if you're here when I come back I'll help you.'

"I told him to go ahead and get one of the tanks for me. That was the more important job than patching me up. If they didn't stop those tanks nobody would have a chance of getting thru.

Chicagoan Does Amputation.

"After he left I blacked out. I had no fear of death and there wasn't any pain in my arm. I just couldn't see. When my eyes cleared I saw two litter bearers. They got me down by crawling up to me and pulling me down the hill by my legs."

Lt. Roy Hanford of Chicago amputated Moritz's arm at the first aid station.

KEEPS WOUND SECRET.

Sgt. Moritz has not yet told his five brothers and step-sister at Benson that he was seriously wounded in the landing, Miss Ann Solkers, the step-sister, said last night when informed he had received a medal.

"The last word we had was written July 10, and he didn't say much then," she said. "He just said he would never forget July 10 [the day he landed in Sicily] and added that he was all right and hoped to stay that way. I guess the reason we haven't heard since is because he was wounded."

Moritz, who has been in the army since February, 1941, participated in the North Africa invasion. His brothers, all farming near Benson, are Herman, John, Rudolph, Chris, and William. A step-brother, Carl Solkers, is in New Guinea.

Mountbatten Returns to London from Washington

LONDON, Sept. 2 [Thursday]—(AP).—Vice Adm. Louis Mountbatten, newly appointed allied commander in chief in southeast Asia, returned to London today from Washington, D. C.

[ADVERTISMENT]

"REGULAR" AGAIN AFTER 2 WEEKS!

"Cereal Brought Relief from Long Siege of Purgatives!"

Here's a sincere, unsolicited letter every disappointed "doser" will want to read:

"I was a sufferer from common constipation. Took pills or medicines of some kind, but got no lasting relief. Finally, I tried KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN. Have been eating it about 2 weeks now, and have stopped taking pills and things. My bowels move regularly every day. I am a KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN eater from now on!" Mr. Burl Brown, Warren, Ark.

How do scientists explain KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN'S gentle-acting, amazing relief, so familiar to thousands? Simply thus: Lack of certain cellulosic elements in the diet is a common cause of constipation. KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is one of Nature's richest sources of these elements—which help the intestinal flora lighten and fluff up the contents of the colon, for easy, natural elimination. Not a purgative, that robs the system of water. Not "roughage" that acts by "sweeping you out"! ALL-BRAN is a gentle-acting, "regulating" food!

Eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly. Drink plenty of water. See if it doesn't give you the relief you've dreamed of. Insist on genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

U. S. SHIP'S OWN BOMBS BLOW IT IN TWO; SAVE 136

How Men Fought Sea in Pacific Storm.

immediately sent my executive aft and he came back running. He said, 'Sir, our ship is breaking in half.'

"There was a funny motion and a crunching so that you knew it could be nothing else but a ship breaking. You could almost tell when the keel broke. Then the bottom. Then the deck.

No Control of Engines.

"I rang up the engine room. A lieutenant said he had no further control of the engines and that the water was foaming in underneath the after bulkhead.

"By that time I knew where to expend our damage control effort and 1st Lt. Rue Green of La Porte, Ind., got to work quickly.

"Between explosions every one aft rushed forward. The last man jumped over a widening two foot crack on the main deck.

"Then a wave teeter-tottered the rear section and 500 tons, almost half of my 1,200 ton ship, broke off."

"Five minutes later," he continued, "my signalman said, 'There goes our stern, sir.'

"She sank 75 yards behind us.

"Our work was cut out. I messaged the oiler Ramapo, 'It looks as if we need a tow.' At that point we were 30 odd miles from Unimak Island [at the western end of the Alaskan peninsula] and if we could get into its lee we might save our end of the ship.

Bulkhead Only Barrier.

"Between us and the sea was a bulkhead which formerly separated the engine rooms. Lt. Green got every scrap of wood we had to shore up that bulkhead.

"What was loose we threw overboard. Even depth charges were set on safe and heaved overboard.

"There were a couple of 'bitty' kids on board. One was supposed to be 18 but he looked 14. His name was Floyd Macomber. He was from the middle west somewhere. He kept emergency calls rolling on our radio.

Cross in Dark.

"She finally got upwind about 75 yards and on the third attempt put a line over. We shot one back and within minutes there were many lines across. Her first big line was a 10 inch hawser. After it was across we still had lots to do. The ship had to be kept afloat.

"Finally we got spring lines rigged and at 8 p. m. we started crossing. It was dark black.

"Each time the ships slammed together, men hurtled over the intervening space and fell forward.

"Finally, every one was over except my executive and me. He inspected from galley aft, I forward, to see that no one was left in the ship. After him I swung clear."

LONDON, Sept. 1 (AP).—Maj. Gen. L. H. Van Oyen will be appointed commander in chief of The Netherlands East Indies army, leaving the United States in the near future for Australia to take over his new post. The official Aneta [Netherlands] news agency carried this announcement today.

In Jackson, Miss., Gen. Van Oyen announced yesterday he was relinquishing command of the royal Netherlands military flying school, established there in 1942, to take up an "unspecified" post, and disclosed the appointment of Col. G. Giebel to succeed him as commander of the school.

ALLIES CLOSING IN ON SALAMAUA FROM TWO SIDES

Overwhelm Japs Dug In Near Airport.

ALLIED HDQ. IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Sept. 2 [Thursday]—(AP).—Japanese in two strongly dug in positions south and southeast of the Salamaua, New Guinea, airdrome finally have been overwhelmed by American and Australian troops now closing in on the enemy base.

Several days ago, allied forces approaching the airfield from the west and southwest, supported by artillery, were reported within rifle range, but today's bulletin was the first in more than a week to tell of an advance along the coast.

The bulletin did not elaborate on the Salamaua showdown battle, but a spokesman for Gen. MacArthur said Japanese rearguards were contesting the forward moving Americans and Australians.

Japs Move Air Base.

Japanese air force units have been forced by allied raids to fall back 200 miles to bases 550 miles from the Salamaua airdrome. Heavy damage inflicted by recent attacks on Wewak, 350 miles northwest of Salamaua, have caused the enemy to base at Hollandia, Dutch New Guinea. The Japanese air force now is "dangerously removed" from the ground garrisons, allied headquarters said.

The sapping of the Salamaua garrison's power to resist by sinking supply barges went forward, with motor torpedo boats now augmenting bombing planes in coastal waters where until recently allied ships scarcely dared venture. Today's bulletin said these craft sank 12 barges in the Huon gulf, into which Salamaua extends, during the week ending Aug. 30.

Attack Jap Destroyer.

In the vicinity of New Ireland, where a Japanese destroyer and cargo ship were attacked among small enemy convoys Monday, allied reconnaissance planes Tuesday night attacked another enemy destroyer and an 8,000 ton merchantman.

Barges, on which the Japanese also must rely almost entirely to supply their isolated garrison of 10,000 men at Vila, on Kolombangara in the Solomons, were targets in that area. In the Vella gulf, between Kolombangara and American occupied Vella Lavella, motor torpedo boats sank a loaded supply barge and damaged two others.

Today's bulletin also contained a delayed report of action disclosed earlier from South Pacific headquarters of Adm. William F. Halsey—the shooting down of 36 out of 60 Zeros which intercepted fighter escorted Liberators raiding Japan's big Kahili airbase on Bougainville Monday.

FIVE MORE U. S. EDITORS JOIN IN BRITISH TOURS

Ministry of Information Pays Travel Expenses.

BY E. R. NODERER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 1.—Five American editors are touring Britain as guests of the ministry of information. Eight other editors who were here in July and August have returned home after spending from three to six weeks.

The ministry said a number of editors, broadcasters and educators were being brought over in an attempt to familiarize the American public with the British contribution to the war and with British aims. The British government pays their round trip air passage, but the guests pay their own expenses while in this country.

Altho the ministry was unable to say how many Americans will be invited, it was said that 70 per cent will be editors, 10 per cent broadcasters, and 10 per cent educators, with the remaining 10 per cent from various walks of public life. Most of those to come have never visited England before.

Ministry Arranges Trips.

It is emphasized here that the editors are free to see anything they wish and that facilities for trips about the country are arranged by the ministry.

The five editors now here spent this week visiting war industries in the Midlands and shipyards in Scotland. They are William F. Maag, editor and publisher of the Youngstown [O.] Vindicator; W. W. Waymack, vice president and editor, Des Moines [Ia.] Register-Tribune; Freda Kirchwey, editor of the Nation, New York City; Harold E. Hollensbe, editor of Industry and Power, St. Joseph, Mich., and Phillips Andrews, editor of Air News, New York City. The two radio men in the group are Charles C. Shaw, news editor of KTSA, San Antonio, Tex., and Thomas E. Martin, general manager of WWNY, Watertown, N. Y.

Meet British Editors.

The editors usually meet their British counterparts to discuss war time publishing problems, according to the ministry, and many express a desire to meet government officials.

Mrs. John L. Whitehurst, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs; Robert McLean, president of the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin and of the Associated Press; Basil L. Walters, executive editor of the Minneapolis Star-Journal and secretary of the American Society of Newspaper Editors; John Balderston, stage and radio writer; Fleetwood Lawton, National Broadcasting company Pacific coast commentator; Prof. F. J. Keilholz, University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

OWI TO DO ALL THE TALKING FOR INDIANA TOWN

Free Speech Is Myth in Propaganda Film.

BY ARTHUR VEYSEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Madison, Ind., Sept. 1.—A small boy stands at the terminal of the first railroad built west of the Alleghanies and waves as a train chugs off up into the hills from this Ohio river town. In the eyes of OWI cameras, he fades into the distance. Narrators, in a score of languages, say: "He shows the way to a better world."

That is the end planned for "Small Town," the two reel movie which Hollywood and Washington camera crews are making here. The movie, in preparation for six months already, will require a month for filming and two or three months for assembly. The completed show will be sent, according to the OWI, into every country possible. It will run 20 minutes.

Free Speech Practical.

The boy who waves the farewell will say nothing. Neither will the hundreds of other Madisonians who will be pictured this month. The OWI will speak the pieces for them. Text has been completed but is closely guarded.

People around town think it fortunate for OWI that Madisonians don't make their own speeches. Free speech is so integral a part of Madison life it is taken for granted and practiced fully—not just preached about—and might clash with the OWI version.

"The people here are independent," said the telegrapher, leaning across his counter, pencil on ear. Michael Garber, editor of a paper in a family 95 years, says the same thing. So does Barney Hughes, tobacco man, appointed liasion man between the town and the movie crews.

Economically, Madison is independent. It didn't cry for aid when railroads killed off river traffic and cut Madison's population from 14,000 to 6,000. Small factories built it back up to 8,000. It didn't cry in the last depression. There isn't a building with PWA inscribed on the cornerstone.

Politically Independent, Too.

Politically, Madison is independent. It butchers party tickets in local elections. In national elections it usually goes Republican, but it voted for Roosevelt in 1932. Now it appears to be strongly anti-Roosevelt.

Free speech extends to the tobacco situation. Under the New Deal, farmers are permitted to grow only substantially the same amount of tobacco they did in 1934 and 1935. Result is stabilized production. With demand increasing, the price has almost doubled. But they think it's dirty money.

"I make my living off tobacco and I suppose I'm no one to talk," said Barney. "But it isn't right. I don't believe any one should have the power to tell one farmer he can grow tobacco and another he can't."

With equal candor, the town discusses the OWI movie. It argues men, money and material could be better used. "This government's going to defeat us before the Germans," said O. L. Head, the veteran editor.

Want Good Write-Up.

"Of course, we like to have our picture taken. I understand the object is to convince other people all over the world they should live like we do. Well, we like our ways, but that's not saying they have to."

He chuckled. "I suppose little Madisons will spring up all over the world," he said. "I'm sort of anxious to see Hottentot Madisonians."

The movie crews are less free with free speech. "Give us a good write-up or we'll all lose our jobs," they asked. Josef von Sternberg, the Hollywood movie director in charge of "Small Town," tore into what he considered a critical press.

"Of course, taxpayers are entitled to watch us, same as the senate, but when I get irked, I make things tough," he said.

The movie men have promised to exhibit "Small Town" to Madison audiences. The town will then apply a label to it, good or bad. Labels stick. More than a hundred years ago a man named Brough started to dig a tunnel thru the hills for a rival railroad. The tunnel was never finished. It still carries his name. The people call it "Brough's Folly."

The Inquiring Camera Girl

THE QUESTION.

What song do you whistle or hum while you work?

WHERE ASKED.

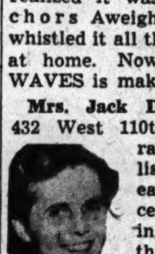
Michigan avenue at 111th street.

THE ANSWERS.

Josephine Snecko, junior clerk, 10410 Indiana avenue—Now that all eligible young men are out fighting battles I find myself singing, "I Don't Get Around Much Any More." It's a rather consoling tune in a way, because I know I'm not the only girl who has adopted it for her theme song.

Evelyn Raczka, student, 12011 Wentworth avenue—Whenever I have a job to do that I don't like and want to finish it as quickly as possible I always whistle or sing a peppy song. I can wash and wipe more dishes to the tune of Harry James' "Two o'Clock Jump," than any other song I know.

Rose Stolfi, telephone operator, 11620 Wentworth avenue—My brother had been home from the navy and after he left I kept humming a song. I didn't stop to think what it was until I realized it was "Anchors Aweigh." He whistled it all the time at home. Now my sister in the WAVES is making it her song.



Mrs. Jack DeYoung, housewife, 432 West 110th place—There's a radio program that I listen to regularly each day. Just preceding it, or following it, is one of those singing commercials. It runs thru my mind until I hear it again the next time.

Mrs. Charles M. Bruining, housewife, 49 West 108th street—Before the baby was born I used to sing "Diane." I liked the song so much I named the baby after it and now for five months every lullaby I have sung to her has had a few strains of "Diane."

Eleanor Toseller, reservation clerk, 11140 Stewart avenue—After several of my plans went wrong I began to think there was a jinx in everything I planned to do. Then my song was written, "Everything Happens to Me." Whenever things did happen I'd sing my song and feel better for it.

PLANO OFFICER DIES IN ARMY BOMBER CRASH

Columbus, O., Sept. 1 (AP).—Four officers and an enlisted man were killed today when a four engine bomber, circling to land at Lockbourne army air base, crashed into a farm house and burst into flames.

The dead listed by the Lockbourne public relations office included 2d Lt. Frank X. Daley, 28 years old, of Plano, Ill.

Farmersville Flyer Killed.

Greenville, S. C., Sept. 1 (AP).—Second Lt. Loren E. Yard, Farmersville, Ill., was among the six man crew of an army medium bomber killed when the ship crashed near Tullahoma, Tenn., the public relations office announced today. Yard, co-pilot, is survived by his mother, Mrs. Hattie Yard of Farmersville.

Peoria Man "Presumed Lost."

Shreveport, La., Sept. 1 (AP).—The Barksdale field public relations office today announced that six crew members were presumed lost when a medium bomber from the field crashed and burned yesterday near Kirbyville, Tex.

SOLDIER ON FURLOUGH ROBBED

U. S. MAY DROP SEDITION CASES, ATTORNEYS SAY

Washington Paper's Story Stirs Speculation.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 1.—Prospects that the government soon may drop its attempt to prosecute 33 individuals and one corporation for alleged seditious activities were seen today by counsel for the defendants.

They admitted it might be wishful thinking on their part, but a story appearing in the Washington Post, the newspaper generally regarded as the "mouthpiece" for the department of justice in sedition cases, provoked considerable speculation along these lines.

"Officials in the department of justice's criminal division asserted that present war time legislation is insufficient to stop publication and nation-wide distribution of thousands of seditious or near seditious publications, even tho their authors now are under federal indictment for conspiring with Nazis to undermine our armed forces," the story said.

Protected by Free Speech.

"As the law stands, there is a very small 'legal' area which these sheets might invade at the risk of prosecution," the story quoted these justice department officials as saying. "If they steer clear of it, we can't recommend that they be stopped since the matter of free speech is involved.

"If the authors of subversive literature avoid references to the army, navy, or related personnel," the story continued, "they are free to print virtually anything the Nazis themselves would like to see printed here, without danger of prosecution."

Some attorneys in the case, speculating over the purpose of the story, reached the following conclusions:

1. The Post, which virtually has assumed the role of prosecutor in these cases, is attempting to "smoke out" the justice department and stir up some action, or

2. The department of justice once more is using the Post as its mouthpiece to prepare the public for a "washout" in these cases.

The justice department took two staggering blows in court last March, when, during preliminaries, Federal Judge Jesse C. Adkins emasculated vital parts of the sedition indictments. Government Prosecutor O. John Rogge announced at that time he would seek a new and "air tight" indictment of the defendants before going to trial.

Special Jury Convened.

The first special grand jury to be called in the district since March convened in mid-August. It immediately went to work investigating war frauds, attorneys reported.

They claim that under District court laws the "additional" grand jury expires on the same date as the regular grand jury, which would be in this case the first Monday in October.

They claim a District grand jury cannot legally have its term extended. For this reason, the attorneys do not believe the department of justice would attempt to present the voluminous information and data gathered in the sedition cases in the brief time the special jury will be in session.

The attorneys discounted the statement in the Post's story that "the alleged seditionists have, however, already committed sufficient overt acts to bring them within the definition of the law appeared clear yesterday from reports that special assistant to the attorney general, John Rogge, is nearing completion of the government's case against them. 'Vigorous and definite action' was promised."

AVILA CAMACHO LAUDS TIES OF U. S. AND MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 1 (AP).—President Manuel Avila Camacho said in his annual address to congress today that relations between Mexico and the United States "never before have attained the quality they have now and we trust they shall increase in the future." He said 11,215 Mexicans were enlisted in the military services of the United States and that the sacrifices made by those Mexicans who already have fallen in battle "stiffens our will to carry on."

Avila Camacho told the congress that 58,000 Mexicans had gone to the United States to work and he said that they have equal rights with American labor. Discussing national defense plans, he said Mexican warships were carrying out patrol duty and convoying merchant ships.

YANKEE RAIDERS RIP PISA, CITY OF LEANING TOWER

Pound Key Rail Yards; British Shell Coast.

ALLIED HDQ. IN NORTH AFRICA, Sept. 1 (AP).—Suddenly switching their hammer assaults to northern Italy, United States Flying Fortresses blasted vital railroad yards at Pisa of leaning tower fame yesterday, while Britain's big battleships Nelson and Rodney shelled the western Italian toe.

The Fortresses on a 1,000 mile round trip poured bombs on the center of freight yards at Pisa and the electrified system capable of handling 96 trains daily between Rome and Genoa. They also hit the nearby San Guisto air field and Piaggio aircraft factory.

Pisa lies 170 miles north of Rome. The raid gave northern Italy a dose of the concentrated destruction poured for days on rail facilities and airdromes in the southern part of the peninsula. The famous tower, completed in 1350, and other historic monuments were spared by the bombers.

Other Targets Attacked.

At the same time, medium bombers and fighter-bombers attacked Salerno, Cosenza, Catanzaro, Sapri and Cetraro, and American Liberators from the middle east smacked Pescara, on the east coast opposite Rome.

Leading the cruiser Orion and nine destroyers, the Nelson and Rodney steamed into southern Messina strait and bombarded Italian coastal defense batteries with 16 inch, one ton shells. They met only feeble shore resistance. The warships also shelled the area near Reggio Calabria and near Cape Pellaro. They knocked out at least one big enemy coastal gun.

Warmer Bags 10th Plane.

The shift in strategy for the Fortresses appeared highly effective. The unescorted heavy bombers met only 25 enemy fighters and shot down six. One of the six fighters was bagged by the ace Fortress gunner of North Africa, Staff Sgt. Benjamin F. Warmer of San Francisco, who was decorated Saturday with the distinguished service cross for shooting down seven enemy planes in one day. Yesterday's Messerschmitt raised Warmer's total to 10.

Repair shops with a capacity of 100 to 150 locomotives were among the targets in the Pisa rail yards six miles from the leaning tower. Many fires testified to the precision of Fortress bombardiers.

[The Italian war report yesterday said that allied planes raided Pisa, Pescara, Salerno, Cosenza, and Catanzaro, causing considerable damage and numerous casualties.]

RAMSAY, JAILED M. P., AT RITES FOR SOLDIER SON

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 1.—Capt. Archibald H. M. Ramsay, a Conservative member of parliament who has been detained under defense regulation 18-B since May, 1940, was permitted by the ministry of home security to leave Brixton jail today to attend memorial service at the Guards chapel in Wellington barracks, London, for his eldest son, Capt. H. R. M. Ramsay of the Scots Guards who died in a Johannesburg, South Africa, army hospital.

[Regulation 18-B empowers the ministry of home security to arrest and detain any member of or person in touch with an organization thought to be disloyal or aiding the enemy.]

Sentries at the gates of the barracks allowed only special ticket holders to attend the 15 minute service. Ramsay arrived in a private car accompaned by two women. He was under escort by another of his sons who is also a Guards officer. Before returning to Brixton jail he stood a few minutes on the chapel porch greeting friends.

GERMANS EASE DICTATORSHIP OVER DENMARK

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Sept. 1 (AP).—German Gen. Hermann von Hannecken relaxed slightly the drastic Nazi military dictatorship over Denmark today, the German controlled Danish radio said, but refugees arriving here said the Danes were continuing their passive resistance.

Industrial slowdowns were reported in factories in Copenhagen, Aalborg, Aarhus, Ringsted, and Roskilde as limited telephone and mail service was resumed within the country.

[All princes of the Danish royal house who have commissions in the Danish army or navy have been arrested and interned, according to another dispatch.]

The Danish minister to Sweden, Johan C. W. Kruse, severed diplomatic ties with his homeland tonight, declaring that a constitutional government had ceased to exist there with the advent of a German military dictatorship.

New Blows Against Harried Italy

EVENTS IN ITALY EXPOSE MORE OF BENITO'S LOVES

Affair with Two Sisters Gets Further Airing.

BY P. E. BRIQUET.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERNE, Switzerland, Sept. 1.—The wave of arrests of prominent Fascists in Italy which followed Mussolini's downfall also unleashed in the Italian press stories of the private life of the ex-Duce.

Following the publication last Friday by Stefani, Italian news agency, of the arrest of the Pedacci sisters, Mussolini's paramours, and their family, many further stories appeared in the press, some of doubtful authority.

A reliable Italian source said the Pedacci sisters, Claretta and Guiseppina, lived near the Villa Torlonia, Mussolini's residence, and the Duce saw Carletta sun bathing on the balcony, which started the affair. She was married to one Federici, an aviation officer, who divorced her and was sent to Japan as an attache.

Duce Wears Disguise.

According to the Bund correspondent, the Duce, disguised as a gardener, first received Claretta in his own town villa. She pretended to be a painter. Claretta had 40 pictures made by a Hungarian artist and made a huge sum in an exhibition which was quickly arranged.

Osvaldo Sebastiani, who served as Mussolini's secretary until 1941, when he resigned, paid out considerable sums by which the whole Pedacci family profited. The Pedacci villa, Monte Marino, near Rome, originally cost 15,000,000 lira [then about $600,000] and had a bathroom door of rock crystal.

Her father once said despairingly that his villa had cost him only 1,000,000 lira. He was a good architect. The father used to write medical articles for the Rome Messagero, getting 2,000 lira in royalties. In 1939 Claretta received a yacht which cost 10,000,000 lira.

Becomes a Film Star.

Guiseppina, youngest of the sisters, also became friendly with Il Duce. Mussolini did not hesitate to appear publicly with the sisters. The Tribune correspondent saw Guiseppina in the course of a reception given in the honor of the chamberlain of Palazzo Venizia in January, 1939. Dressed in a beautiful yellow silk decolette, she came in before Mussolini and was guarded by a civilian policeman.

Guiseppina became a film star under the name of Mariam di San Servolo. The writer witnessed how the Rome public, not daring to hiss, humorously applauded her screen appearance.

According to the most reliable Italian source, the Pedacci disclosure, coming 22 days after their arrest while attempting to escape into Switzerland, was connected with the recent Fascist reaction and was aimed irretrievably to discredit Mussolini and all Fascists on both sides of the Alps.

Slovaks Parade Monday to Feature Convention

The Slovaks of Chicago will conduct a patriotic parade and rally at 2:30 p. m. Monday, a highlight of the opening of the 28th convention of the First Catholic Slovak union, a fraternal society. The convention will be held in the Morrison hotel from Sept. 6 to 10. The parade, starting at La Salle and Washington streets, will terminate at Grant park.

80 Year Old Springfield Man Acquires Wife, 77

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 1 (AP).—Charles B. Bell, 80 years old, and Mrs. Caroline Montgomery, 77, of Springfield, were married today by Probate Judge Benjamin S. De Boice. It was the second marriage for each.

'WORTHY PEACE' URGED BY POPE IN WORLD PLEA

Asks 'Generosity' in Settling Issues.

LONDON, Sept. 1 (AP).—Pope Pius appealed to the leaders of the world today to reach "a worthy peace," and expressed hope and faith that the fifth year of the war, beginning today, would end in such a peace.

The pope, declaring his views in a 14 minute world broadcast, called for "generosity" toward those nations "less favored than others by the trend of war at any given time," and he admonished against "actions which instead of encouraging confidence, rather inflame hatreds anew and strengthen the determination to resist."

Asks Spirit of Compromise.

While he did not mention the unconditional surrender ultimatum under which the allies are waging war, the pope again and again urged a spirit of compromise. He did not specifically identify those nations whose present martial prospects are poor, nor did he mention Italy, the belligerent to which his phrase would most forcefully apply.

The pope in his message, translated here from the Italian and made available in English by the ministry of information, stressed his view that a spirit of tolerance toward any nation actually defeated or in prospect of being defeated would not endanger the victors.

Recalls Former Pleas.

"Real strength," he said, "need have no fear of generosity."

The pontiff began by recalling that a few days before the war started he had appealed for peace. Then, he said, his words to the world's leaders "reached their ears but did not enlighten the minds and did not go deep into the hearts."

"Today on the threshold of the fifth year of the war," he continued, "even those who then reckoned on swift war operations and a speedy and victorious peace, looking around at what is surrounding them, inside and outside the fatherland, see nothing but grief and contemplate nothing but ruins."

REPORT BULGAR PREMIER AGAIN MEETS HITLER

LONDON, Sept. 1 (AP).—The Rome radio said tonight that Premier Bogdan Philov of Bulgaria had held a second meeting with Adolf Hitler.

The broadcast, which was recorded here by the Associated Press, did not say where or when the meeting took place, but presumably the conference concerned the recent death of King Boris.

At the same time the German news agency DNB broadcast a dispatch from Sofia saying Philov had called a special session of the national assembly for Sept. 3.

GEN. PARIANI NAMED ENVOY TO GERMANY BY PREMIER BADOGLIO

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Gen. Alberto Pariani, former representative of King Victor Emmanuel in Albania, has been named Italian ambassador to Berlin replacing Dino Alfieri, the Rome radio said yesterday.

Alfieri had been reported arrested in Rome Aug. 14. Pariani was born in Milan in 1876. He was chief of the Italian military mission to Albania in 1927 and became assistant chief of the Italian general staff in 1934. He was undersecretary of war from 1936 to 1939. Guido Rocco, 56, was appointed ambassador to Ankara, succeeding Raffaele Guariglia, who recently was appointed foreign minister.

The Rome radio denied reports that Count Dino Grandi former ambassador to Great Britain, is en route to Washington to discuss peace.

MAKES A CLEAN SWEEP OF CHIN AND CONSCIENCE

Authorities at Fort Sheridan yesterday announced they had received the following letter mailed in Amarillo, Tex., and addressed to the supply officer of the recruit reception center:

"When I was at Fort Sheridan, I was detailed to the warehouse. During my work there I took a package of razor blades. My conscience is bothering me, but the blades are gone. Please find $1.25, the retail price of the blades.—A ROOKIE."

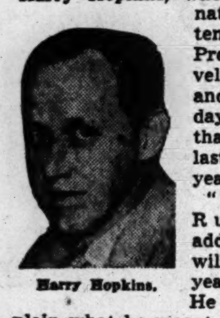
WAR WILL LAST 2 YEARS, MAYBE 5, HOPKINS SAYS

Longer Period Applies 'If We Lose Russia.'

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 1.—Harry Hopkins, who occupies the nation's No. 1 listening post as President Roosevelt's intimate and confidant, today predicted that the war will last two more years.



Harry Hopkins.

"If we lose Russia," he added, the war will drag out five years or longer. He did not explain what he meant by the phrase "If we lose Russia."

Hopkins, who is special assistant to the President and the latter's guest at the White House, cautioned against overoptimism on the part of his fellow country men in an article in the October issue of the American Magazine.

His Articles Pay Well.

In similar articles in the past Hopkins has called on fellow citizens to make greater sacrifices for the winning of the war and has been repaid handsomely for information gathered at his listening post. It has been reported that Hopkins, who never gives information to the American press, is paid more than $7,500 for each of his magazine articles.

"Altho we have recently gotten in some heavy punches," Hopkins or his ghost writer says, "the axis still holds the military championship of the world. Sicily was not a major front; Italy, guarded by mountains at the boot-toe, may never be.

"The axis has had great losses, but it is an undefeated enemy. We are the challengers. We are hacking at the victors. And we will destroy them, but not tomorrow."

Analyzes Nazi Strength.

Hopkins said that while the bombing offensive has wrought terrific damage in Germany, the Nazis have more munitions producing plants than when the war began. He also warned that they have more experience in fighting as well as more production.

He summed up various phases of the military strength of Germany and Japan as follows:

1. "Nazi war production is thought to be down by well over 10 per cent from raids and other causes. True, she has yet to face the full power of bombing.

2. "Germany is in a bad way tho, never fear. She is critically short of oil. The rubber situation is bad, but not desperate.

3. "Germany has adequate supplies of steel and aluminum. Her submarine and airplane production have not yet diminished much.

Transportation Hurt.

4. "With the bombing of heavy industry and strafing of locomotives by fighters from England, transportation facilities in Germany and the rest of Europe have been heavily strained.

5. "Germany's permanent military casualties in the whole war probably exceed 3,000,000 men . . . but Germany can still keep her 10,000,000 men or so under arms in the army, navy, and air force.

Japan Far from Beaten.

6. "The war strength of Japan not only is good, it can improve if we do not intensively bomb her industrial centers and make much deeper inroads into her shipping.

7. "There is no indication that Japan proper, with her empire population of more than 100,000,000 and her unnumerable millions of conquered peoples, is short on man power.

8. "If Japan lost all the outlying islands she has seized in the last two years, she wouldn't be licked by any means. She could fall back on her inner resources in Asia and huge stockpiles of munitions which she has been storing for the last decade."

New Russian Successes Told

U. S. DENIES ALLIES FAIL TO POST REDS ON MEDITERRANEAN WAR

Washington, D. C., Sept. 1 (AP).—The state department today contradicted recently published reports that Britain and the United States have been playing a lone game in the Mediterranean, keeping soviet Russia in the dark.

A statement by the department asserted:

"The soviet government has been consulted and has been kept fully informed by the United States and British governments in regard to all aspects of the military situation as it has developed in connection with operations against Italy and other operations in the European theater, and with respect to political situations arising directly out of military operations."

It was the latest of a series of British and American official utterances emphasizing Anglo-American willingness to consult and collaborate with the soviet on the war in Europe.

It followed also a sharp repudiation by Secretary of State Cordell Hull and President Roosevelt of accusations that Hull and other high officials of the state department had exhibited an anti-Russian attitude.

SUGGESTS REDS BE FIRST TO GET REPARATION

MOSCOW, Sept. 1 (AP).—Germany has inflicted on the soviet union damage amounting to billions of dollars and on all other allies only about half that much, Prof. Eugene Varga estimated today in a lecture. He added that the Russians would claim reparations to prevent the Germans from having a higher standard of living than the countries on which they inflicted the damage.

As a matter of economic necessity, said Varga, Hungarian former professor at the University of Budapest, reparations should be first paid to the soviet union and other countries which suffered occupation and then to the United States and England, where the relief is not needed immediately.

He specified that Russia would not claim reparations as a punishment for the defeated powers.

SPAIN'S HOLIDAY ENDS.

MADRID, Spain, Sept. 1 [AP].—Spain's official summer season ended today with an announcement that Generalissimo Franco, his wife and daughter, had left their summer residence and were returning to El Prado palace outside Madrid. United States Ambassador Carlton Hayes, his wife and daughter, returned to Madrid yesterday by motor car from San Sebastian, seasonal seat of the Spanish foreign office.

POLES HAVE DAY OF PRAYER FOR NAZIS' VICTIMS

Congregations knelt in prayer here yesterday in 53 Polish Roman Catholic churches and nine Polish National Catholic churches where masses were said in observance of the fourth anniversary of the invasion of Poland. It was a day of prayer for victims of the Nazis in Poland and for Polish soldiers who have died in the struggle.

Dr. Karol Ripa, consul general of Poland in Chicago, said the day was set aside for tribute to Poland by gubernatorial proclamation in four midwestern states—Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin, and Minnesota. Memorial rallies are planned for near-by cities, including one in South Bend, Ind., Sept. 12, and another in Milwaukee Sept. 19. A Chicago rally will be held in the Civic Opera house later in the month.

In demonstration of the Polish spirit, a crowd assembled at Division street and Milwaukee avenue yesterday to burn Hitler in effigy.

JUDGE A DAIRY FARMER; STEPS OUT OF OPA CASE

Federal Judge John P. Barnes yesterday declined to hear arguments on an office of price administration petition for a temporary restraining order against 14 milk distributors and the Pure Milk association, which are charged with violating OPA regulations. He disqualified himself to conduct the hearing and continued the matter until next Tuesday, when he said Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan would return from vacation.

"Mrs. Barnes and I own a small dairy farm near Downers Grove which supplies milk to the Chicago milkshed, and I hope nothing illegal has been going on there," Judge Barnes commented. "I feel, however, I would be disqualified to hear this motion."

OPA Atty. John D. Hastings argued that the petition for a temporary injunction was an emergency matter, but Judge Barnes persisted in refusing to hear the case.

WOMEN'S APPAREL STOLEN.

Women's apparel valued at $400 and two traveling bags were stolen from a basement at 1440 Elmdale avenue, Max Kushen reported to police yesterday.

SEEK CONSUMER PLEDGE TO SHUN BLACK MARKETS

OPA to Ask Signatures Starting Sept. 13.

The office of price administration will introduce its newest weapon against black markets in Chicago the week of Sept. 13, Michael F. Mulcahy, Chicago metropolitan area OPA director, said yesterday.

The weapon is a consumer pledge that the signer will not pay more than ceiling prices or buy rationed goods without ration coupons. The OPA enforcement staff is awaiting the results of the campaign, basing its hope on the axiom that black markets cannot exist without patrons.

OPA Wants Signature.

The OPA will not accept a verbal pledge. It wants a signed statement on a formal looking scroll which reads:

To Do My Part
On the Home Front.

. . . To help distribute rationed goods fairly.
. . . To help hold down the cost of living.
. . . To help eliminate black markets.
. . . To bring violations to the attention of my war price and rationing board.

I make the following pledge:
I will pay no more than top legal prices.

Address ....

A slip with the consumer's name and address will be filed with his war price and rationing board to indicate that he subscribed to the pledge. OPA officials said they did not know what would be done with the files of consumers' names.

Sticker for Window.

In addition each signer will receive a window sticker showing an attractive young housewife with right hand raised, pledging support of the OPA home front campaign.

Mulcahy said the OPA hopes to get pledges from 1,250,000 of the estimated 1,900,000 housewives in the Chicago metropolitan area, comprising Lake, Du Page, Cook, McHenry, and Kane counties in Illinois and Lake county in Indiana. The pledges will be distributed by 175 rationing boards in the area and 108 consumer service bureaus of the office of civilian defense.

Meetings instructing consumers in the provisions of the price control act and the need of their support of anti-inflation measures will be held thruout the area during the campaign week of Sept. 13 to 18, Mulcahy said.

ANTI-FASCIST ITALIAN WRITER IN N. Y. STABBED

New York, Sept. 1 (AP).—Ettore Manfredi, 61, an anti-Fascist writer for Italian language newspapers, was stabbed in the face tonight while standing on a sidewalk outside a meeting hall on 14th street near 2d avenue. His condition was reported to be serious.

Detective Edward Goodwin said that after the stabbing a man approached a patrolman at 42d street and 7th avenue and said:

"I just stabbed a man on 14th street near 2d avenue, where a political meeting was being held."

Goodwin said the man declined to give any other information. He was taken to a police station for further questioning.

Manfredi was the second anti-Fascist newspaperman to be attacked in New York City this year. Carlo Tresca, publisher of the anti-Fascist newspaper Il Martello [The Hammer], was killed on Jan. 11.

WLB ASKS STEPS AGAINST DEFIANT MILK PRODUCERS

Punitive action against the Twin City Milk Producers association of St. Paul, Minn., for persistent refusal to comply since last June 2 with a war labor board order to accept a maintenance of union membership clause in a labor contract was recommended yesterday by the regional war labor board in a unanimous decision. The two industry members, however, declared in a separate statement that altho they insisted on compliance with WLB orders, they continued to oppose the maintenance of membership clause which makes union membership mandatory.

The RWLB's action to apply sanctions against the St. Paul dairy farmers' coöperative is the first in the Chicago region. The national war labor board is authorized to ask the office of economic stabilization to seize the association's plant or take less drastic action, such as denying priority or rationing privileges.

At a public hearing last week R. O. Sullivan, attorney for the association, told the RWLB that the dairy farm group would continue to ignore the WLB order because it feared that John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers union is planning to organize dairy farmers by controling the workers at the association's milk processing plant at Farmington, Minn. Sullivan said the union by threatening farmers with refusal to handle their milk at the plant could force them to join the dairy farmers' branch of district 50 of the UMW.

PAINTER KILLED IN FALL.

PRUNES AND RAISINS RETURN TO RATION LISTS NEXT SUNDAY

Prunes and raisins will be returned to the rationed list of processed foods at 4 points a pound when the revised table of point values becomes effective Sunday, Raymond S. McKeough, regional OPA administrator, said yesterday. Other dried or dehydrated fruits will continue ration free.

Dried fruits originally were on the rationed list when the processed foods program started March 1. Their ration values were later cut to zero to avert dealer loss in hot weather thru spoilage.

McKeough said that stocks of prunes and raisins have been reduced and the approach of cool weather minimizes the danger of spoilage. He explained that the allocation of 115,000 tons of prunes and 140,000 tons of raisins from the 1943 pack for civilian use is less than the anticipated demand and that rationing is necessary. The average annual consumption of prunes from 1935 thru 1939 was about 124,000 tons and of raisins 153,000 tons.

HINT NORMANDIE MAY BE GIVEN BACK TO FRANCE

LONDON, Sept. 1 (AP).—Rene Mayer, commissioner of communications and merchant marine of the French committee of national liberation, said tonight that united France still had 1,000,000 tons of merchant shipping serving the allied war effort. He hinted that negotiations were impending aimed at restoring to the French flag the U. S. S. Lafayette, the former liner Normandie which was gutted by fire and capsized in New York and is now being righted.

He said the British and Americans, who used a great amount of French tonnage in the North African expedition, would be asked to help rebuild the French merchant marine. He said that "dickering" on a broad scale already had begun.

Altho French ship yards now are allied aerial targets, the French people realize such attacks are essential, he said. The French fleet will have to be rebuilt and British and American ship yards have a moral obligation to aid, he added.

Report Belgians Rescue Jews Bound for Poland

LONDON, Sept. 1 (AP).—The Belgian news agency said tonight that armed Belgian patriots intercepted a train on which 1,500 Jews were being taken to Poland, fought a battle with German guards and released part of the captives from cattle cars. As the Jews fled the guards turned machine guns on them, killing 20 and wounding 40.

Over the Hills... and off to war

John left today for training camp. Last month Sam had a furlough—now he's in the Southwest Pacific. Mary, the girl who lives next door to Sam, works in a bomber plant across the county. Our old friend Pete handles T. N. T. at the new munitions depot. And so it goes—neighbors, city folks, suburbanites, farmers—all need essential bus transportation to take them over the hills and off to war.

As war demands increase, there are less and less empty bus seats. Burlington Trailways is carrying twice as many passengers as a year ago—nearly four times as many as two years ago.

That is why we say, give these soldiers, sailors and war workers a chance. If you must travel, consult our agent for the best time and way to go.

HEALTH QUIZ

	YES	NO
Do you have poor digestion?	☐	☐
Do you feel headachy after eating?	☐	☐
Do you get sour or upset easily?	☐	☐
Do you feel tired—listless?	☐	☐

Now everyone knows that to get the good out of the food you eat—you must digest it properly. But what most people don't know is that Nature must produce about two pints of the digestive juice—liver bile—each day to help digest your food. If Nature fails—your food may remain undigested—lie sour and heavy in your digestive tract.

Thus, it is simple to see that one way to aid digestion is to increase the flow of liver bile. Now, Carter's Little Liver Pills start to increase this flow quickly for thousands—often in as little as thirty minutes. When bile flow increases, your digestion may improve. And, soon you're on the road to feeling better—which is what you're after.

Don't depend on artificial aids to counteract indigestion—when Carter's aid digestion after Nature's own order, when taken as directed. Get Carter's Little Liver Pills today—at any drugstore—only 25¢. You will be glad you did.

GOVERNOR LAUDS RESEARCH TESTS ON TRIB-BUNA

Inspects Synthetic Tires at Springfield.

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 1.—Gov. Dwight H. Green today inspected Trib-buna rubber on the Chicago Tribune tire test car and commended this newspaper for its research in rubber and in motor fuels. He requested and received a report on performance of the synthetics to date and on the operation of two vehicles using charcoal in place of gasoline.

"If these tires stand up as well as they appear to be doing," said the governor, peering under the fender of the car parked on the mansion driveway, "THE TRIBUNE can claim credit for giving America a new and needed source of raw materials for synthetic rubber."

Made from Waste Alcohol.

Don C. Waugh, technician for Goodyear Tire and Rubber company, assured Gov. Green Trib-buna tires were the same as others in the government's program to build 30 million synthetics for passenger cars in 1944.

The only defference is that the butadiene for Trib-buna was made by a Tribune subsidiary from waste sulphite liquor, a nuisance by-product of the wood pulp industry. The government's butadiene is made of petroleum and of alcohol from grain distillation.

"According to official reports," said the governer, "there is a growing need for grain for food. As for petroleum, Mr. Ickes [Harold L. Ickes, secretary of interior] is saying that we're draining national reserves of oil. So it's important to develop an alternate source of alcohol.

Interested in Charcoal Test.

"I'm also interested in your test of charcoal for fuel. The public wants more information on all possible motor fuels to supplement gasoline supplies. THE TRIBUNE is doing an outstanding service in developing this information."

A truck in THE TRIBUNE test fleet is using charcoal and gasoline optionally. The passenger car also was equipped for this conversion, but since the first 150 miles has been burning gasoline while special apparatus is being repaired.

ICKES SMOOTHS OUT DIFFICULTY WITH OWI CHIEF

Washington, D. C., Sept. 1 (AP).—Secretary of the Interior Ickes has cleared himself with the office of war information in the mixup over a magazine article he wrote on the coal controversy.

Elmer Davis, OWI director, today received answers to "some questions" he had asked Ickes about it and a spokesman said "as far as the OWI is concerned, the issue is closed."

The comment indicated that Davis had accepted the view Ickes was not deliberately responsible for publication of the article without certain changes requested by the OWI, reportedly at the instance of the war labor board.

Government officials are under instructions to clear with OWI all public statements on subjects involving other agencies, and President Roosevelt has said he would expect resignations from those who breach this procedure to air interagency disputes.

DEATH THREAT PHONED AFTER BOOKIE RAIDS

A woman who formerly managed the building at 184 Washington street, where two handbook nerve centers were raided Tuesday, reported yesterday to Capt. Michael Naughton of Police Commissioner Allman's office that a telephone caller had blamed her for the raid and had threatened her with death.

Capt. Naughton withheld the name of the woman and said she was not responsible for the raid. He said the rooms were rented by Hymie [Loud Mouth] Levine, downtown agent of the gambling syndicate now headed by Jack Guzik, expander.

During the day, detectives of the central district raided eight suspected handbooks, arresting 18 persons. Among those seized were two men who, with 10 others, earlier in the day had been fined $5 each on gaming charges. The two were Alfred Scott, 46 years old, and Arthur Griswold, 41, who were arrested at 122 South Clark street.

DEMOCRAT WINS HOUSE SEAT IN SPECIAL BALLOT

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 1 (AP).—Claire Engle, farm boy, who became district attorney and state senator and still is only 31 years old, tonight held a seat in congress from one of the nation's largest districts.

Tonight's unofficial returns showed him safely ahead of Mrs. Grace Englebright [R.], widow of Rep. Harry L. Englebright [R.], whose seat the vote was called to fill, and State Sen. Jesse Mayo [D.].

The vote boosted the Democrats' margin in California's congressional delegation, now standing 13 to 10.

8TH AIR FORCE SHOOTS DOWN 631 NAZIS IN AUGUST

LONDON, Sept. 1 (AP).—The United States 8th air force, pulverizing German air fields and war factories, set a new monthly record by shooting down 631 Nazi aircraft in August, it was announced today.

The previous high was 506 German planes bagged in July. Fortresses set a record by destroying 541 planes, 5 per cent more than the July total. American bombers lost in August were slightly more than the 4 per cent of July. One hundred Fortresses, less than 5 per cent of the number dispatched, failed to return during August, when 16 United States fighters were lost.

Army headquarters also said its Thunderbolt fighters proved they could break up enemy fighter attacks sufficiently to cut down bomber losses and give the bombers a better chance to destroy their objectives.

CHINESE WILL FIGHT ANYWHERE JAPS ARE FOUND

New York, Sept. 1 (AP).—Dr. Chang Tao-Fan, Chinese minister of information, said today that Chinese troops would operate against the Japanese "outside China, independently or in conjunction with the allied forces, wherever the enemy is found," the Chungking radio said.

The broadcast quoted the information minister as adding during a press conference that he was very much impressed by Prime Minister Churchill's emphasis on "the defeat of the enemy in the far east" in his speech at Quebec yesterday.

Dr. Chang said it was premature to say whether Chinese forces would be placed under the command of Vice Adm. Mountbatten, newly named allied commander in southeastern Asia.

ASSERTS NAZIS BELIEVE THEY'LL BE THE VICTORS

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Gen. Count Waldemar Stillfired, a Berlin radio commentator, said yesterday in a review of Germany's side of the four years of World war II. that the German soldier "is fighting with the conviction that he will attain the final victory." His broadcast was devoted mainly to the years when the Nazi forces were sweeping over Europe. The allied victories in North Africa and Sicily and the current fighting on the German-Russian front were mentioned only briefly.

Stillfired said lessons learned from the German army enabled the allies to conquer North Africa and blamed the vast distances of Russia and her "great superiority in men and material" for Germany's inability to smash the Red army.

"In the east fighting already has produced a result which undoubtedly is very important for the further course of the war," the commentator related.

"Germany got a free hand in the first phase of the war and since then dominates all conquered territories with labor of high quality and first rate front soldiers," he said.

WOUNDED RAPIST SUSPECT SLAIN IN POLICE AUTO

Shot Earlier by Father of 9 Year Old Victim.

New Orleans, La., Sept. 1 (AP).—Willie Stevens, 36 years old, an accused rapist who was shot in the arm yesterday in the police showup by a coast guard officer whose 9 year old daughter identified the suspect as an attacker of young girls, was shot and killed today in a police automobile.

Lt. Comdr. Vogt [left], Stevens, and Vigurie [right].

Detective Joseph Vigurie reported to Chief of Detectives John J. Grosch that Stevens became "maniacal" while being transported in the car from the 7th precinct police station to detective headquarters for further questioning and grabbed the barrel of Vigurie's pistol.

Grabs Officer's Gun.

"I want to die," Vigurie said Stevens screamed. "Give me your gun."

Vigurie, who was sitting beside Stevens in the rear seat of the car, said he started grappling with the prisoner.

"When he got completely out of hand," Virgurie said, "I took my gun and tried to hit him on the head with it to quiet him. He grabbed the gun and I let him have it."

Detective Frank Weber, who was driving the car, corroborated the story.

Plans No Action.

Grosch said no action would be taken either against Vigurie or Lt. Comdr. John P. Vogt, 43, of the coast guard reserve, who fired seven shots from two pistols at Stevens in the showup yesterday.

At the time of the fatal shooting Stevens was swathed in bandages from the wounds inflicted by Vogt's bullets.

Vogt then opened fire.

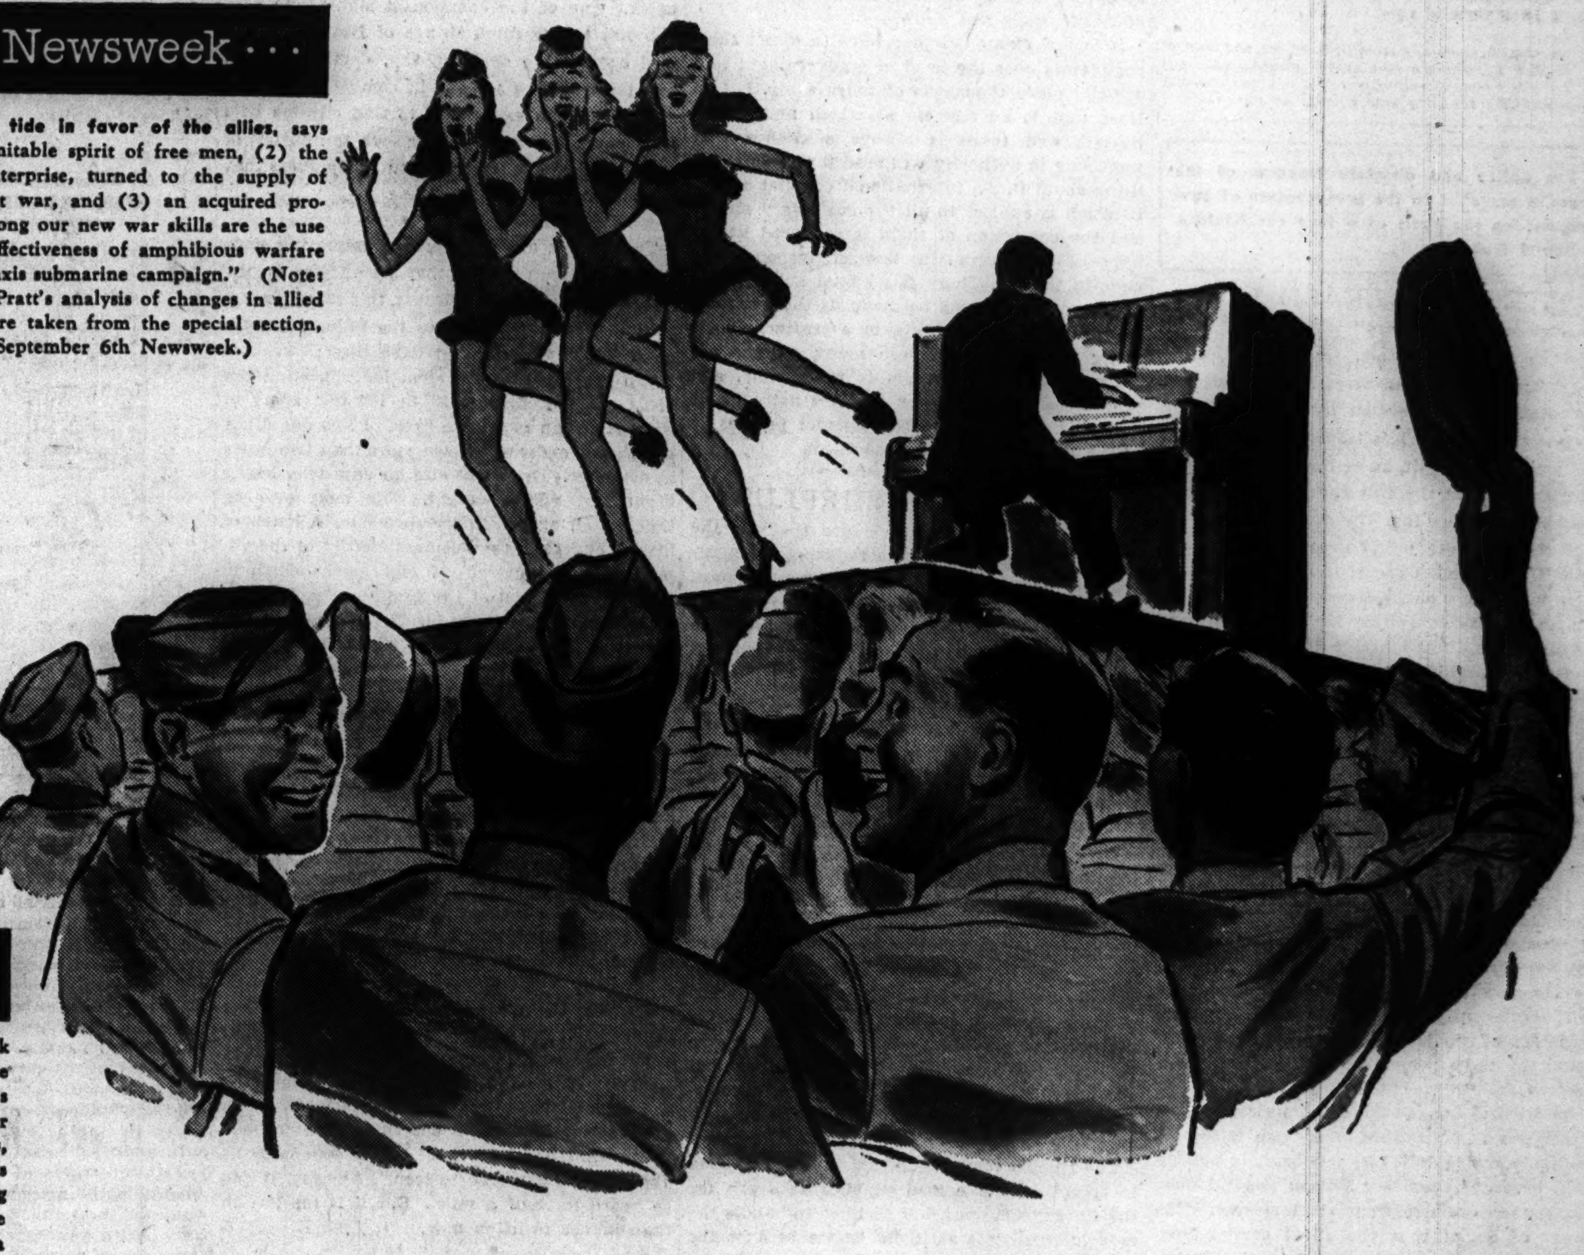
"I see by Newsweek . . .

Three things have turned the tide in favor of the allies, says Admiral Pratt: (1) The Indomitable spirit of free men, (2) the irresistible strength of free enterprise, turned to the supply of implements for waging efficient war, and (3) an acquired proficiency in the art of war. Among our new war skills are the use of air power to increase the effectiveness of amphibious warfare . . . and better control of the axis submarine campaign." (Note: These highlights from admiral Pratt's analysis of changes in allied strategy during the past year are taken from the special section, "Four Years of War," in the September 6th Newsweek.)



"I see by Newsweek . . .

Women can handle 6,000 jobs traditionally held by men. Peak war production will not be possible until many more women have been channeled into jobs like these. Meanwhile, the nation's No. 1 production problem is manpower shortage. A much greater influx of women is expected into the services, trades, amusements, etc., which in some cases are listed as non-deferable occupations for men. Every one of these jobs a woman takes helps bring the acute manpower problem that much nearer solution." (Note to women: The war needs you in a man's job. The more women at work, the sooner we'll win.)

Thoughts while reading the news

Have you ever wondered . . . while you're reading the news . . . whether an item is important or unimportant . . . whether a communique is true or false . . . whether a report is accurate or inaccurate? Again, have you ever wondered what lies beyond the facts themselves?

So many Americans today are in need of answers to these questions that we consider it an obligation to bring you:

News analysis that gives you the significance of the news . . . instead of the bare facts alone.

Impartial, objective reporting of news issues and events.

Forecasts of the future—not as spectacular guesswork, but as studied predictions of things to come.

Signed opinions of eminent authorities, both at home and abroad; on domestic affairs and on war developments.

Today Newsweek is publishing, in newspaper pages like this, a few highlights from current issues. We hope you'll find these . . . taken from the September 6th issue . . . helpful and interesting.

Because of wartime limitations many people are unable to get a copy of Newsweek. We suggest that you share your copy with as many friends as possible. A well-informed public is America's greatest security.

"I see by Newsweek . . .

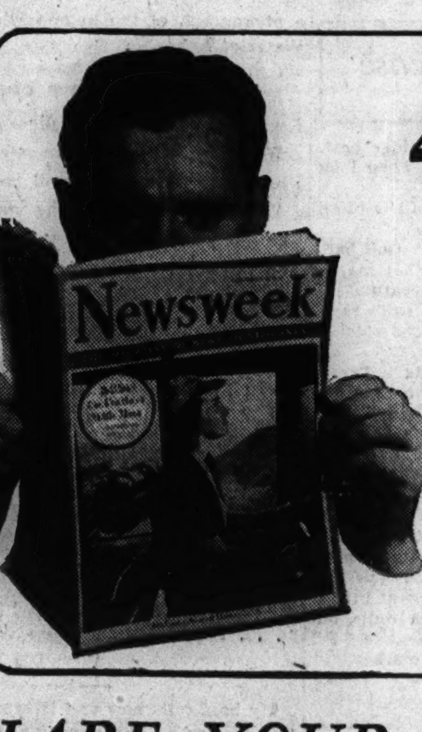
The allies are no more prepared for peace than they were for war. However, some steps have been taken to prepare for organizing the world after the war. They are (1) food planning, (2) plans for relief and rehabilitation, and (3) plans for currency stabilization (with Britain and America backing opposing plans). Present method of operation seems to be a series of separate international conferences to work out a series of separate agreements on specific international problems. Taken together, such agreements would constitute a fairly rounded system of international collaboration." (Note: A "Postwar Horizons" article on this subject is a part of the special section, "Four Years of War," in the September 6th Newsweek.)

"I see by Newsweek . . .

A new Nazi secret weapon is aimed at allied bombers. In a recent long-distance raid on Regensburg, flying forts were attacked by German Messerschmitts. The ME 110s and 210s loosed strings of black projectiles the size of indoor baseballs which came crashing into the forts 25 or 30 at a time and exploded simultaneously with firework flashes. Apparently rockets, they were prime factors in the heavy loss of 36 allied bombers. This is only one of the luftwaffe's desperate efforts to increase its firepower and save its planes." (Note: Every week our fighting men receive "Battle Baby."—Newsweek's miniature overseas edition.)

"I see by Newsweek . . .

Finland's present plight is largely her own fault, according to Raymond Moley. Finland miscalculated Russia's strength, and indulged in the fallacy that a nation can engage in a war of 'limited responsibility'. Moley says that many Finnish nationals in this country believe America is not really sympathetic with Russia at heart, and will side with small nations in the peace. Is there any wonder, then, he asks, that Russia distrusts her allies . . . or that Stalin is so determined to use his power to make his own decisions on his country's security?" (Note: Signed opinions by recognized authorities are regular Newsweek features.)



4 years of War

These highlights are from the special war analysis section in the September 6th Newsweek. This review is especially important for every thinking American to read. If you can't get a copy, make every effort to borrow one from a friend.

A review of the last year of war reveals this fact: The German territorial position of Sept., 1943, is surprisingly similar to that of Sept., 1918. . . . Five decisive battles during the year helped turn the tide from an allied defensive to an offensive . . . the outstanding allied strategist to come out of the war thus far is General Alexander. The last British soldier to quit Dunkerque, Alexander was largely responsible for winning the battles of Alamein, Tunis, Sicily . . . the Germans do not think they will lose a defensive war. The key to their new strategy (an old-time German concept of warfare), consists of the use of interior lines, highly flexible and powerful, which can be shifted to any front in a fraction of the speed of a comparable allied offensive.

THE LEND-LEASE LIE.

The phrase "lend-lease" was created to deceive the American people. The first objective, long before we were involved in the war, was to conceal Mr. Roosevelt's intention that the commodities and services transferred under the plan were to be a gift, as he has now confessed. Since we entered the war the object has been to conceal the fact that the so-called allied nations are all military and financial dependents of the United States.

The third phase of the deception is now under way. A gigantic conspiracy has been discovered to reduce the United States to a political dependent of its military and financial dependents. The object is to let Mr. Roosevelt exercise and perpetuate the power over the American people to which he pretends, on the plea that it is necessary to win the war, that he may enrich international bankers and allow the fat ladies of Park avenue the thrill of curtseying to kinglets.

Mr. Willkie, with his blather about "One World," the Union Now crew, the English Speaking union, Henry Wallace's quart of milk fanatics, and all the rest of the proponents of some variety of world state are working toward this common end—that the American people shall permanently have placed on their back the burden of rehabilitating, supporting, and defending in their possessions the present lend-lease clients.

The proof of the preëminent American weight in this war is even more clear than it was in the last, when in 1918 Lloyd George, in sudden panic, besought President Wilson to send men, even if they came in their shirt sleeves. The danger of defeat that the allied armies then faced in France was concealed from the American people, as it was, indeed, from those of France and England.

It was not possible to conceal the military disasters of this war. Until America began to participate with men and material, the allies met a continuous and unending series of defeats. Continental Europe was overrun. France had ceased to exist as a military power. Wherever fresh aggressions by Hitler gave the opportunity to open a second front, that front was soon beaten back to the beachheads and the British had to retire. Rommel spilled over into Africa to bolster the faltering Italians and the British could do nothing against him.

The Russians were no better. Admiration for the courage of the Russian people in adversity should not obscure the fact that, until the weight of the United States was thrown in the balance, a nation of 180 million Russians, which for 20 years had thrown its whole resources, regimented by a cruel dictatorship, into preparation for war, was no match in the military field for a nation of 80 million Germans. The most fruitful agricultural regions of Russia and its principal industrial centers were lost to the invaders.

Since American men and material have been thrown into action all over the world these defeats have turned into a continuous series of victories. True, the full effect of American aid was not felt immediately. In the Western Pacific the little hope of saving the Philippines that remained after Mr. Roosevelt's shameful neglect of their defense was lost when Gen. Wavell, a failure in Africa, was placed in supreme command in that area and American naval and air forces were diverted from the Philippines. Rommel had a last spurt of success in Africa, only to be met and his army destroyed, a few months later, by the power of American tanks and American planes and pilots sent more than half around the world.

Behind the air offensive against Germany lie the American bomber plants, producing at a rate unparalleled in the industrial history of any nation. It was not until aid began to come from the United States in tremendous quantities that the Russians were able to stop the final German attack and take the offensive themselves. They have received not only our guns, tanks, trucks, and planes, but enormous quantities of food as well.

The conspiracy to conceal our predominant role in the war under the fakery of lend-lease, and to make the burden permanent thru a super-government has been exposed. It is the solemn duty of the Republicans who will soon meet at Mackinac to denounce it and to take up in behalf of the Republican party the republican standard of the United States.

The American people have never submitted to browbeating in the past, and there is no evidence that they will tolerate it today. That is what the Roosevelt-Willkie gang are trying to do to them. They are campaigning not only against American institutions, but against the spirit of American citizens. They want to breed in this country a sense of inferiority instead of a sense of independence, in order that the people will be acquiescent to the yoke that is being prepared for them. These efforts are doomed to failure and, in denouncing them, the Republican party will resume its traditional role of spokesman for the American spirit.

PROMOTING COLONIAL ABUSES.

An international trusteeship over the former Italian colonies in Africa apparently is favored by our government. Mr. Henry S. Villard, assistant chief of the state department's division of near eastern affairs, advocated international control of this sort in an address delivered the other day at Chautauqua. It may well be that the department has similar plans in mind for the colonies now in Japanese hands.

At any rate, whether the proposal is concerned only with former Italian territory or is to be taken as a policy for general application, there is precious little to be said for it. Perhaps a case can be made for international colonial administration as an interim arrangement, pending the final transfer of the real estate, but it would be difficult to imagine a worse method of permanent management.

There never was a colony whose people were wholly contented with their status and the more self-respecting the people are, the more they resent the alien rule. The imperial nations always insist that the natives have no cause for complaint, but the fact is that more often than not they are overworked, underpaid, and kept in subjection by military force. Perhaps they ought to be overflowing with gratitude for their blessings, but they are resentful and the better men they are the more conscious they are of discriminations and abuses.

It is bad enough if they have to direct their complaints over the head of a government to a colonial office thousands of miles away, but at least that is an address at which mail is delivered, and there is always a chance that somebody in authority will read it and do something about it. An international colonial administration is subject to all the customary abuses and the correction of them is rendered nearly impossible because the line of responsibility ends in the air. There is no final authority to which complaints can be made. If the governor is an incompetent, a brute, or a grafter, who is going to fire him? Where many nations are responsible, none of them is responsible, and pressure of public opinion achieves nothing. It will be no kindness to the colonial peoples to fasten this kind of rule upon them.

WHAT FOOD SURPLUS?

For a number of years before the war the government was engaged in reducing the quantity of food available to the general public. The object was to put up prices. Carrying out this purpose, food was purchased in the open market and distributed gratis to persons on relief or to public institutions.

In Illinois the state public aid commission was the agency which had charge of disposing of food surpluses for the government. For this purpose it maintained warehouses and a distributing organization. Last year, due to the decline in the number of persons on relief, the commission closed its warehouses and abolished the distributing system.

Last week the commission was asked to reconstitute its organization and again become the agency for distributing excessive supplies of food. The United States food distribution agency wrote a letter to the commission explaining the need for such action. The letter said that the operation might become necessary in order to eliminate burdensome seasonal surpluses, stabilize prices or dispose of lend-lease merchandise not wanted for the purpose purchased.

The Illinois commission said it would be glad to accept excessive food supplies as a gift for the state institutions, but declined to handle the food in small lots as it did before because the relief load is not large enough to justify the expense of setting up the machinery that would be necessary.

What are the surplus foods the government wants to give away? Is butter one of the items? Possibly. It has been produced in large quantities and the stores don't have it for sale. It must be accumulating. An earlier experience may supply a clew: On April 1, 1939, when there was 79 million pounds of butter in the warehouses of the country, the government determined that there was a burdensome surplus. A government agency had been carrying on a price rigging operation and had acquired 92 per cent of the amount available. The Federal Surplus Commodity corporation resolved the problem of reducing the amount of butter on hand from the 79 million pound figure by giving large quantities of it away thru the relief rolls.

Keep in mind that 79 million pounds of butter was a burdensome surplus. But on July 1, 1943, there was 158 million pounds in storage in the United States, twice as much as in 1939, when the surplus was regarded as burdensome. The government again owns most of the supply.

To most people it would seem incredible that the government should try to have an organization set up to give away what it won't let the housewife purchase. But those who have had experience with the ways of the government realize that it could happen. In March of last year Paul McNutt, the director of defense health and welfare service of the WPB, urged housewives to cut down their purchases of beans so that there would be enough for the army and for lend-lease. While Mr. McNutt was telling the country there was a bean shortage, the surplus commodity corporation was offering an inducement to persons on relief to increase their consumption of beans so as to reduce the burdensome supplies.

Any one who can't get enough to eat should write to the food distributing agency at Washington and offer his services in reducing the food surpluses.

THE BIRD NOBODY KNOWS.

One of the commonest sounds of a summer twilight in Chicago is the shrill cry of a nighthawk. One of the commonest sights, for eyes not dim to the small things of Nature, is this bird against the darkling sky, darting, diving, and twisting like a plane in combat. And it is also a common experience to find citizens who have never heard the cry or seen the fluttering wings. When one is pointed out, they guess that it's some kind of swallow.

* * *

These birds are flocking and migrating now, and in suburban regions they are offering an impressive spectacle. Bob Becker, this column's consultant in birdlore, supplies the following notes on recent observations at Lake Bluff:

"In the nighthawk system for migration the birds are spaced from 50 to 100 feet apart in what is known as a loose flock. I saw one flight last Friday night which was more than two miles in diameter. There was also an unusually heavy flight last Sunday night. The next evening brought an extraordinary spectacle. A hatch of insects at 5:15 in the business district of the village brought hundreds of nighthawks down to within 6 and 8 feet of the ground. People stood around gaping at them for 25 minutes, but my wife was the only spectator who could identify the birds."

* * *

The citizen who is not nighthawk conscious may argue that Lake Bluff is 30 miles from the loop, and that Mr. Becker is a professional naturalist, in duty bound to keep an eye peeled for curious critters. But several years ago we saw a large convoy of nighthawks about this time of year, merrily circling around the tower of the Wrigley building. This species makes itself at home in any city that can provide a supply of flying bugs, and lays its eggs upon housetops without building a nest.

* * *

At rest, the nighthawk does not perch but drapes itself full length. Its appearance is odd: a flattened head, large eyes, and a gaping mouth fringed with bristles. Its plumage is so soft that it is a completely silent flyer, except for its hunting scream. This cry is described in a birdbook as "a loud nasal 'peent'," but it sounds to us like a loud laryngeal "g-zeep." Anyway, it can be heard for half a mile. But it is too late in the summer to listen now.

* * *

The bird nobody knows will next be heard from in South America.

LISTED AS CASUALTY.

He is dead and well I know it,
Yet I like to dream him whole,
Tho I've paid for many masses
To repose his youthful soul.

Youthful soul that went a-winging
When the shrapnel rain came down,
Went a-winging, daresay singing,
From an ancient Arab town.

And I like to pick the flowers
In the fields where he has been,
Little nosegays made from toadflax
And the graceful celandine.

Like to potter in the buttery,
Mulling savory gooseberry wine;
I remember well he liked it—
Coming Michaelmas 'tis fine.

Ah, I know 'tis but a fancy—
God repose his youthful soul;
He is dead and well I know it,
But I like to dream him whole.

"Old Soldiers Never Die."

"The Old Guard dies but never surrenders" is a saying that originated in the battle of Waterloo, but an officer in a cavalry regiment associated with that corps d'élite lived for 78 years afterward. He was, in fact, the last survivor of Napoleon's defeated army.

Five years ago John A. Menaugh of THE TRIBUNE's Sunday staff was writing an account of the battle. He became curious about its last survivor and wrote to the French war department, asking if it had information on this point. He was promptly answered by the chief of the French army's historical service, thus:

"The last survivor of Waterloo appears certainly to have been Capt. Soufflot of the Red Lancers of the Imperial Guard, who died a centenarian in June, 1893. He entered the service at the age of 17, Jan. 26, 1810, as a quartermaster with the 20th Rifles. He became a cavalry sergeant Aug. 15, 1810; second lieutenant, July 20, 1811; lieutenant, May 22, 1813; captain, April 11, 1814, and first lieutenant with the Red Lancers, May 22, 1815.

"The Notebook of the Sabretache, a military review published by the society of this name, of which Soufflot was the dean, published in 1901 a photograph of the helmet which he wore at Waterloo."

MAYBE NEXT SPRING.

Regardless of what the headlines say,
When they come back, the war will be over.
I've always thought, "It will be a spring day,
With fragrance of timothy grass and clover.
The soft showers of April will wash away care,
And the world will be clean again and fair."

Now, twice has springtime come and gone.
The boys are still in a strange, weird land,
Where bomb-fire creates a perpetual dawn,
(The rains of what April will cleanse it of care,
And make their world bright again and fair?)

Soon riotous colors of autumn will burn,
And presently snow will cover the clover.
But just as surely as spring will return,
So, too, will they . . . and the war be over.
September is coming; sharp winds that sting—
". . . Maybe . . . maybe next spring."

SCABIES—DEMAND UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER.

PROBABLY no skin eruption is more frequently misunderstood than that which is brought on by the itch mite. Children have a fashion of contracting scabies, no matter how carefully they are guarded. The ensuing irritation, fretfulness, and disturbed sleep may be mistaken for an oncoming illness.

But to spot the malady accurately will require some study of the character of the lesions. We can wash the parts with soap and water, whereupon the tortuous burrows will be disclosed.

We think of the outbreak as appearing first about the hands and between the fingers. But trouble may be observed in other localities such as the forearms, the creases of the wrist, the palm of the hands, even the soles of the feet. The victim is always uncomfortable and, as we can understand, pus-forming bacteria which are introduced by scratching, usually enter the picture. Organisms such as the staphylococcus may be responsible for flaking yellowish crusts, which are unsightly in the extreme.

In addition, infection may appear—with enlargement of the lymph glands in the neighborhood. Such a situation presents a difficult problem. With youngsters particularly, it is almost impossible to keep the fingers quiet—so great is the tendency to allay itching.

A hot bath with a thoro cleansing of the surface, using strong soapsuds, is No. 1 on the relief program. All traces of lather may be removed with repeated rinsings. The skin is then dried completely before the insect destroying ointment is put on. Every afflicted area must be covered carefully, as one neglected spot may offer the mites an opportunity for increased activity. Sulfur is one of our most effective remedies. It will need to be weaker for the young and stronger for adults.

Benzyl benzoate has been highly recommended. One application has been known to clear up a rather extensive crop. When impetigo occurs as a complication, after the crusts have been taken off, fine crystals of sulfathiazole suspended in water may be utilized. Alternate daily applications of this preparation and the benzoate are used successfully.

There are other antiseptics and ammoniated mercury is the old standby. Occasionally, children will react violently to sulfur, with acute inflammation of the cuticle. But these cases are the exception rather than the rule, unless the percentage of the chemical is too high. Then it is that we fall back upon our old friend, calamine lotion, which is soothing and cooling. Under its influence, irritation will subside. If sulfur is again employed, it may be in a more dilute form.

Clothing can harbor the insects or their eggs. In consequence, all articles of apparel that have come into direct contact with the patient's body must be disinfected. Undergarments may be laundered with special care, while suits, coats, etc., may be dry cleaned.

We must recall that we are dealing with a parasite. The females penetrate the epidermis, forming molelike tracks. A new generation can be produced within four weeks. As a rule, symptoms are only local but toxic manifestations may be noted when the attacking horde is numerous.

BABY'S IMMUNITY.

Mrs. W. B. writes: Many years ago, when I studied nursing, I was taught that a newborn infant inherits an immunity to certain diseases up to about 6 months of age. Recently, in a group discussion, I was told that my training is obsolete. Can you advise?

REPLY.

The immunity inherited from the mother will persist for from two to six months. This does not mean, however, that exposure should be invited. There is little if any protection against colds, for example.

ARTHRITIC.

E. C. S. writes: I am 38 and in good health. My hands are small and thin but the knuckles are enlarged. What is the cause?

REPLY.

Usually arthritis, which is gradual in onset. You are lucky if you have not experienced pain. The resulting enlargement is permanent.

PARASITIC INFECTION.

Mrs. J. N. writes: What is filariasis?

REPLY.

Illness due to the presence of a parasitic worm—filaria. One species is responsible for the malady known as "elephantiasis." Certain insects are spreaders.

LUMP ON BONE.

Mrs. S. writes: What is exostosis on the back of the head?

REPLY.

Men With Wings.

New York, Sept. 1.—The discussion centered around airplanes. Naturally it would, with Bill Schwindler, chief aeronautical engineer for Grumman, sitting there Some one said that after the war every one would have his private plane, and Schwindler denied it. "Planes will never be cheap enough," he said. "They can't be."

Some one pooh-poohed this and predicted the birth of a $600 model T, purchased on monthly payments thru a financing agency. "If you ever see a $600 plane, you won't want to ride in it," Schwindler said, with a that's that intonation.

"But 30 years from now," another spoke up. "Surely you'll admit every one will be flying then."

"Maybe," Schwindler conceded, "but not the kind of planes we know today. It'll have gone beyond that by then. Maybe men will just put on a pair of mechanized wings."

"Like Icarus? and have them melt as we fly near the sun?"

"Who knows?" he replied. "If you want to know what's going to happen read the comic strips." This produced a peal of laughter and Schwindler became indignant.

"I'm serious," he retaliated. "That's no joke. All the engineer does is try and keep up with the comic strip guys. He never catches up. He follows.

"Look at the death ray. It's been in the comic strips three or four years, and you see how we're heading toward it now with radar. There's your death ray. Ten years from now the engineer actually will have a death ray, but by that time the comic strips will be nine billion miles away, fighting interplanetary wars.

"And 30 years from now—well, by that time the man who pushes the button first will win the war. They don't declare war, any more, not even now. They just start. What it's going to come to is that if a guy in Germany doesn't like a guy in England he pushes a button and torpedoes, earthquake bombs, and death rays rain down all over the British Isles.

"All the engineer does," he continued, "is follow the guy with an idea. He's the practical guy in back of the imaginative guy, and a long way back of him always.

"Take the bazooka, the anti-tank gun. Probably the guy that invented the bazooka saw it as a kid in a comic strip. Having seen it in his impressionable years, he later made it mathematically possible. If you want to read the future, read the comics. They all come true.

"Why, they had amphibious tanks and pilotless planes, and even paratroopers. Remember them? Then Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer made a picture with paratroopers in it. They showed it to our war department first and asked for its indorsement, for publicity, of course, and the war department laughed itself sick at the idea. Then the picture was exhibited in Russia. Then up came the Russians with the world's first paratroopers. Who's crazy now?

"I'm telling you, and this is the truth: If a mind can produce an idea, a mind can make the idea work."

The Passing Scene.

And now comes the story of the little boy whose teacher sent him home from school to take a bath. The child's mother grabbed him by the hand and took him straight back. "Lady," she said to the teacher, "this boy ain't no rose. I don't send him to school to be smelled, but to be teached."

Distinction.

Then there is the story of the maid who, coming into the living room when her employer was listening to Churchill over the radio, observed, disparagingly, "I like to hear President Roosevelt. He's a regular mouthpiece."

Culbertson, Take Care.

She was saying that she had been playing bridge all day and all the girls had been discussing canning, when a dear little lady who eschews bridge as frivolous leaned over the dinner table and said, in a piercing whisper, "My dear, who is Canning? Some new bridge expert?"

THREATS, NOT PROMISES.

Chicago, Aug. 27.—The old gag that is beginning to crop up again, to the effect that we are not fighting the Italian people or the German people, and the promises that are being made to them, of our most considerate treatment after the war, if they unconditionally surrender, is the best way I know of prolonging the war. It is not only a mistaken idea; it is brainless.

Under that sort of silly salve, our enemies will say to themselves, and rightly: "If we continue fighting, maybe we will yet win. However, if we lose, we will still be sitting pretty, for the Americans will give us lots of fine food, build us nice houses, and take care of us."

Better would it be if we were to say to them: "Listen, you! You people are going to have to pay for this war. You are going to reimburse the American people for every cent they are paying out because of your lawless aggression. You are going to have to slave for the next 50 years, 100 years, 150 years; you, and your children, and your children's children! Each day that this war continues, each day that it is prolonged, you are going to have to sweat and toil that much longer and that much harder, to repay the additional millions of dollars that each of these additional days of war costs the Americans." [The other allies may join, too, if they wish, but I'm talking about América].

That is the only kind of language they can understand. That would give them some incentive for bringing the war to a close. H. A. F.

SEES TEMPTATION.

Chicago, Aug. 28.—The OPA goes to the trouble and expense of changing the style of gasoline ration stamps to stop illegal use, but it continues to tear out extra stamps from these supplemental ration books.

Why aren't these books left intact and made valid for a longer period of time? These loose stamps are very tempting to board members. Are the local ration boards running their own black market on these loose stamps?
INQUISITIVE DRIVER.

DEPENDS ON HOW YOU SLICE IT.

Fort Bayard, N. M., Aug. 26.—In an article a few weeks back it was stated that a billion dollars in $1 bills piled on top of each other would make a pile 60 miles high.

A news item in THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE says: Three billion pounds of meat will be this nation's 1943 donation, under the lend-lease, to Great Britain and Russia. Could some one tell me how high a pile of meat this would be?
WALLACE L. HENDERSON.

ALARM CLOCK SHORTAGE.

Chicago, Aug. 29.—Noticed an item of great interest in the paper recently about 60,000 American alarm clocks just received in England—because the English people have been unable to buy an alarm clock for some time!

What about the American people?

ONE DOCTOR WAS WRONG.

Chicago, Aug. 29.—My husband was rejected for a civil service job because of organic heart disease. Soon after that examination he was called to report at the induction center. He was accepted by the army and is now ready to go overseas. MRS. A. G. K.

RED POINT PROFIT.

Chicago, Aug. 29.—Shopping for the table is not one of my daily chores, but last Saturday the head of the house was otherwise occupied and she prevailed upon me to "get the groceries." So off I went to the local chain store and proceeded to fill three baskets. At the butter counter the limit was one-quarter pound per person. However, when I reached the cashier I learned that one pound of butter required 10 red points and one-quarter pound would require, not two and one-half points, since they cannot be split, but three red points, no credit given for that extra one-half point. Since the limit was compulsory, I had no other choice, but simple arithmetic indicated that if this one store sold only one thousand pounds of butter it would finish up two thousand red points to the good.
THOMAS M. BARRY.

OPA POSTERS.

Chicago, Aug. 30.—I have objected to many of the government posters that have appeared, but this time I raise my voice in resentment at the one on the door of a downtown OPA office. Across the top it reads, "When you ride alone, you ride with Hitler."

That one breaks the camel's back. There are thousands of people who, because of the nature of their work, would find it impossible to do any one any good at all by simply giving him a ride some place, but we are supposed to feel now, after reading this poster, that we are hindering the war when we find ourselves alone in a car.

CLAY PIGEON PIE.

Chicago, Aug. 29.—I cannot seem to find a recipe to cook clay pigeons. I see that 800 shooters have shot 160,000 clay pigeons at Vandalia, O. On the other hand, they tell me I will be lucky to get a box of 25 shells to shoot some rabbits and pheasants this fall.

Doesn't it take more time, transportation, and ammunition to hunt clay pigeons at Vandalia than to go out of Chicago a short ways and get some nice rabbits for stews or roasts? Maybe I should take up trapshooting and hunt rabbits with the allotment those shooters must get. JOSEPH J. KRIZ JR.

REMARRIAGE WITHIN YEAR.

Chicago, Aug. 31.—[Legal Friend of the People].—I was divorced in Cook county in August, 1921, and remarried in September of the same year, in the state of Illinois. 1. At that time the law required a year to lapse between divorce and a second marriage. 2. Does the present law legalize my second marriage, or [3], would it be advisable to go thru another ceremony?—C. POLIO OUTBREAK IN PEAK WEEK, SAYS BUNDESEN

Cicero and Berwyn Delay Schools to Sept. 13.

The outbreak of poliomyelitis in Chicago is in its peak week, Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the board of health, said yesterday, reporting 31 new cases and one death for the 24-hour period ending at 9 a. m.

Dr. Bundesen said study of the history of the disease here showed this would be the peak week. Citing charts and graphs on recent annual outbreaks, he said that "whenever the slope [tracing the increases in cases] rises sharply, it will continue so for five or six weeks and then repeat the same values on the way down."

School Officials Act.

In Cook county suburban areas, Dr. Edward A. Piszczek, health director, listed only two new cases, marking a sharp decline in the disease. He said public schools in Cicero and Berwyn would not open until Monday, Sept. 13, because of concern in those towns over what he termed "unfounded rumors" regarding spread of the disease. Schools in Oak Park will open Tuesday, it was said there. Spokesmen for the Chicago board of education said the city's schools would open Tuesday as scheduled unless Dr. Bundesen rules otherwise.

Dr. Frank J. Pokorney, Cicero health commissioner; Michael Solar, president of the school board, and Supt. of Schools George Schwebel announced the delay in opening Cicero's 25 schools. The delay affects 13,000 pupils and 8,000 more at J. Sterling Morton High school which serves Berwyn and Cicero. Dr. Pokorney said he did not believe quarantine regulations would be applied at Hawthorne race track, scheduled to open next week.

City Figures Corrected.

The school delay followed reports of a total of 20 cases of poliomyelitis in Cicero, Dr. Pokorney said, the last on Aug. 25. John Cermak, Berwyn supervisor, announced the postponement for Berwyn, acting on the decision of Dr. Otto Koluvek, health officer. Parochial schools will remain closed until Sept. 13 in both towns.

Dr. Piszczek listed the county total for the outbreak at 115 with 10 deaths; Dr. Bundesen listed the city total as 396 and 38 deaths in corrected figures.

Dr. Bundesen disclosed that the poliomyelitis outbreak has been accompanied by many reports of children developing stomach upsets, and of groups of children having fever and sore throat, but no other symptoms. The exact relationship between these symptoms and infantile paralysis is not known, he said, altho there is some evidence to support the belief that the children may have the disease in a mild form or at least an infection with the same virus.

Girl Victim Improves.

Joyce Schmidtke, 15 years old, who has spent 30 days in an iron lung at St. Therese hospital, Waukegan, since she was stricken with infantile paralysis, was able to remain out of the lung for an hour and 49 minutes yesterday. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schmidtke, farmers who live near Spring Grove in McHenry county.

One north shore patient requiring use of iron lung apparatus is Sherman D. Clough, 36 years old, son of S. Dewitt Clough, president of the Abbott Laboratories, North Chicago. Clough was stricken Aug. 23 and is a patient in Evanston hospital. His home is at 2348 Lakeside place, Highland Park.

HOME OPERATOR ORDERED TO CUT PATIENTS TO TEN

Two cases involving the operation of convalescent homes without licenses were continued by Judge Erwin J. Hasten in License court yesterday. Miss Helen Baxter, operator of a three story building at 3842 Ellis avenue, was given until Sept. 15 to assure the court that she will reduce the number of patients in the home from 14 to 10. By such action she would remove her home from the category of an institution.

Mr. and Mrs. Abijah Barden, who told Judge Hasten they operate two homes on a two acre plot at 3949 Lake Park avenue, said they have been unable to obtain a license because the buildings are not of steel and cement construction as required by the ordinance. The case was continued to Sept. 22.

Judge Hasten vacated the $100 fine imposed recently against Mrs. Elizabeth Heller, operator of a home for the aged at 2829 Prairie avenue, for violation of fire regulations when she told the court she had ceased to operate the home.

Mrs. Blanche Meincke Leaves $100,000 Estate

Mrs. Blanche Meincke of 536 Monroe street, Glencoe, who died Aug. 29, left an estate of $100,000, it was disclosed yesterday when the will was filed with the clerk of th Probate court. The bulk of the estate consists of stock in the A. M. Meincke & Son Paper company, 7 South Dearborn street, and was left to her son, Howard, and two daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Turner and Mrs. Helen Best. Charles Henry Adams, a houseman, was left $5,000, an automobile, and 33 acres at Chatham, Mass.

WOMAN CUTS HER THROAT.

Despondent over illness, Mrs. Fannie Finemen, 55 years old, 1411 South Drake avenue, yesterday slashed her throat with a razor. She was removed to Mount Sinai hospital.

$9 JALOPY DRIVER GETS PROBATION IN GIRL'S DEATH

Must Finish His 6 Month Term, Judge Says.

William Hummel, 22 years old, 929 Belden avenue, the hit-and-run driver whose $9 jalopy killed Diane Ruehr, 7, of 2101 North Springfield avenue, May 20, yesterday was ordered placed on probation for two years by Chief Justice John A. Sbarbaro in Criminal court on a manslaughter charge. The judge acted on the recommendation of Assistant State's Atty. Julius Sherwin, who said Hummel is serving a six months' sentence in the Bridewell imposed by Judge William V. Daly in Safety court for leaving the scene of an accident.

Judge Sbarbaro ordered that Hummel serve the remaining two months of his sentence and said he would insist that Hummel's driving license be suspended for two years, which Sherwin said had been ordered.

Faces Loss of License.

A coroner's jury yesterday recommended that the driver's license of Arthur Hack, 17, of 1604 North Marshfield avenue, be revoked for one year after it had heard testimony in the inquest into the death of Margaret Lattanzio, 16, of 2022 Division street, who was fatally injured in a two car accident Aug. 23 at Hoyne and Potomac avenues. Hack was charged with reckless driving after the accident and the charge is pending against him.

Miss Lattanzio was wheeling her brother, James, 11 month old, when Hack's car hit a car driven by Frank Sakosky, 22, of 2309 Potomac avenue, forcing it to hit her. The baby was not injured seriously. Three witnesses testified Hack was driving at an excessive rate.

Driving Brings Lecture.

Edward Christophersen, 57 years old, 4431 North LaPorte avenue, one of five persons injured in an automobile collision on Monday at 59th street and Tripp avenue, died in Holy Cross hospital.

Howard Beesley, 49, a truck driver whose home was in Detroit, Mich., died in the Roseland Community hospital of injuries and burns suffered on Aug. 23 when his truck skidded and hit an Illinois Central suburban train at 121st street and Michigan avenue.

FOOD POISONING HOSPITALIZES 72 MILITARY POLICE

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 1 (AP).—Capt. Elmer Sherwood, public relations officer at Fort Benjamin Harrison, reported today 72 members of an army air corps military police batallion were stricken with food poisoning and were under observation in the post hospital. Sherwood said all were mild cases.

Sherwood attributed their illness to creamed eggs and toast served at breakfast, but added none of the men complained of ill effects until after a drill practice about 2 p. m.

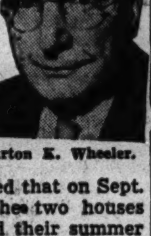
BY WILLIAM STRAND.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 1.—Sen. Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.] tonight reaffirmed his determination to force a showdown on the drafting of pre-Pearl Harbor fathers as soon as congress reconvenes later this month.



Burton K. Wheeler.

The Montana senator, an outspoken critic of any move to break up American homes, announced that on Sept. 15, the day after thee two houses are scheduled to end their summer recess, he will move for immediate consideration of his bill to prevent the taking of family men during the remainder of 1943.

Sen. Wheeler expressed confidence that the measure, already approved by the senate military affairs committee, will be adopted and that the father's draft will be postponed pending a full dress inquiry into the man power situation, one of the nation's most pressing problems.

Defers Fathers to Jan. 1.

Under Wheeler's bill no father with a child born or conceived before Pearl Harbor would be subject to conscription before Jan. 1, 1944.

Wheeler, reached by telephone at Missoula, Mont., asserted draft policies are the business of congress and not of the President and his administrators.

"We have been given no adequate reason for the raising of an army as large as that which it is proposed to raise thru the taking of fathers," he said. "The only thing we have heard is that it may have a good psychological effect when the world's leaders sit down at the peace table.

Due to Start Oct. 1.

"Certainly this is an insufficient reason for breaking up families and disrupting community life. As a practical consideration we already have more men under arms than can conceivably be transported to fighting fronts in many months. There just aren't enough shipping bottoms to carry any more."

Barring congressional action to forstall the move, the drafting of fathers will start Oct. 1 under directives issued by War Man Power Commissioner Paul V. McNutt. Issuance of the order brought a wave of protest from the country and demands for the drafting of all other categories before family heads are taken.

Meanwhile, there have been charges that thousands of men of draft age and without dependency obligations are working in government agencies and in industry, deferred from induction as "indispensable" in their present posts.

Wheeler's announcement is believed to foreshadow a stirring congressional battle over the entire problem, which in all probability will be coupled with a thoro airing of the administration's man power policies. Capital circles, including congressional floor leaders, concede that the Wheeler bill stands better than an even chance of approval in the senate.

DAY BY DAY ON THE FARM

The FARM by Ben Markland

Sept. 1, 1943.

IF THE birds, insects, furbearers, and live stock which live together on the Wheaton farm could publish their own newspaper, we're certain their society editor would have two choice items for current publication. One would concern the informal gathering of the waterfowl on Half Moon pond and the other would feature the new colony of bald faced hornets which recently has taken up residence in the east woods.

The waterfowl item would be the main story of the day. It's a tale about the elite of the barn yard, a Canada goose and four mallard ducks, holding a summer reunion after long separation. All had been together in the barn yard this spring, but one day in June the aloof old gander strolled away from the yard and back to the pond to meditate in solitude. Every time we hiked that way the old patriarch would be paddling around in the center of the pond or resting in the shade of the willows.

Gander Leads Colony.

This week he was joined by four of his old neighbors—the mallard ducks. Two hens and two drakes, undoubtedly leading members of the barn yard 400, were admitted to the gander's company, and when last seen were paddling obediently behind the aged leader of the waterfowl society crowd.

The ducks and geese, despite their friendliness to each other, could take a lesson in coöperative living from the bald faced hornets. Scientists believe that the social bees and wasps—those which build a common home—rank with the termites in the degree of coöperation exhibited by members of their community. They have at least a low grade of intelligence, as exhibited by their ability to defend their homes and care for their young.

Whereas most adult insects build individual homes and completely ignore their larvae and offspring, the social bees and wasps build a common home for their young, gather and store food which will be available to their offspring when they hatch, give their young regular baths, and guard them from attack.

Hornets Want No Callers.

Any one wishing to test this ability of the social wasps to guard their nests and offspring can disturb the complex paper nest which has been built by the bald faced hornets in the east woods of the Wheaton farm. We found it suspended from the lower branches of a sapling not far from the old windmill. The nest is about 10 inches long, built of a pulp secreted by the adults.

There is a "front door" half an inch in diameter about a third of the way up from the bottom of the nest cone, and altho the mythical society editor might publish a story about the new residents, we'd suggest that she urge her readers not to make a social call on the bald faced hornets unless their wardrobe includes a suit of armor.

★ The GARDEN ★

THE late August rains have given new life to the potato patch in the sample gardens on the Wheaton farm. The plants of the early Warba variety are completely dry and are being harvested as needed. The foliage of the other varieties, however, including the Chippewas, is almost as green as in midsummer. The foliage in all of the potato rows had started to dry prior to the last rains.

Gardeners who are growing potatoes can take advantage of recent rains by continued cultivation of their rows and elimination of weeds. The longer the plants remain green, the better are the prospects for heavy yields. The foliage still is absorbing energy from the sun while the foliage is green, and the tubers continue to grow. If only the main stem is green the plant still is partially active.

The foliage of the Warba potatoes in the farm gardens is so thoroly dry that visitors have to look twice to see the brown stems on the ground. In that stage the potatoes can be dug. The tubers remain in better condition in the ground than in a basement storage place during warm weather, however; so, unless needed for current use, can be left in the rows until freezing weather approaches.

TAKE POLICEMEN TO COURT TODAY IN SAILOR'S CASE

$50,000 Bonds Sought; Writ Dismissed.

Policemen Joseph Murray and William Hogan will be arraigned today in the Felony court on charges of assault to commit murder as a result of the shooting early Tuesday of Howard Darnell, 22 years old, a sailor, of Detroit, Mich. Conviction on the charge carries a penalty of 1 to 14 years in the penitentiary.

The charges were filed by the police yesterday soon after Atty. James M. Burke applied to Chief Justice John A. Sbarbaro of the Criminal court for release of Murray and Hogan on a writ of habeas corpus. The two men were taken before the chief justice by their commanding officer, Capt. John Howe of the Sheffield avenue station, who told the court he planned to file the assault charge immediately.

$50,000 Bonds to Be Asked.

Judge Sbarbaro dismissed the petition for a writ of habeas corpus and the policemen were taken back to the Sheffield avenue lockup, where they have been held since the shooting. Assistant State's Atty. James A. Brown said he would ask Judge Charles S. Dougherty of the Felony court to fix bonds at $50,000 each.

In addition to the criminal charge, Capt. Howe said he would draw up six charges against Murray and Hogan for filing with the police trial board. These charges are assault with intent to kill, intoxication, disobedience to orders, conduct unbecoming officers, willful maltreatment of a person, and unlawful use of a weapon.

The shooting occurred in a tavern at 2430 North Clark street. Darnell was wounded in the chest by a bullet from Murray's gun. At County hospital yesterday a navy spokesman said the young man will be ready for duty in two months unless complications arise. Darnell was visited during the day by his wife, June, a secretary in Detroit. Later he was removed to the navy section of Wesley Memorial hospital.

Warned of No Favors.

Capt. John Prendergast, chief of the uniform rank, said the men will be prosecuted like any other common criminals.

"We are not going to tolerate two drunken policemen who attempt to break up Chicago's good reputation," he continued.

"I told Murray and Hogan they were not to expect any favors. They might as well plead guilty. They are thru. I told them that we didn't need their statements; we have enough evidence to prove they are guilty."

JOCKEYS FREED ON BOND AFTER GIRLS' CHARGES

Five jockeys and exercise boys from Washington Park race track, booked by the county highway police yesterday in connection with the story of two Homewood girls, 16 and 12 years old, last night were released on security bonds signed by their employers pending their appearance before Justice of the Peace William F. Donahue next Wednesday in Homewood.

After the mother of the 16 year old had asked highway police to pick up her daughter at the race track, Patrolman John M. Woehral found her there and on her story they brought in a 12 year old girl, also from Homewood. The girls told of immoral acts near the track and accused the jockeys.

Martin, Darwin Massey, 17, Phoenix, Ariz.; Lyle Pierce, 18, Eau Claire, Wis., and Pliney Johnson, 17, Santa Rosa, Cal., were charged with contributing to the delinquency of the 16 year old girl. Albert Mou, 16, of 6238 South Morgan street, was turned over to the Juvenile court.

Martin's bond was set at $4,000 and the four others were released on $2,000 bonds. The justice set a preliminary hearing for 10 a. m. tomorrow, dependent on the appearance of Assistant State's Atty. Samuel A. Papanek, who was assigned to the case.

ALLMAN ORDERS POLICE TO CEASE OFF DUTY WORK

In an order sent to all police officials in Chicago yesterday Commissioner James P. Allman asserted that rule 378 of the police regulations that prohibits policemen from accepting jobs in addition to their police work is being violated.

He ordered that the regulation be read at roll calls and said that commanding officers would be held responsible for its enforcement.

The order followed an investigation last week that disclosed 300 policemen were working at part time jobs as express handlers while off duty.

You've Got the Idea, Chicago—thanks a lot!

Months ago we suggested group riding to Chicago folks because it saves rubber and gas. Many of our patrons have responded generously and are sharing their cabs with others. We are grateful for this patriotic gesture—besides, it saves them money!

R. H. T. writes: "I am a native of Oregon stationed over here in . . . . . and I'm wondering if any steps have been taken by my state to provide training and pay a bonus to its veterans?"

ANSWER: We recently made a survey of all the states to find out what had been done in the way of veterans' benefits. In a letter from Gov. Earl Snell of Oregon he states: "A measure passed by the legislature and submitted to the voters provides for college education for the veterans of World War II. The measure provides a payment of $75 the first month, and $50 thereafter for the continuing eight months of the first year, then $35 per month per school year for three subsequent years. The choice of school, private or public, is left to the decision of the veteran. Another measure provides for the purchase of homes or farms by the veterans from finances provided by the state up to the limitation of $3,500 for each veteran." The summary of Oregon's program, too long to appear here, does not mention a cash bonus. However, Oregon's program is by far the most advanced and liberal to be found in any state and the citizens of Oregon are to be commended.

O. A. B. writes: "I have recently been reclassified and since my reclassification the WMC has issued a list of 'almost draft proof' occupations. Is it necessary for my employer to ask my deferment each time my period is up, or does the fact of my employment in one of these jobs provide enough evidence to give me continued deferment,"

ANSWER: If your employer places you on a replacement training schedule, you'll go into service at the time indicated by your employer that he will have a trained replacement available. Otherwise your deferment will depend upon the employer filing forms 42-A and 42-B with your local board and keeping the deferment in force by renewal before you are reclassified.

C. L. writes: "I was inducted into the army Oct., 1942, and transferred to the inactive reserve about a week ago by reason of over age. I've carried and kept in force $10,000 insurance and wonder if it would be advisable for me to convert it now?"

ANSWER: In these days of uncertainty about the man power situation, and because you are subject to recall by the army, it might be better for you to convert half of the insurance at this time to 20 payment life or ordinary life because if you were recalled you could probably keep up the premiums and not have to sacrifice all of your insurance. The portion you converted would begin to accumulate a loan or cash surrender value. If you converted all of your insurance and are recalled to service, you can not reconvert it to the inexpensive 5 year level premium insurance you now have. We have a revised article on insurance we will gladly send on request if a self addressed stamped envelope is inclosed.

WAUKEGAN SUIT SAYS ALDERMAN KICKED HIS WIFE

Extreme and repeated cruelty was charged by Mrs. Bernice Welch in a suit for divorce filed in Lake county Circuit court in Waukegan yesterday against her husband, Joseph, 1408 Cornelia avenue, Waukegan, alderman of Waukegan's 4th ward and an insurance man. Thru Atty. Gerald C. Snyder, she charged that Welch kicked her, injuring a bone in the leg, in the summer of 1942, injured her spine by kicking her out of bed last May, and injured her arm and wrist in June by twisting her arm. She asked custody of their two children, Janet Marie, 13 years old, and James, 10, funds for their support, and alimony for herself.

URGE 3 PARTY CANDIDATE TO BEAT AURELIO

Bar Groups Backing A. L. P. Nominee.

New York, Sept. 1 [Special].—The chairmen of the judiciary committees of the Association of the Bar of the City of New York and the New York County Lawyers association, tonight issued a statement urging the Democratic, Republican, and American Labor parties to unite on Matthew M. Levy as a candidate for justice of the Supreme court.

After a meeting of the two committees, the two chairmen, John G. Jackson and Theodore Kriendl, declared that unless all political parties united on a single candidate the "admitted mistake" of the Republican and Democratic parties in nominating Magistrate Thomas A. Aurelio might result in his election. The American Labor party has nominated Levy, former municipal court justice, and there is now no way for him to withdraw as a candidate.

G. O. P. Backs Frankenthaler.

The reconvened Republican judiciary convention at the National Republican club nominated George Frankenthaler, prominent lawyer and member of the executive committee of the Republican state committee for the 1st judicial district, disregarding the plea of the bar association committees. Frankenthaler, however, had been declared to be qualified by the two committees. The reconvened Democratic judicial convention will be held at the National Democratic club tomorrow night.

Republicans used a double method of attempting to get Aurelio off their ticket. Besides rescinding the nomination of Aurelio and nominating Frankenthaler, the convention adopted a resolution asserting that Aurelio's statement that he knew nothing of Frank Costello's criminal background was not credible and contending that the magistrate had been guilty of fraud in concealing the fact that Costello had helped to get him the nomination.

Charge Aurelio Disqualified.

It was the further Republican contention that Aurelio, by so doing, had disqualified himself for the Republican nomination.

Paul Windels, former corporation counsel, asserted that the reconvening of the Republican and Democratic judicial conventions was illegal and that the political parties were heading into a situation that would result in the election of Aurelio. Windels suggested that the governor be asked to call a special session of the legislature to enact a law extending the time for Supreme court nominations in the first judicial district and authorizing the reconvening of the judicial conventions.

BOY'S BODY FOUND ON TRACKS.

The mangled body of a Negro boy, believed by police to be that of Jessie Nichols, 16, route 3, Pine Bluff, Ark., was found yesterday on the Illinois Central railroad tracks at 68th street, where he apparently had been struck by a train.

BOY OF 16 IS ACCUSED OF STEALING HORSE FOR A 10 MILE RIDE

A charge of horse stealing was filed in Lake county, Ill., yesterday for the first time in more than 40 years. John D. Toms, 16 years old, of Loon Lake, was alleged to have taken a thorobred mare, Star Rose, from a pasture 1½ miles northeast of Milburn. Jack E. Connelly, owner of the horse, signed the warrant, and bond was set at $1,000 by Justice of the Peace Harry Hoyt in Waukegan pending a hearing Sept. 9.

John D. Toms.

Deputy Sheriff Gene Palmieri said Toms quit his job on a farm near Milburn Monday and then rode Star Rose back there, leaving her at the foot of a hill while he got his clothes. Then he rode 10 miles, by a roundabout way, to his home at Loon Lake, where Star Rose was found in a shed yesterday. Toms said he was attached to the horse, which he said was formerly owned by a man named Hutchinson, on whose farm his family lived, and desired to ride her. He had given her a daily ration of hay, he said, and had intended to return her to the pasture yesterday.

Assistant State's Atty. Daniel Dalziel of Lake county said that, under Illinois law, horse stealing is punishable by imprisonment of three to 20 years.

KNIFE WIELDER RESISTS ARREST; SHOT IN THIGH

Ira Grace, 21 years old, Negro, of 3229 Cottage Grove avenue, was shot in the right thigh last night by Policeman Walter Green, Negro, of the Wabash avenue station. The shooting occurred at 40th street and South Park way, where, the policeman said, Grace resisted arrest and lunged at him with a knife.

Policeman Green was sent to the scene after a woman reported that a gang of young Negros was annoying women. He approached the group of half a dozen young men and told them to disperse. All obeyed except Grace. When the policeman told him he was under arrest, he drew a knife with a 3½ inch blade. The policeman then fired one shot.

Green was taken to the Bridewell hospital. Physicians said the wound was not serious.

HANGS HIMSELF IN HOME.

Klemens Parus, 32 years old, married and the father of one child, hanged himself yesterday in the attic of his home at 5218 May street. His wife, Jenny, told police he had been despondent because the army had rejected him as a volunteer.

MOTHERS FIGHT SCHOOL RAZING IN NEW SECTOR

As temporary peace descended on the one room portable Prussing school branch at Melvina avenue and Strong street yesterday, a new outbreak occurred at the Brownell school branch at 87th street and Michigan avenue, where irate mothers in the Garden Homes area barricaded three portable structures to prevent their dismantlement by board of education employes.

"Five members of our Parent-Teacher association had returned home after a conference with board of education officials, when we discovered workmen tearing down the sheet metal buildings," Mrs. M. J. Mitchell of 8816 Michigan avenue, said. "We thought we had saved the branch. Our children are too young to walk a mile to school in severe weather, and these portables have been there since the subdivision was opened."

Don C. Rogers, district superintendent in charge of building surveys and text books, told P.-T. A. representatives that abolishment of the three portables, which offer education from the first thru the 6-B grades, would save the school system $7,600 a year. "There are vacant rooms in the Dixon, Hookway and Ryder schools, all within one mile," he said, "and only 60 pupils are involved in the transfer. They will receive better education in the regular schools anyway," he added.

Demolition of the Prussing branch has been halted for two weeks, until the next scheduled meeting of the board of education, when mothers will present their side of the issue.

ADVISES YOUTHS TO QUIT JOBS AS SCHOOL STARTS

High school students who obtained full time war jobs this summer were warned yesterday by William H. Spencer, regional director of the war man power commission, against the health hazards of working at their jobs after returning to school.

"This practice would be most unfortunate and the student who attempts it would be jeopardizing his health," Spencer said. He said he will call a conference of educators, employers, and labor union leaders in the Chicago area to draft a program to discourage children under 18 from sacrificing their educational opportunities during war time.

He emphasized that the 16 to 18 age group is not necessary for the nation's work force and that students under 16 years old must remain in school under Illinois law. The WMC does not object to part time work if proper health precautions are taken, he said, but would limit work to 4 hours a day.

DEFERS HEARING OF RAPE CHARGES AGAINST 5 MEN

A hearing of rape charges against five men who are alleged to have abducted a 23 year old woman at 38th street and Western avenue from two male escorts early Sunday after slugging one of her companions, was continued yesterday to Sept. 10 by Judge Charles S. Dougherty in Felony court. The defendants are Walter Sheraty, 33, 4950 South Justine street; Vincent Cibulski, 38, 4430 South Hermitage avenue; Pvt. Allen Kropp, 27, 4634 Bishop street; Henry Przyblski, 26, 4524 South Marshfield avenue, and John Izral, 35, 5234 South Francisco avenue. Izral is the only one of the five without a police record.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Miss B., a case worker on the South side of Chicago, has asked our assistance for an elderly couple. Their only income is from an assisting agency and, because the woman is an invalid, their present quarters on the third floor are most inconvenient for them. She has had the use of an old wheel chair for many years, but it is now worn beyond repair and as a result she has not been out of the house for the last four months, since she is unable to walk. The case worker will arrange transportation if any reader can provide a wheel chair.

Another appeal from the south side comes from Mrs. S., who is the mother of seven children. The youngest child is 2 years old and delicate. It is imperative that she have plenty of fresh air and sunshine. It is impossible for the mother to be out with her, but if some reader can provide a stroller the older children could keep her outdoors for at least a part of the day.

Mrs. M. is in need of a baby buggy. She is the mother of four children, including a baby 8 months old. The family was self-supporting until her husband was injured in an accident. He has been unable to work for some time and they cannot afford a buggy for the baby. The address is north of the loop.

Ice Fund Sends 318,800 Lbs. to Needy of City

A total of 318,800 pounds of ice was supplied to the needy and ill of the city from May 1 thru Aug. 1, as the result of contributions to THE TRIBUNE's Ice Fund. Since May of this year, $1,046.50 has been sent to the fund. Collected by THE TRIBUNE, the fund is administered by the United Charities.

The largest of the gifts was $250, sent by the president of an ice concern. The contribution was accompanied by a note from a man who knew intimately the comfort and relief the ice brought to the city's unfortunates.

The smallest of the contributions was 50 cents. Its donor was a grateful woman, just six months removed from the United Charities relief roles. She brought her donation in person, because she wasn't able to write well. She explained that hers wasn't a large gift, because she wasn't yet able to make a large gift. She hoped it would help some one. And it did. It provided 100 pounds of ice for a destitute woman, who needed it sorely for packs to comfort her in illness, and to keep fresh the food the charities provided.

During May, 97 families received free ice. In June, 116 were supplied. During July, this figure rose to 122, and in August it reached 135. In addition, $100 was given to the Infant Welfare association, and $25 to the Children's Memorial hospital.

Donations to the Camp Algonquin fund this year totaled $938.34. This sum, also supplied by readers of THE TRIBUNE, provided vacations for 67 of the 1,200 children who spent two week periods at the United Charities' Camp Algonquin on the Fox river. These children were from all parts of poorer Chicago. It costs $1 per day to house and feed a camper. Transportation to and from the camp was donated.

The drive for next year's camp and ice funds already has been launched. Contributions should be sent to THE TRIBUNE. They will be acknowledged in these columns.

WMC Aids Urge Working Women to Stick to Jobs

Washington, D. C., Sept. 1 (AP).—The nation's working women were urged tonight by war man power commission officials to stay on their war jobs "despite drudgery, monotony, and homemaking difficulties"—and even if their work holds few glamorous moments.

Participating in a discussion in a radio forum on a national hookup were Miss Margaret Hickey, chairman of the WMC women's advisory committee; R. Randall Irwin, executive assistant to the management members of the WMC management-labor policy committee, and Miss Elisabeth Christman, alternate member of the WMC women's advisory committee and secretary-treasurer of the National Women's Trade Union League of America.

Miss Hickey said women in surplus labor areas should "stay right where they are unless the local United States employment office tells them to move." The labor needs in already jammed war production centers, Miss Hickey added, "must be filled by women non-workers already in the overcrowded community."

Irwin, assistant to the vice president of the Lockheed and Vega Aircraft corporation, said that one California aircraft factory "is losing women employees faster than it can hire them."

"It is not enough for a woman merely to take a war job," he said. "It is just as important, if not more important, that she stick to it."

Miss Christman reported that in production centers she has visited "men and women have not complained but they have said they needed more reasonable leeway to look after the necessary things without being branded 'absentees'."

"In many cases we find the cause to be rooted not in the worker but in plant conditions, long hours of work, inefficient management, and in community conditions," she said.

New U. S. Aid Expands War Nursery Setup

An expanded program under which the city's facilities for the care of children of working mothers were broadened to include children up to 14 years of age was outlined yesterday by Superintendent of Schools William H. Johnson. The plan is being made possible by increased federal funds, offer of which was acknowledged by Supt. Johnson yesterday. The original child care plan, as set up last May, covered nursery school children who were more than 2 but less than 6 years old.

The new allotment offer, which was made over the signature of L. A. Gillett, regional director of the federal works agency, is for $272,056 designated "for assistance in maintenance and operation" of the city's war time child care facilities from May 1, 1943, to Dec. 31, 1943.

This figure will include any unexpended balance of the $130,876 allotted last spring for the operation of the war time nursery school program under which 11 centers have been maintained nearly all summer. The board of education has received two checks from this original grant—one for $32,719 on June 8 and a second for $15,000 on Aug. 20.

All federal contributions to the program, however, carry the stipulation that 50 per cent of the operating costs of the day care centers must be defrayed by fees or other local aid.

The entire program, which is known as the Child Care Services for Children of Working Mothers—Chicago Board of Education, is divided into two parts now that the older children are included. Under the war time nursery school schedule, the 2 to 6 age group receive all day care and lunch for $2.50 per week.

The second part of the program, which is known as the Extended School Services, provides before school care, lunch, and supervised after school recreation for the 6 to 14 year old children at rates of $1.50 per week.

The extended school service centers will be opened as demand arises. In general, an advance enrollment of 100 is considered necessary to warrant opening a center in a public school. One is already in operation, however, at Lafayette school, 2714 Augusta boulevard, and registrations will be open next week for a second at Sullivan school, 8255 Houston avenue.

Mrs. L. Robert Mellin is the school board member who has been active in guiding the nursery school program and the present extension of facilities to older children. The nursery schools are located in Lafayette and Sullivan schools, Christopher house, Newberry center, Jewish Peoples institute, Howell Neighborhood house, Baptist Missionary Training school, Abraham Lincoln center, Parkway Community center, Hyde Park Neighborhood house, and South Chicago Community center.

Plan to Draft Women Attacked as Unfair; Campaign Is Urged

The proposed draft of women for forced labor was assailed as unfair yesterday by Mrs. Anne V. Zinser, chairman of the women's executive committee of the state office of public instruction. Speaking at a luncheon at the Merchants' and Manufacturers' club, she told 10 representatives of women's organizations and industry that if women were made to realize the importance of getting a job, they would accept the challenge immediately, without the need of conscription. She urged the women's group to spread the message.

Mrs. W. M. Rennie, president of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. Theodore Gleichman, president of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers, and Mrs. Henry C. Dormitzer, vice president of the Woman's City club, announced plans to carry the message to members of their organizations immediately. A committee of seven women from industry will work with them.

A bill to conscript women is expected to be introduced in congress when it reconvenes Sept. 14.

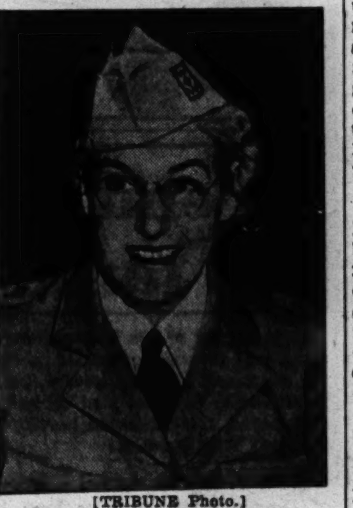
Women in War Work

By Kate Massee

The WOWs [Woman Ordnance Workers] are growing by leaps and bounds in the Chicago area, according to Mrs. Caroline W. Budinger, executive secretary. Six new posts, recently organized in war plants, have brought in 2,100 new members.



[TRIBUNE Photo.]

MRS. CAROLINE W. BUDINGER.

The WOWs were founded last September at the Hurley Machine company in Cicero, and since that time posts have sprung up all over the country. The organization's aim is to put war work by women on a patriotic basis, to combat absenteeism, and to make women workers in war plants feel that they are living up to the WOWs' motto: "The Girls Behind the Men Behind the Guns." Each post adopts patriotic projects, which include drill formations in snappy uniforms.

The new WOW posts in the Chicago area and their leaders are: Stewart Warner corporation, Pauline Repta; Jefferson Electric company, Madelene Seifert; Pyle-National company, Mrs. Grace Ciesielski; Silver Fleet Motor Express, Inc., Elaine Soukup; Hawley Products company, Mrs. Inger Loland, and Elgin National Watch company, Elgin, Mrs. Claudia E. Anderson.

Have you any silk or nylon stockings that are "on their last legs"? Hurry them to a salvage collection depot. The campaign to collect such hosiery will close on Sept. 30 because no nylon or silk hose have been manufactured for many months and most of the discards are in the scrap piles now.

Since the campaign began last winter, Illinois women have contributed 86,182 pounds of old silk and nylon stockings to make parachutes and powder bags. Total collections for the war production board region, which includes Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, and Indiana, amount to 278,681 pounds, or approximately 13 per cent of the national collection of 2,015,712 pounds.

Mrs. Homer R. Landau of 159 Beach street, Highland Park, has been devoting her artistic talents for the last six months to the USO club in the suburb. Her murals in colored chalk decorate the recreation room, the stairway hall, the craft shop, and the music room and depict scenery typical of each of the 48 states.

These sketches serve to ease the nostalgia in the hearts of service men and women who visit the center, men and women stationed at Fort Sheridan, Camp Skokie, the Glenview naval air station, and the Great Lakes naval training station.

In addition to decorating the club, Mrs. Landau, whose husband is a lieutenant [j. g.] in the navy, also draws posters forecasting coming events at the center. She studied art at the University of Wisconsin, the Milwaukee Art academy, the Chicago Art institute, and the American Academy of Fine Arts.

Dungarees and fatigue uniforms will be in evidence at the Highland Park center today, when service men and junior hostesses will be entertained at an old fashioned corn roast, to be held in a nearby forest preserve. A baseball game will be a feature of the day's program, of which Miss Kay Humer is chairman.

On Sunday a sandwich-salad supper will be served from 6 to 8 p. m., followed by a variety show under the direction of Mrs. J. C. Emma. Country dancing will be the principal entertainment at the center Monday evening. The Exmoor Country club will provide entertainment and refreshments for a party at the center Tuesday.

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MACKAY

Anchors Aweigh.

A short time ago Contributor Lil Oswald wrote a couplet, "Wacker Drive Window Gazer," voicing a yen to meet the skipper of the new Milwaukee Clipper.

From the skipper, via the White Collar Girl column, come two "courtesy cards" and a verse:

The attached pass
Is for the charming lass
Who wants to meet the skipper
Of the new Milwaukee Clipper.

And, by way of encouraging the young lady, another contributor, signing herself "Clipperette," chronicles her experience thus:

To report I've met the skipper
Of the new Milwaukee Clipper.
There's another of the crew
Who is quite a fellow, too,
He's the rhythmic leader of the Clipper band!

What is this, the Lonely Hearts column?

The Working Girl Protects Us.

"In any other business you'd call them 'hostesses,'" says the Boeing News, describing the 20 original women guards who check cars, inspect lunch boxes, examine credentials at the gates, and patrol the Boeing plants. Contrary to popular opinion the prerequisites for a woman guard do not include outsize biceps, craggy features, or an ability to handle a shillelah. The backgrounds of the women, now in gray-blue gabardine uniforms, include school teaching, nursing, clerking, bookkeeping, and housekeeping.

The idea that guard duty is a natural for women is set forth in a series of cartoons in the company magazine. Line drawings depict the man who comes in late, sees a woman guard, and tip-toes away [from force of habit shoes in hand] . . . the housewifely discussion of recipes while inspecting lunch boxes . . . the woman guard armed with a rolling pin . . . the woman guard inspecting the contents of another woman's purse with one experienced, competent glance whereas the men guards, formerly, were O, so confused.

The drawings might well be placarded in other war plants as one more step toward good humored acceptance of women workers.

A Secret.

"We all get a kick out of the typewriter drawings . . . BUT . . . please tell us what kind of jobs these people hold that they can figure out such things. . . . Funny, each time we try the boss is sure to walk by."—The 203 Gang.

"Where on earth do the guys and gals find time to try all these typewriter word combinations they write about?"—Peggy of Kelly's.

Dis and Data.

Smart stenos are making use of zone maps and pamphlets in sending out letters, which is remindful of the New Yorker tale of the girl who added "Temperate Zone" to all her letters. . . . News and Views, the employe publication of the Caterpillar Tractor company in Peoria, won the top award given by the United States Flag association for the best of 1,600 industrial flag covers. . . . In Great Britain every factory employing more than 250 persons must provide a warm noonday meal.

Welles Park Club.

The Welles Park Women's club will meet in the home of Mrs. Carl F. Wagner, 2730 Giddings street, next Wednesday. The members have nearly completed two afghans for Bundles for America.

Household Forum

By Louise Bargelt

Mrs. Fred T., Milwaukee, Wis.—It would certainly be a comfort if, after the war, all lavatories were manufactured as combination units; with hamper for soiled clothes below lavatory basin and medicine cabinet—out of sight, of course, when not in use.

Mrs. Charles Mason, Hancock, Mich.—Have four transparent table mats no longer suitable for use. Now I'm using them to protect linoleum under garbage can and dog's tray. They keep linoleum from becoming discolored, and don't disfigure floor.

Mrs. Ellen T., Chicago—I had a lot of trouble with light streaks showing up on blue garments, especially dark colored ones, when I starched them. Now I put a little bluing in my starch and it tints it sufficiently to avoid the streaking.

Only 2 Hunts to Operate in Chicago Area

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE news that the Fox River Valley Hunt will not meet this fall leaves only two hunts that will be operating in the Chicago area this season, the Wayne-Du Page and the Longmeadow Hounds. The Fox River Valley managed to keep going last year, but gasoline restrictions and other war time difficulties will prevent any formal meetings this year. The hunt is not disbanding, however, but just waiting for more favorable times to resume meetings, and its members who live in the northwest suburbs will continue to be seen about the countryside on their horses.

When the Wayne-Du Page meets on Sept. 19 at the kennels in Wayne for its first run of the year, Mrs. Corwith Hamill and McClure Kelley will be serving as whippers-in, replacing Arthur Farwell and Raymond O. Mitchell, who are on active duty with the navy. Mrs. Hamill's post is an unusual one, for it has been years since the Wayne-Du Page has had a feminine whip. The army as well as the navy has taken its toll of hunt members, but about 20 enthusiastic sportsmen are left to ride this year. For the duration the group has ruled out hunter trails. Charles R. Lindsay III. continues as m. f. h.

Longmeadow Season.

The Longmeadow opened its 21st season at 6:40 a. m. yesterday and, despite the early hour, found the going uncomfortably hot. The group will have a reduced war schedule, with short hunts on Saturdays, informal runs on Wednesdays, and a special meeting on Labor day morning, also at the same early hour. Ernest S. Ballard is m. f. h. of the Longmeadow, which will carry on in the simplest manner possible.

The Longmeadow also has a feminine whipper-in, Miss Patsy Blackett. Its first whipper-in is Randall Poindexter, who held that post before he and Mrs. Poindexter moved to Long Island a few years ago. They just have returned to Chicago. While in the east Mr. Poindexter was m. f. h. of the Smithtown Hunt on Long Island. Mr. Poindexter also serves as hunt secretary. Freeman Wood is honorary huntsman and Frank F. Kolbe is treasurer.

The several Longmeadow members who are in service are carried on the club's roster and hunt whenever they are in town, as Lt. Henry W. Meers of the navy is doing now. Away for the duration are Lt. [j.g.] Ellis A. Ballard, Sub-Lt. William Barker of the R. C. A. F., Lt. [j.g.] Frank F. Fowle Jr., Maj. William E. Looby, a doctor serving overseas, Lt. Lockwood Pirie of the navy, Maj. Clifford Templeton, and Ensign Barrett Wendell III.

Here and There.

Encouraging reports have been received by the Chicago relatives of Mrs. Otis L. Hubbard [Ethel Johnston] on the progress of her infant son, born prematurely last Friday in Camden, Me., where Mrs. Hubbard has been visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. Hubbard Dodge. Lt. Hubbard, the baby's father, is at sea. Mrs. Hubbard and the baby will come back to Lake Forest to live this fall. Her brother, Lt. Hugh M. Johnston, and Mrs. Johnston are occupying the family home in State parkway.

Mrs. Walter S. Strong's son, David, entered the army recently and has gone to Camp Grant. Aviation Cadet Robert P. Coffin of the navy has been graduated from preflight school and has gone to Moffett field, California, to a lighter-than-air school. Later he will go to Lakehurst, N. Y. His fiancée, Miss Betty Magie, and his mother, Mrs. Charles H. Coffin, went to Iowa for

This swank copy of an officer's great coat, made of wide wale corduroy, has the streamline and fitted precision of the army original. Janssen, Conductor Ousted by Hitler, to Take U. S. War Job

Hollywood, Cal., Sept. 1 (AP).—Nine years ago Adolf Hitler ousted Werner Janssen as guest conductor of the Berlin Philharmonic orchestra and ran him out of the reich because the noted musician-composer refused to eliminate Mendelssohn's Third Symphony from his programs.

Now Janssen is ready to take a measure of revenge: The conductor, who can and does earn thousands of dollars weekly thru his film, radio, and concert commitments, announced today he is going to work as a swing shifter for the Douglas Aircraft company at $45 a week.

"I passed my examinations yesterday and I'm very proud of it," Janssen said. "I go to work at 4:15 p. m. tomorrow. I'm carrying my lunch, and I'll be thru at 12:45 in the morning. I'll stick with the job, if they'll have me, until the war is over, and I'll take a great deal of pleasure in thinking that I'll have a small part in building the bombers which are helping to make things miserable for Adolf."

Velveteen and Corduroy Here for Fall Wear

BY REA SEEGER.

Velveteen and corduroy, in a glamorous array of colors, are the first fall arrivals to tempt shoppers hunting for a beginning toward a fall and winter wardrobe. The first smart two piece suit dresses are here, creations of utter simplicity, to best dramatize the lush fall colors and the beauty of the smooth or ribbed corduroy and velveteen.

New one piece dresses clicked instantly with the college girls and equally pleased the shopping careerists. For these sleek streamlined fall beauties reflect the pared down yardage of war time and the slender silhouette so becoming to the American figure line.

All shades of beige and caramel are top favorites, some tailored with precision details, accented only with buttons and belt of the same material as the dress. Others go a trifle dress parade with gold metal or bronze buttons, trimmed belt, and perhaps a decorative appliqued design along shoulder sections or along the side hip sections of the simple, flared skirt. Many are of the shirtwaist variety, and others feature the rounded semi-raglan shoulders with sleeves that are wide, loose and three-quarter length.

The smartest and newest fall coats are of corduroy, the corduroy of wide wale rib, handsome fabric particularly suited for three-quarter or full length box type coats and swanky fitted officer's coats with wide collar, cuffs, vertical pockets, and regulation swagger lines of the G. I. originals. They are priced modestly and will be ready for duty with silk or crepe dresses right now and with suits also designed for immediate fall wear.

Junior League Transfer

Thru the Looking Glass

A Mrs. L., who gave no further address to which we might reply by mail, has asked us frantically what she should do to ameliorate what she describes as the really shocking effects of a bad hair tint.

All we can suggest is that she go back to the beauty shop where the deed was done. It may be that the manufacturer of the product used has provided instructions for removing it; there may even be a special preparation that is to be used as a remover. In any case, the beauty operator will know and will be able to use far more skill than any one else in repairing the damage.

We think it is rather too bad that there is not greater distinction made nowadays between the words "tint" and "dye," if for no other reason than that nine women out of ten believe that a tint bears little or no actual relation to a dye. Most women think that a tint is an amiable little rinse, that if they don't like its effect the next shampoo will take care of everything. The truth is that many "tints" are actually dyes and should be handled as such.

Not that a woman should feel that hair dyeing is a shameful business. It isn't. But it's not anything to be undertaken casually, at the hands of the inexpert. And before a woman permits the application of anything to her hair that will affect its color she should satisfy herself that the operator is a good one, that the product is ditto—and that she knows what she is letting herself in for. Changing the color of hair can be like getting it cut off—it's irrevocable at least until nature takes its course in producing new growth.

Field Museum to Mark 50th Year Sept. 15

BY HARRIETT PRIBBLE.

The most important social event in the history of the Field museum will take place on Sept. 15, when the board of trustees entertains at a reception to mark the 50th anniversary of the museum's founding.

Sept. 16, 1893, was the date on which the institution, then known as the Columbian Museum of Chicago, received its charter. Since the anniversary date falls this year on a public day at the museum, the cards which have been mailed to the museum's 4,300 members actually are for a "birthday eve" party.

The 8:30 p. m. program will begin in the James Simpson theater with addresses by Robert Maynard Hutchins and Franklyn B. Snyder, presidents of the University of Chicago and Northwestern university, respectively, and by Albert E. Parr, who is coming here from New York, where he is director of the American Museum of Natural History.

Later the trustees and their wives, headed by President and Mrs. Stanley Field, will greet the guests in Stanley Field hall, where there will be music and refreshments. The visitors also will be invited to preview the museum's international photographic exhibit, "Lenses on Nature," and a monolith on the progress of the museum over 50 years, which will be open to the public the following day.

Dr. Wilfred H. Osgood, curator emeritus of zoölogy, will introduce the speakers. Brief talks also are to be made by Mr. Field and Orr Goodson, acting director. If the museum's director, Col. Clifford C. Gregg, can obtain leave from his army post at Camp Hood, Tex., he also will be among the speakers.

The institution's venerable history dates back to its founding at the close of the Columbian exposition by the late Marshall Field. Its first home was the former Fine Arts building of the 1893 world's fair in Jackson park. When the fair closed the building was turned over to the museum, which was opened to the public on June 2, 1894, under the directorship of the late Dr. Frederick J. V. Skiff.

The present building in Grant park received its first lines of visitors on May 2, 1921. Edward E. Ayer, Harlow N. Higinbotham, and Mr. Field have served as presidents, the latter holding the post for the last 35 years.

Looking at Hollywood

—By Hedda Hopper

Hollywood, Cal., Sept. 1.—After proving once more to every one's satisfaction that he's an iron man, by working a 72 hour stretch scripting "Since You Went Away," David O. Selznick got John Cromwell on the telephone and tossed the directing job into his lap. . . . John is tops among David's favorite directors, having made him a mint of money with "The Prisoner of Zenda" and others. Word I get from the Selznick hive is that the "Since You Went Away" canvas has grown and grown under the impetus of the Selznick imagination until it promises to embrace the greatest drama America is living today—the drama of the home front in the grip of war. Cromwell, who gave us the unforgettable "Abe Lincoln in Illinois," has proved he can grasp the epic sweep of such a conception, can catch the spirit of exalted patriotism which now activates the nation. . . . Dan O'Shea, David's general manager, said: "Look here, David, you may be as strong as a bull and all that, but there's no sense in killing yourself to prove it."

Romance in Bloom.

Who said Joyce Reynolds is just a demure little former co-ed with her mind on chocolate malts? Ten minutes' conversation with little Joyce convinced me that the girls of today are on their romantic toes every second. Right now she's wearing a set of silver spurs from Lt. Ritchie Mark, with the cavalry at Fort Bliss, and just below them wings from Lt. Al Knox, with the paratroopers at Fort Benning. Both boys are from U. C. L. A., Joyce's own school, and there are at least half a dozen other swains in the offing and in the running. Meanwhile, Joyce's career is doing all right, too, with her being okayed for the lead in "Jamie," a major enterprise of Warner Brothers.

Players Making Hay.

Allyn Joslyn and Hillary Brooke are two Twentieth Century-Fox players who would be powerful candidates if an award were offered for the fastest progress in a year. Joslyn came off Ernst Lubitsch's "Heaven Can Wait" with a completely refurbished career, plus a very flattering new contract. Now he's being tested by John Farrow to play Hitler in "Hitler's Gang" at Paramount. Many another actor was thought of for this role, but Allyn's work as a Nazi in "The Wife Takes a Flyer" has almost cinched it for him. . . . And now Buddy De Sylva has reached over to Twentieth Century also to grab Miss Brooke and place her under a term ticket. Impressed by her "Jane Eyre" chore, he tossed her into "Standing Room Only" and Fritz Lang's "Ministry of Fear," with such excellent results that now he's combing the literary market for a story suited to her.

Traveling Light.

How'd you like two dresses for the price of two dozen? No bargain? Paulette Goddard wouldn't agree. She huddled for weeks with Edith Head, Paramount's famous designer, who finally came up with a stroke of genius, turning out a brace of "convertibles" for Paulette, creations that can be worn day times, for luncheon, shopping, dinner, and finally the swankiest kind of opera or night clubbing ventures. Idea is that Paulette, having just finished "Standing Room Only," is hieing for Mexico City by plane to hobnob with the international set, then on to New York for the fall shows and a tour of service hospitals. Ten thousand miles with an overnight bag, and always something to wear!

Vacation Notes.

Fred MacMurray, who also has just finished "Standing Room Only," is off for his ranch at Albion, Cal., and Joan Fontaine, who grows her own scallions on 160 acres near Indio, is going down that way when she's thru with "Frenchman's Creek." Gladys Robinson hopes she can get Joan to join her desert battalion and dance with the soldiers who go thru almost literal hell on the desert. . . . Ramsay Ames' deep sunburn comes in mighty handy now that she's been handed her greatest opportunity in "The Mummy's Tomb," with Acquanette going thru a breakdown. . . . Coincidence: Nazimova made her first film 27 years ago for Lewis J. Selznick—"War Brides," also marking the debut of Dick Barthelmess. Now she's to work for L. J.'s son, David, in "Since You Went Away."

SYNOPSIS: On the beach of Dunkirk, Ronnie Banks leaves a wounded soldier for dead, after robbing him of his notecases. Upon Ronnie's arrival in London he deserts, takes possession of Alan Conyers' flat in Emberley court, assumes his identity, and engages in a romance with Maria de Santos, a wealthy Argentine widow, who lives next door. Ronnie goes to see his adoring mother, learns the military police are after him, also that Goldie, the wife he has deserted, is repaying her for the money she borrowed for their child's funeral. June Merrill, Alan Conyers' English cousin, calls to make the acquaintance of her American relative, and invites him for the week-end at Priory cottage. Ronnie is captivated. Maria bursts in upon them and creates a jealous scene. Meeting his lance corporal, Ronnie bluffs him into believing he is Alan Conyers. With his usual luck, Ronnie succeeds in withdrawing Alan's money from the bank. At the Merrills he courts June. After loaning John Merrill 50 pounds, he claims a kiss from June, who is resentful. The real Alan Conyers appears at Priory cottage, his memory gone. The only clue to his identity is the name and address of John Merrill. Mention of the real Alan's home town upsets the sick man. Returning from Priory cottage, Ronnie sees Maria who has arranged for their early marriage and sailing. One morning Ronnie orders a breakfast tray sent up, and Goldie is the new waitress who brings it. She knows of Maria's plans and demands cash, which Ronnie is forced to give her. Ronnie leaves Emberley court and takes quarters at an inn near the Merrills. June visits the real Alan. Ronnie is infuriated and says the man without a memory is an absconding bank clerk from his home town. Ronnie visits Alan at the hospital and announces his engagement to June. He conveys to June a false message of farewell from Alan.

INSTALMENT XXII.

RINGS ACQUIRED.

Ronnie Banks, taking it for granted that June would marry him, set forth the next day to acquire the engagement and wedding rings.

On the train to town he might have been observed with his jaws working vigorously, and if anybody noticed the rhythmic movement they would have surmised that he had fallen a victim to the chewing gum habit. But when he had picked the West End shop he deemed suitable—it was a tiny one—the sticky lump of gum was stuck inside one of his cuffs. There was only one man serving in the little shop.

In a swift glance, Ronnie assured himself that there was no mirror facing the counter. A friend of his had put him on to this trick and warned him against the pitfalls.

Gladly the old jeweler greeted him, for he was the first customer of the day, and it was now well past 1 o'clock.

Already Ronnie had chosen one when he looked over the array in the window, but to all intents and purposes it was another ring he pretended to select, a solitaire diamond priced at 95 pounds.

He bargained it down to 80 pounds, but, regretfully, the jeweler said he could not take a check, altho Ronnie had the Unity bank's book half out of his pocket.

He asked if the jeweler would set the ring aside until tomorrow, when he would bring the cash. The jeweler said yes, gladly, but he would require a small deposit, and after some haggling accepted five pounds instead of the 20 he had at first asked.

Even there Ronnie scored, for he got a wedding ring which cost two pounds, and the jeweler kindly allowed the price of that to be deducted from the deposit.

Already the ring which had been deemed worthy of June Merrill's finger was now imbedded in the wad of chewing gum which had been pressed to the under side of the ledge of the counter.

How long would it take the old fool to find out he had been robbed?

Good work, my lad. Your luck held again, didn't it? Just as it had held yesterday, all along the line.

Thinking of Mum his eyes smarted a little. Good old Mum. How he wished he could show June off to her. But of course that wasn't possible. Only, she would be so proud to see what a lovely girl he was going to marry—if he hadn't been already married. He was marrying a lady, this time.

Strange to say, however, it was Goldie who was much in his thoughts as he made his way back to Twickenham. Goldie hadn't had an engagement ring and had been glad to buy the wedding ring, herself. Those had been quite happy days, tho, even if they had set up housekeeping in two rooms, furnished on the never-never plan.

O, blast Goldie—she'd got her own back and something more in the long run.

June, biding her time, appeared to be pleased with her ring. It was far less costly, however, than the solitaire diamond Ronnie had pretended to the jeweler was his choice. He had had a two-fold reason for this; one was because the jeweler at a casual glance would have been less likely to miss a more modestly-priced one; and another reason was because he could apologize to June for its not being as imposing as he would have liked. She would thus get a hint that his present resources were a little straitened.

All that remained now was for her to name the day.

She felt guilty and treasonable to her own better nature when she told Ronnie that he, himself, could name it, since he had important arrangements to make. She had been to Belhampton and seen "Richard Rose" again, and practically bared her heart to him, telling him that she really did not want to marry her cousin, but that she and her father were heavily indebted to him—yes, and to his father, Tom Conyers, in the past. The man who had lost his memory had behaved strangely, it seemed to her. He kept repeating what she said in an excited way, and then a nurse had come along and asked her to leave, as obviously she was upsetting the patient. She had returned home deeply troubled and with a despairing heart.

The thought of those arrangements he had to make filled Ronnie with cold horror, for they entailed a visit to the American consulate and another to a travel bureau, and he had no means of telling whether Maria de Santos, in making her arrangements for almost an identical trip, had not already involved him by name in both places. There weren't so many such bureaus operating in London just now. Then, of course, June had to have a passport, and gone were the carefree days when a simple application obtained one of those important documents. Indeed, to get away from England at all, June Merrill would have to be June Conyers, and the wife of an American citizen before the country of her birth would permit her to leave its beleaguered shores.

The man at Belhampton had given June no encouragement to break her so-called engagement. Her father accepted her preoccupied manner as a tribute of her natural regret at parting from him. But as the old man reminded her, it would not be forever. He would be quite comfortable, meanwhile, with a daily woman to look after him, and secretly he was looking forward to the companionship of an old cronie of his who was coming to lodge with him.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 heart	1 spade	1 no trump	Pass
2 hearts	2 spades	Pass	Pass
4 hearts	Pass	Pass	Pass

West opened with the spade king. The ace won and declarer immediately led a trump to the ace and returned the trump 10, hoping for a 2-2 break. [Actually, he could have insured his contract by drawing only one round of trumps, then running the club suit and discarding on the fourth club, thus forcing East to waste a trump trick, but this plan was not at all attractive, depending as it did on a special distribution of cards.] East won the second trump lead, cashed the spade 10, which held, then after earnest thought, shifted to a club. Declarer won and now that the heart break had been revealed, he cashed his second club honor, then led to the club queen. When both opponents followed, the 13th club gave South a discard of his losing diamond and fulfilled his contract.

Aside from the fact that West, if he had been half awake, could have signaled with a high diamond on the second round of hearts, or overtaken the spade 10 to cash the diamond ace, and thereby resolved his partner's dilemma, it is still worthy of note that East, left purely to his own devices, should have defeated the contract. As he volunteered later, a diamond return from his K-J had appeared highly dangerous; declarer might have the ace and be given a free finesse. On more searching analysis, however, East should have realized that a diamond return, after cashing the spade 10, was not only safe but mandatory. On the bidding [specifically West's rebid of spades] it was obvious that declarer now held no more spades, and he had definitely shown seven hearts. Thus he was marked with precisely four cards in the minor suits. West must have at least a king outside the spade suit to come close to justifying his bidding, hence declarer could not possibly hold the A-K of clubs and the ace of diamonds. If he held the A-x of diamonds and the A-x of clubs, a diamond return by East would cost a trick but—and here was the crucial point—the contract would still be defeated because declarer would have to concede a club trick. Even if declarer's holding was A-x-x in diamonds and the blank ace of clubs, a diamond return by East would not be fatal, because he would still have a sure diamond trick in the K-J.

The one danger confronting East was that declarer might hold the A-K-x of clubs, just as he did, and that he would be able to discard a diamond on dummy's fourth club. Thus, East should have aimed all his efforts against that possible South holding, and after cashing the spade 10, should have shifted to diamonds.

Cinnamon isn't the only spice and flavoring we can use to add pungence to these desserts. Have you ever tried cooked apples seasoned with mace? Mace lends a more intriguing flavor than nutmeg, I think. Grated orange or lemon rind is another pleasant accent for aplesauce, especially when the sauce is made from bland flavored apples which seem to need a little pepping up.

A trace of vanilla often is appealing. And if you can get maple sirup or maple sugar to sweeten your aplesauce, you have an epicure's dream of a perfect dessert.

Children often are fond of applesauce sweetened and flavored with crushed or broken peppermint stick candy or pillow mints. Red cinnamon candies color the sauce and add pepperiness.

These suggestions are not made with the opinion that plain applesauce really needs any flavor accent. If made from apples which have a fine flavor of their own, sauce, pie, or cobbler needs no dressing up other than a few flecks of cinnamon or mace.

Apple Custard Pie.

1 baked 9 inch pie shell
1⅓ cups strained, unsweetened applesauce
½ cup milk
1 tablespoon margarine
3 slightly beaten egg yolks
1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon mace

Mix sugar, flour, spices. Add to applesauce and other ingredients and cook in the top of a double boiler to a thick custard, stirring constantly. Chill immediately, then fill baked crust. Serve pie cold and plain, or top with a meringue made by beating 3 egg whites until stiff and folding in gradually 6 tablespoons sugar. Brown under moderate broiler or in 350 degree oven for 15 minutes.

This custard filling may be mixed, poured into an unbaked shell, and the pie baked 10 minutes at 425 degrees, then until firm at 350 degrees.

If you can't spare fat for pie crust, make the custard filling, chill it, and serve it as a pudding dessert.

Quick Apple Pudding.
[Serves six.]

3 tart apples, pared and chopped
1 cup white or brown sugar
¾ cup flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
1 egg, beaten
About ⅓ cup milk
2 tablespoons melted margarine or bacon drippings

Mix sugar with apples. Sift flour, baking powder, and salt. Add milk and fat to beaten egg, and add all at once to dry ingredients. Add apples and sugar, stirring in well. Bake in a greased cake pan at 350 degrees for about 25 minutes. Serve warm with cream. Raisins or currants may be added. Chopped nuts are another possible addition.

Rolled Apple Pancake.
[Serves four.]

2 eggs
⅓ teaspoon salt
¾ cup flour
1 cup milk
2 tablespoons fat
1½ cups thick, sweetened applesauce, heated
Confectioners' sugar

Beat eggs until thick and light. Beat in salt and flour, then milk, adding it gradually. Melt fat in heavy skillet in the oven; pour in batter and bake at 400 degrees until pancake puffs and begins to brown at edges. Reduce heat to 350 degrees. Bake about 20 minutes altogether. Transfer pancake to hot plate, spread with applesauce, roll and dust with confectioners' sugar.

Individual rolled pancakes made from this mix, or any prepared pancake flour are nice filled with thick applesauce. Pancakes may be kept warm in the oven until time for dessert. They needn't be made immediately before serving.

Good Morning!

"So fought the heroes of Bataan!" says a title.

You believe it.

This picture is not "Hollywood." It IS Bataan!

Dedicated to the gallant defenders of the island, it is a monument not to them alone but, to my way of thinking a memorial to the consecrated efforts of players and a director who were selfless in their determination to perpetuate remembrance of some of the greatest heroism history has known. . . . They have brought Bataan, with all its agony and all its glory, home to the individual and made it a matter of personal fury, pride, and inspiration.

Thirteen men are detailed to blow up a bridge and cover evacuation of Gen. MacArthur's men from the peninsula. . . . Sgt. Bill Dane, a seasoned and capable soldier, is in command of the mixed company. . . . One [Lloyd Nolan] is a fugitive criminal with whom—under another name—Dane has had dealings before. One [Robert Walker] is a gabby, sunny, enthusiastic kid from Texas. . . . One is a Negro soldier. . . . And so on. Corp. Feingold [Thomas Mitchell] is Dane's right hand man. . . . The captain [Lee Bowman] who makes a bit part shine, is killed shortly after he has placed Dane in command of the patrol.

Suspense mounts high and throbs like an aching tooth as, in the fetid jungle, the men wait—and fight—and wait again. . . . The little company dwindles—one by one—until only Sgt. Dane is left to defy the enemy with his tommy gun from the grave which he has dug for himself.

So many human incidents are cameoed! . . . The reception of Tommy Dorsey's music . . . The ever watchful association of Dane and the man now known as Todd. . . . "Sailor," cocky over getting his Japs, looks down and sees that the sticky stuff is his own blood—and turns suddenly into a lost, lonely little boy, fumbling blankly at his hurt. . . . Speechless with panic and pain he raises the grateful, wistful eyes of a homeless pup to—Todd, the criminal, who, in that moment does for him what his "Mum" would have done.

See you tomorrow.

A Tired Mother Should Endeavor to Simplify Job

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1943: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

After reading my recent article about mothers setting their work-a-day world in order so that they will not suffer from chronic overfatigue, I'm sure many overtired mothers might say:

"But Mrs. Bevans hasn't the slightest conception of how much I have to accomplish. I can't pass up a single chore. My husband leaves early in the morning and returns at all hours at night for meals. The housework has to be done and the children fed and cared for. I'm exhausted most of the time, but it just can't be helped."

But I do understand. I know what the cares of a house are. I know every step of taking care of a baby, a small child and a big one, too. I understand about managing on a budget, about city and country living, being closely confined to your family, and about sickness and money troubles. When I try to hold out a helping hand to overtired mothers I do it realizing all the difficulties they have to surmount.

But I also know that many situations that look like blind alleys aren't blind alleys at all. Either there's a big sunny opening you didn't see because you didn't go far enough, or there's a chink that can be widened to a good way out if you're absolutely determined to find one.

Each mother's problem is an individual one, of course. All I can do is to summon to mind my own experiences, those of my friends and of persons I've observed in a wide circle of contacts, and make some general suggestions.

Think and act constructively about your health. Go to a doctor if necessary. Call on your husband or relatives for assistance, coöperate with other mothers, or pay modestly—and it can be done—for occasional outside care or work.

Eliminate by cutting out all unnecessary housework, too elaborate meals or desserts the preparation of which takes time and energy. Don't dress the children fussily.

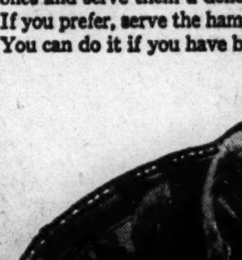
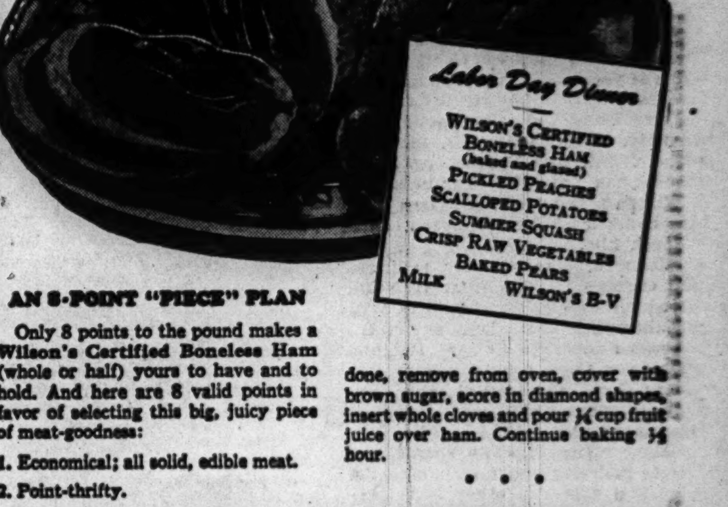
WILSON'S WEEKLY Bulletin
By George Rector
Food and Nutrition Consultant to Wilson & Co.



LET'S MAKE THE MOST OF LABOR DAY!

The last of our summer holidays deserves to be enjoyed to the fullest insofar as time and gas rationing permit. Celebrate the day at home with your loved ones and serve them a delicious home-cooked meal, featuring Boneless Ham. If you prefer, serve the ham hot on Sunday and as cold slices on Labor Day. You can do it if you have been budgeting your red points with this in mind.



AN 8-POINT "PIECE" PLAN

Only 8 points to the pound makes a Wilson's Certified Boneless Ham (whole or half) yours to have and to hold. And here are 8 valid points in favor of selecting this big, juicy piece of meat-goodness:

1. Economical; all solid, edible meat.
2. Point-thrifty.
3. You can buy any size piece you want—from a thin slice to a whole ham.
4. Minimum shrinkage, because it's smoked.
5. Wilson flavor and Wilson Certified quality down to the last, luscious bite.
6. Easy to prepare (see directions below).
7. Equally tasty, hot or cold. And you can use it down to the final sliver!
8. Highly nutritious—high in Vitamin B_1, the essential nerve vitamin.

• • •

Here's How I'd Do It

The menu given is not only simple to prepare and well balanced but it saves plenty of fuel. Most of it is cooked in the oven at the same time. Bake the ham at 300° F., allowing about 35 minutes per pound for a half ham or 45 to 55 minutes per lb. for a quarter ham or smaller. One-half hour before ham is done, remove from oven, cover with brown sugar, score in diamond shapes, insert whole cloves and pour ½ cup fruit juice over ham. Continue baking ½ hour.

• • •

Same High Quality Will Remain In All Wilson's Certified Products

For over 25 years the name Wilson's Certified has stood for the highest standard of quality in meat. Regardless of the scarcity of meat and the fact that almost any quality of meat is readily sold these days, Wilson & Co. have pledged themselves not to lower their standard of quality on a single Certified Product.

Just as Wilson's Certified Tender Made Ham, the famous "ham you cut with a fork," has always been tops in its field, so, too, will all Wilson's Certified Meats continue to remain loyal to this same high standard and uphold their unchallenged reputation for highest quality. Remember, Wilson's Certified Meats cost no more red points. There is no rationing of quality.

Sincerely, George Rector

HOLD BELLBOY AS NO. 1 SUSPECT IN WAC SLAYING

Hotel Employe Grilled at Length by Police.

BY ORVILLE DWYER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 1.—Robert Wolfington, 23 year old bell boy at the Claypool hotel here, was held on $2,500 bail on a vagrancy charge by Municipal Judge John L. McNeilis today after police informed the court he is a murder suspect in the Saturday night hotel rape slaying of WAC Corp. Maoma L. Ridings.

Judge McNeilis set 2 p. m. Friday for a hearing on the vagrancy charge. Later Detective Sgt. Fae Davis said questioning of Wolfington has disclosed "discrepancies" in the story previously told detectives by the suspect concerning his visit to the room of Corp. Ridings with a carton of ice about 6 p. m. Saturday.

Picked Up in Tavern.

Davis said the bell captain's order sheet does not show a delivery of ice to Corp. Ridings, but would not otherwise discuss the "discrepancies." Wolfington has been in custody since 10 p. m. yesterday when he was picked up in a tavern after a day's absence from his hotel job on the plea his uniform needed cleaning.

Following his court appearance, officers took Wolfington to the police lie detector laboratory. They refused to say whether he was to be given a lie detector test, but it was said the laboratory contains equipment designed for this purpose only.

Wolfington is married and the father of a 1 year old daughter, but is separated from his wife, police said. He received a medical discharge from the navy last April after serving a year and four months.

Inquest Is Opened.

Two witnesses were heard by Dr. Roy B. Storms, coroner of Marion county, at the opening behind closed doors of his inquest into the death of Corp. Ridings. They were Alfred Bayne Jr., 28, a bell boy, who made a service call to Corp. Ridings' room at 5 p. m. Saturday, and Mrs. Lillian McNamara, hotel housekeeper, who discovered the body.

Dr. Storms said Bayne repeated under oath his previous statement that "a dark haired woman in black" was in the room with Corp. Ridings when he visited it to deliver an order of soft drinks.

Police refused to comment on reports printed today in a local newspaper that an operator of the hotel freight elevator has said he saw "a woman in black" in the company of a policeman about the time the slaying was discovered. The woman and the policeman rode in his elevator and mentioned "murder" in their conversation, he is reported to have said.

Released

FRANCES FARMER.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 1 (AP).—Film Actress Frances Farmer, who last January was made a ward of that division of Superior court handling psychopathic cases, was released today to the custody of her mother.

Superior Judge Dudley S. Malentine approved the action after a psychiatrist declared the actress has recovered sufficiently to be released from a sanitarium. Her mother, Mrs. Lillian Farmer, said she would take the actress to the family home in Seattle.

Miss Farmer was given a 180 day jail sentence after a series of disturbances following her arrest for violating dimout driving regulations, but was released to the sanitarium.

FARMHAND SLAIN BY WATCHMAN AT AUTO DUMP

Streator, Ill., Sept. 1 [Special].—Mike Liggori, a night watchman at an automobile graveyard 2 miles north of here, was held without charge tonight in the county jail at Ottawa pending an inquest into the fatal shooting today of Robert Bennington, 28 years old, a farmhand, according to Sheriff Clayton Harbeck.

Harbeck said Liggori told him he saw Bennington enter the automobile dump and ordered him to leave. Bennington started to run, then reached for his pocket, the sheriff quoted Liggori, whereupon the watchman fired.

Bennington, married and father of a 6 months old child, had visited the Victory club, a roadhouse near the automobile dump, Harbeck said. Missing him, Andrew Michlik, a companion, went outside to search and found Liggori standing beside Bennington's body.

QUIZ IN HIGHWAY DEATH MYSTERY AWAITS REPORT

Sheriff Ralph Newkirk of Will county yesterday was awaiting a report from the state police, which State Police Lt. Harold C. Fewell said he would prepare, concerning the suspected murder of George Johnson, 44 years old, of Chicago Heights. Johnson was run over by the auto of Harry Keiper of Goodenow, Will county, early on Aug. 27, south of Crete. An investigation by State Policeman Verne Boehner indicated Johnson may have been beaten with a hammer before Keiper's auto struck him.

Johnson, who recently returned to Chicago Heights from Watseka, Iroquois county, was found in Will county, but died Tuesday in St. James hospital in Chicago Heights, where a Cook county deputy coroner closed the inquest when neither Boehner, who was scheduled to enter the army yesterday, nor Keiper appeared. The sheriff and state police at Joliet each take the position that the other is responsible for the investigation. The sheriff did not indicate whether he would change his position when he receives the state police report.

LAWYER'S OFFICE ROBBED.

J. R. Christianson, an attorney at 155 North Ashland avenue, told police yesterday that burglars had broken into his office and taken $25 in cash, $10 in stamps, and a souvenir gold piece from a vault.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

BY ARCH WARD.

SECRETARY OF WAR HENRY L. STIMSON several times has stressed the recommendation of a group of educators in support of the army's policy banning intercollegiate football from its specialized training program. . . . The list of college presidents appointed to act in an advisory capacity to the ASTP on its educational program follows:

Isaiah Bowman, president, Johns Hopkins university.
Guy Stanton Ford, secretary, American Historical association.
Ralph D. Hetzel, president, Pennsylvania State college.
John J. Tigert, president, University of Florida.
Ray Lyman Wilbur, chancellor, Stanford university.

These gentlemen unquestionably have demonstrated their talents as educators, but this may be as good a place as any to call to your attention that in this instance they did not speak for education. . . . They spoke only for themselves. . . . They weren't elected to represent the nation's colleges and universities. . . . They were appointed by the army. . . . The majority had been hostile or indifferent to football before they were called in by the army, which may be an important point. . . . Whether their recommendation was right or wrong is not the issue. . . . The army apparently adopted a policy based on evidence taken only from the plaintiff. . . .

Last spring the committee had a long session in which it went over the various aspects of the AST program. . . . The matter of athletics was an item on the meeting's agenda at the bottom. . . . It is reported the group was pretty well talked out by the time it reached this business, and, furthermore, it was explained to them that a decision against competition already had been reached "higher up." . . . As a result, the committee had practically no discussion of the problem and hardly did more than put its rubber stamp of approval on the decision already made. . . . We have been told that one college president, when asked why they reached such a recommendation, said he did not recall that any discussion had been held upon it. . . . If the question of intercollegiate football for the army specialized training program were left to the college presidents as a whole, there is little doubt of their answer. . . . Furthermore, if it were left to army officers on the combat front, there would be no question of football's continuance. . . . If we had followed the theories of a small group of educators who for years have been deploring the time spent in athletics, today we might not have had even the 50 per cent physically capable draftees. . . . The army says its men in college must not play on varsity teams. . . . The navy says its men may play. . . . Somebody's wrong.

A Great Discovery.

At times his little party nearly froze
As inch by inch they made their slow advance;
But like adroit explorers they went on
Unmindful of the hardship they might meet,
Feeling that when this painful work was done

Today our history records Byrd's name
Among the great explorers of all time,
And tho Byrd takes the credit for the whole

Sneezing Season.

And you must admit not without reason,
That some branch of the government doesn't attempt
Control of the hay fever season?
The season for corn and the season for beans
And the season when lambkins are ewed,
Have all been essayed, so why not a crusade
That the hay fever pest be subdued?
Here is one ploughing under the public would thunder
Can't the "brains" ban this season of sniffin' and sneezin'
And win undying thanks and much fame?
So you alphabet wizards, must we wait till the blizzards
Bring relief from this nasal dismay,
Would it savor of treason if we begged, can the season

PAULINE BETZ, SEGURA WIN AT FOREST HILLS

Greenberg, Parker Stay in Running.

Forest Hills, N. Y., Sept. 1 (AP).—The first round of the National Singles tennis tournament was completed today with about as many surprises as the first round usually brings—exactly none. Frankie Parker, Pancho Segura, Pauline Betz, and the rest of the seeded stars raced thru their opening matches without difficulty.

Playing only best-of-three set matches in the early part of the wartime tourney, which will be run off in six days with fields reduced to 32 players in each division, the headliners buckled down to winning in short order. Only sixth-seeded Sidney B. Wood Jr., of New York, went out of the tourney and only two others had to go the full three set distance.

Wood Defaults to Tuero.

Wood, who has been ill, defaulted to Jack Tuero, a junior Davis cup squad member from New Orleans. Fifth-ranked Seymour Greenberg of Chicago, National Clay Courts champion and a possible dark horse in this tourney because of his victory over Segura in the Southampton meet, had to go an extra set to eliminate Tom Falkenburg of Hollywood, Cal., 2-6, 6-2, 6-0. So did Helen Bernhardt of New York, sixth seeded in the Women's division, who beat Nancy Corbett of River Forrest, Ill., 4-6, 6-4, 6-4.

Segura was the day's principal attraction. Playing on the stadium court before most of the crowd of about 1,000, Little Pancho bounced around, gesticulated, snapped his fingers over occasional poor shots, and made the crowd love it as he walloped Dick Bender, Princeton university court captain from Elizabeth, N. J., 6-3, 6-3.

Parker Defeats Cushingham.

Bender's otherwise sound game failed to stand up under the blasting of Segura's two handed shots and he gave away 48 points by nets and outs.

The top seeded Parker, who hasn't had much tournament competition since he joined the army last January, didn't show the lack of it as he trimmed John H. Cushingham of the Pensacola, Fla., naval station, 6-2, 6-3. Frankie's backhand, his best weapon, appeared as reliable as ever.

Pauline Betz, defending women's champion, may have been a shade off her best form, but she easily disposed of Mrs. Eleanor Purdy Cushingham, wife of Parker's victim, 6-3, 6-4. Mrs. Cushingham, leading candidate for the tournament glamor title relinquished by Jinx Falkenburg, wasn't much more effective on the court than Jinx was last year.

GETTING SET FOR A NEW PREP SEASON

GOPHERS OPEN DRILLS WITH 73

Navy Trainees Report; Eight Frosh Get Suits.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 1 [Special].—After Minnesota's first fall football practice this morning attracted only 23 players, mostly 17 year olds, the afternoon session brought out 50 navy trainees to give George Hauser a complete squad of 73.

In the group were three veterans with previous conference experience. These were Bill Garnaas, quarter back, and Ed Lechner and Paul Mitchell, tackles. Jim Jewett, reserve guard, was in uniform. He will answer a call from navy aviation Thursday. Bill Aldworth, lineman who was expected to return, did not appear.

Most welcome addition to the squad was Don Bunge of Austin, Minn. He weighs 240 pounds and stands 6 feet 7 inches. He was rejected by the army. Seven other freshmen joined him for their first practice.

BADGERS SHIFT LINEMEN.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 1 [Special].—In an effort to bolster his line and place new players where he believes they will build up weak spots, Coach Harry Stuhldreher today shifted three newcomers on the Wisconsin varsity squad.

Sid Fisher, a back from Colorado Aggies, who has seen service on Guadalcanal, and John McHugh, a center, were transferred to guard. Clarence Esser, a full back from Madison Central High school, will be used at both guard and tackle. Other changes are planned.

Of the backs, Bob Piper, who had been working at quarter back, slipped into both the full back and left half back spots. Johnny Barsness who last year played at St. Olaf's, is being tried at quarter back, a vital position in the Badgers' style of play.

OHIO STATE HOLDS 2 DRILLS.

Columbus, O., Sept. 1 [Special].—Ohio State's 70 football aspirants were sent to the field for two sessions today. What Ohio State will offer in the way of a football team this year is a mystery. With only a few naval students available, Coach Paul Brown has had to turn to freshmen and rejected upper classmen. Of those who reported, 37 never have played even high school football.

MICHIGAN WORKS ON DEFENSE.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 1 [Special].—Defensive play was stressed at Michigan today as Coach H. O. Fritz Crisler sent a reserve team into scrimmage against the probable regulars. The reserves mixed their attack with both running and passing plays.

Particular attention was given to the line, where only three regulars from last year are available. A half dozen men, including Mervin Pregulman, Fred Negus, Bob Hanz-

Deciding Legion Series Game Postponed to Today

Miles City, Mont., Sept. 1 (AP).—The deciding baseball game in the American Legion's junior world series between Minneapolis, Minn., and Springfield, O., was postponed after the third inning tonight because of weather conditions and will be replayed tomorrow.

Sox, Indians Play Tonight in Cleveland

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

James Dykes' White Sox, who have hopes of a first division finish with its accompanying world series dividend, will try to make a fresh start tonight toward their goal. They'll take on the Indians under the Cleveland Stadium lights. While this sounds simple the assignment is fairly dripping with hazards.

The Indians have beaten the Sox 14 times in 19 games thus far, a ratio that explains why Lou Boudreau's entry is in the top flight and the Chicagoans in fifth place. The Cleveland series will involve three games after which the Sox will report in Detroit on Labor day for a double header with the Tigers, who also have an eye on a piece of the world series loot.

With his men rested for three days, another 24 hours of leisure coming up tomorrow and with three more off days next week, Boss Dykes won't have to be miserly about his pitchers while in Cleveland, but whether free use of same will eliminate the jinx is questionable.

BUCKEYES WON'T DEFEND A. A. U. SWIMMING TITLE

Columbus, O., Sept. 1 (AP).—Ohio State university will not defend its National A. A. U. outdoor swimming championship at the New London, Conn., meet this week-end, Coach Mike Peppe announced today.

All members of the Buckeye varsity and freshman swimming teams except the Hawaiian duo of Bill Smith and Keo Nakama are in military service, Peppe said. Smith and Nakama will be unable to compete because of final examinations.

Ohio State also holds the National Intercollegiate and Western conference swimming crowns.

ST. MEL ENTERS FAST COMPANY

Football Team Shifted to South Section.

Emmett Murphy, Ss. Mel High school's pessimistic football coach, yesterday learned he faces a terrific task in organizing a team for competition in the south section of the Catholic league.

After campaigning in the north section for the last few years St. Mel this year will play in the south section because the league is composed of nine north side schools and five south side. To effect a balance two north side schools must compete in the south section race each year. St. Mel and De Paul academy are the ones chosen this season.

Last year St. Mel finished second behind Fenwick, champion of the north section, losing only one league game, a 6 to 0 decision to the Friars. In practice games the St. Mel defeated St. Patrick and lost to Mount Carmel.

The Competition's Rough.

In entering the south section race, St. Mel faces three strong teams Mount Carmel, St. Rita, and Leo. Leo is defending city champion. In addition, St. Mel will play De Paul, De La Salle, and Catholic High of Joliet. St. Mel will open its practice schedule a week from Sunday against St. Patrick.

At daily work on a vacant lot in back of Key Branch stadium, Murphy has 35 boys trying out and expects 10 more when the school semester opens next Tuesday. Dick Pfefferle and Bill Steinkemper, two former University of Notre Dame football stars, will assist Murphy.

Murphy is building the center of the line around two seniors and three juniors. The two seniors, Bob Johnson and Frank Shamroske, currently are tackles. Jerry McLennon, one of the juniors, is working at center, while the other two, Ray Becker and Ken Kearns, figure to win the guard berths.

Only Two Veteran Backs.

At quarter back is Johnny Murphy, who was chosen all-north section quarter back last season. He will handle the bulk of the passing and a good deal of the running. Johnny Quill, a senior will play full back and will supplement his running with punting duties. He is considered a fine defensive full back. Murphy doesn't know who will round out the back field and operate at the ends. He did guarantee that St. Mel will accept defeat as graciously as it took victory.

AMPUTATE LEG OF MIKE TOBIN, ILLINI PUBLICIST

The operation was performed in General hospital here because of a gangrenous condition. Tonight his attending physician, Dr. C. J. Smiles, said Tobin's condition was good. Tobin has been ill for three weeks.

Gustine Goes to St. Louis for Treatment of Leg

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 1 (AP).—Frankie Gustine, second baseman of the Pittsburgh Pirates, left tonight for St. Louis to have his injured right leg treated at St. John's hospital. Gustine, harrassed by an injury jinx ever since he came up to the major leagues, is suffering from a torn cartilege which he aggravated in Boston early in August.

3-RUN WALLOP HANGS 12 TO 9 LOSS ON REDS

Lon Warneke Saves Game in Ninth.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 1.—Phil Cavarretta hit a home run with Eddie Stanky and Stan Hack on base in the 10th inning this afternoon and saved the Cubs a lot of sobbing over the manner in which they almost blew a ball game to the Cincinnati Reds. Phil's homer, his seventh of the season, turned a 9 to 9 tie into a 12 to 9 victory, tho the Cubs and Lon Warneke had to wait half an hour after the decisive hit for the decision.

Warneke, who had been called in as the fourth Cub pitcher with the winning Cincinnati run on third base in the ninth, was more deliberate than usual in the tenth, even tho the weather threatened. After he had thrown out two batsmen, Lon's shuffling calm was interrupted when the umpires suspended the contest.

Had weather persisted to the point that the game could not have been completed, the score would have reverted to the ninth, a tie. This would have meant a double header tomorrow. But finally the game was resumed on a sloppy field strewn with sawdust and Warneke quickly brought it to its happy conclusion.

Cubs Make 22 Hits.

All this travail developed despite the fact the Cubs made 19 hits in the first nine innings and 22 hits in all. These included triples by Len Merullo and Claude Passeau and two doubles which Stanky put together in a string of four hits.

The game might have been completed in the regulation nine innings if Mississippi Claude Passeau hadn't wilted in the 100 degree temperature which prevailed before the weather interruption. Claude gave up, supposedly possessed of his 15th victory, after the seventh inning when he was leading, 9 to 6.

Henry Wyse, who replaced Passeau, got thru the eighth and retired the first batsmen in the ninth. Then things began to happen to Passeau's lead. Wyse passed Lonnie Frey, a balk put him on second and he scored on Max Marshall's double to center. Eddie Hanyzewski replaced Wyse and Len Merullo threw out Bert Haas, who previously had knocked a homer and a triple off Passeau. Estel Crabtree, who had made two singles off Passeau, then hit his first homer of the year scoring behind Marshall to tie the score at 9 to 9.

And in Comes Warneke.

Manager Jim Wilson stuck along with Hanyzewski until he had pitched singles to Ernie Tipton and Steve Mesner to put the winning run on third. Here Warneke made his triumphal entrance. He gave an intentional pass to Eddie Miller, loading the bases, after which he struck out Al Lakeman to retire the side.

After Warneke had been fanned by the just arrived Clyde Shoun at the start of the 10th, Stanky made his fourth hit, a single to left and stopped at second on Hack's single to center. Then Cavarretta knocked

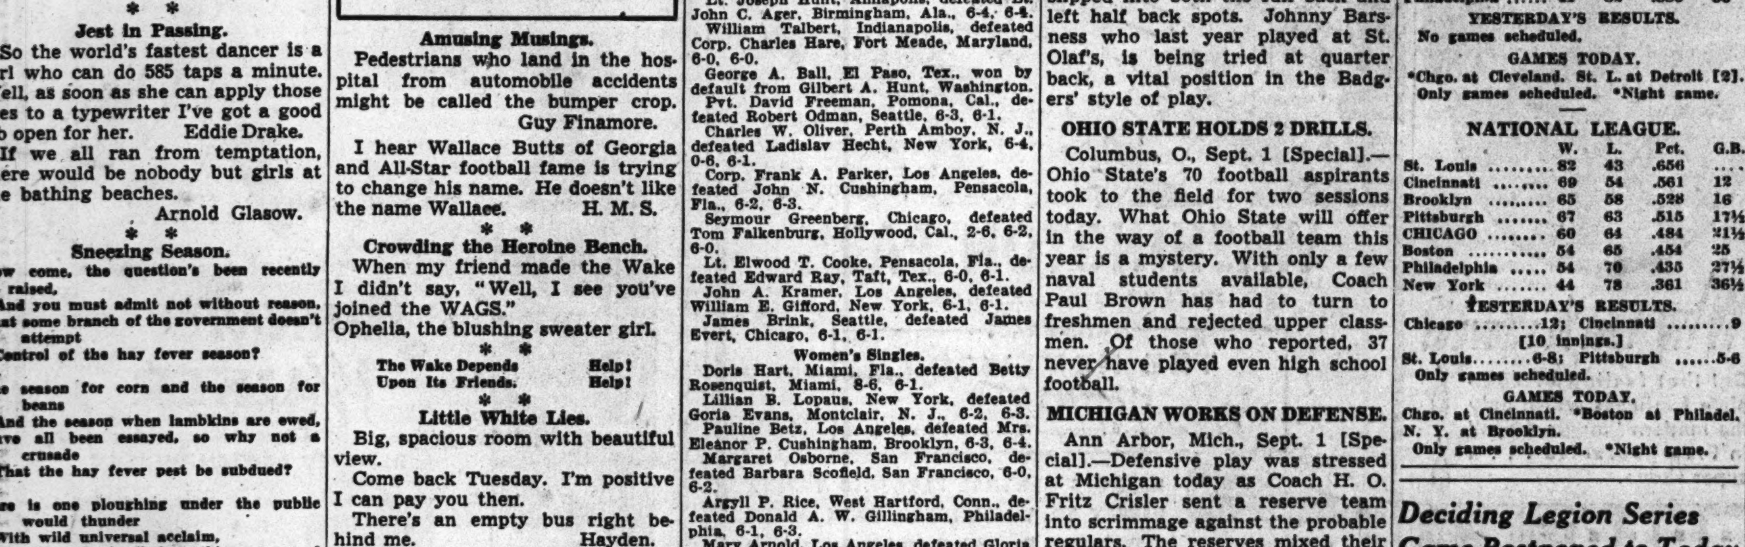
MOON MULLINS



SUN AGAIN WINS $5,000 DREXEL AT WASHINGTON

Six of Country's Fastest to Run Today.

Homewood Field

SIX sprinters were named in the overnight entries for the $7,500 Homewood handicap, a six furlong dash today at Washington Park. The field, in order of post position, follows:

	Wgt.	Jockey.	Prob. Odds.
Overdrawn	109	No boy	7-1
Cabin Creek	107	G. Burns	8-1
Occupation	120	L. Whiting	3-1
Burnt Cork	107	Geo. Woolf	5-1
Signator	127	N. Jemas	2-1
Ended	115	F. A. Smith	6-1

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Calumet farm's Sun Again, closing swiftly on the extreme outside, got up to beat Rounders by half a length in the $5,000 Drexel handicap yesterday at Washington Park.

Louis B. Mayer's Thumbs Up was third, another half length back, in this dash of a mile, which served as a final tuneup for Monday's $50,000 Washington Park handicap.

Five of the horses which went to the post in this event are pointing for the rich stake on closing day. These are Rounders, Thumbs Up, King's Abbey, Marriage, and Contradiction. The winner, Sun Again, is not eligible for the Monday feature because the distance of a mile and a quarter is not to his liking.

Sir Jeffrey Sets Early Pace.

In yesterday's dash, Sir Jeffrey set the pace as far as the head of the stretch, with Rounders, Thumbs Up, King's Abbey, and Marriage in close attendance. Sun Again was in the center of the well bunched pack as they approached the straightaway.

In the stretch, George Woolf promptly sent Rounders to the front and Otto Grohs brought Thumbs Up along to precipitate a bitterly contested duel. While they were engaged in a head and head struggle, Freddie Smith sent Sun Again charging up to catch them at midstretch. Wearing them down gradually, he was half a length in advance as they crossed the finish line.

Forever Prince Pays $199.

The winner's payoff was $12.40, $5.80, and $3.80. He ran the mile in the brisk time of 1:36 4-5.

The veteran Forever Prince, which used to race at rather short prices in fairly high class fields, got to the post at 131 to 1 odds in the fourth race yesterday. He stretched his 8 year old legs in such sprightly fashion that he came in second to Limitation at a price of $199 to place and $48.80 to show. This was his third start of the year. He had run far out of it in two previous attempts during the current meeting.

Some of the fastest six furlong horses in the country will race today in the $7,500 Homewood handicap. The field of six named in the overnight entries consists of Signator, Occupation, Burnt Cork, Cabin Creek, Ended, and Overdrawn.

Woolf to Ride Burnt Cork.

Woolf is scheduled to ride Burnt Cork, which may make this colt somewhat more popular among the bettors than he otherwise would be.

Al Sabath stated yesterday that following a telephone conference with Trainer Sarge Swenke in the east, he had decided not to bring Alsab back to Chicago for the $50,000 Washington Park handicap, which will head the Labor day program. He said that they were not satisfied with the top weight of 126 pounds alloted Alsab.

WARRIORS TEST STARTERS FOR ILLINOIS GAME

Camp Grant, Ill., Sept. 1 [Special]. —Camp Grant's football Warriors ran thru a dummy scrimmage this afternoon under the watchful eyes of Coaches Robert Elden and Lynn Hovland.

The team, designated as a possible starting eleven for the Illinois game, Sept. 11, was made up of Bill Huber and Sam Goldman, ends; Bob Zimny and Don Linetop, tackles; Bob Orlando and Dick Bergner, guards; George Karstens, center, and Reino Nori, Tony Storti, Tim Dewar, and Corwin Clatt in the back field.

HAWKEYES OPEN PRACTICE.

Iowa City, Ia., Sept. 1 [Special]. —Calisthenics and drill in fundamentals headed the practice schedule for nearly 50 football candidates who reported to Coach Edward [Slip] Madigan this afternoon at the University of Iowa.

In today's group was Gerald Pepper, 210 pound freshman who made a good showing at center in summer drills. Pepper is the only center on hand at present.

PURDUE BUILDS AIR ATTACK.

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 1 [Special].— Development of an aerial attack was emphasized this afternoon as Purdue's gridiron squad rehearsed fundamentals for the third straight day. Coach Elmer Burnham indicated a possibility that the first scrimmage of the fall season will be tomorrow.

Assistant Coach Cecil Isbell devoted most of the afternoon to demonstrating tricks of the passing trade to a quartet made up of Jimmy Darr, Sam Vacanti, Blaine Hibler, and Ed Cycenas. The necessity for split second timing in selecting and hitting potential receivers was emphasized.

CHICAGO BOYS JOIN ILLINI.

Champaign, Ill., Sept. 1 [Special]. —Larry Forst, tackle from Leo High school, Chicago, and Ed Paprocki of Chicago, a reserve end on the Illinois squad two years ago, today joined the Illini squad.

At the same time Ed Nemeth, East Chicago freshman who had been the No. 1 full back thru summer practice, announced he has been notified by his draft board to report for induction next week. Illinois' first game is a week from Saturday with Camp Grant here.

LEOS, ST. CYRS MEET IN K. OF C. FINAL TONIGHT

The Leos and St. Cyrs will clash in the championship game of the Knights of Columbus metropolitan league round robin tournament tonight at Sparta stadium, 22d and Kostner avenue, at 9:30 in the feature of a three game program.

Leos defeated the Kettlers, 13 to 7, and St. Cyrs beat St. Philip Neri, 6 to 5, in 11 innings last night to reach the finals. St. Philip Neris defeated St. Francis, 10 to 7, in the opening game.

This was followed by Warneke's aforesaid defiance of the Reds and the elements as well. He tossed out Pinch Batter Woody Williams as the weather warned. Then he took his time about getting Frey the same way. A 26 minute delay ensued, but after the game was resumed, Marshall popped to Stanky on the first pitch.

Bithorn to Pitch Today.

The Cubs, in hitting safely in all innings, made two singles for two runs in the first inning, two triples and two singles for three runs in the second after Haas' homer had tied the score in the home first; a single in the third, a double and a single for a run in the fourth, three singles for two runs in the fifth, a double and two singles for a run in the seventh, and four wasted singles in the seventh, eighth, and ninth innings.

Osmanski, Bear Veteran, Finally Signs

Bill Osmanski, veteran Chicago Bears' full back, yesterday reported to the team's training camp in Delafield, Wis., after signing his contract. Osmanski is believed to be the last of the Bear holdouts. Team officials said last night they held no hope that Ray Nolting, for seven years a standout at left half, and Jim Benton, end obtained from the Cleveland Rams, would be able to play this season.

Osmanski was injured early in the Bears' opening game in 1942 at Green Bay and played no more until he tried to turn the tide against the Washington Redskins in the title game last season. Bill reported overweight but showed no trace of his knee injury.

The Bears now have their traditional strong front in the full back department. Others at this position are Gary Famiglietti, who took over Osmanski's No. 1 spot last year after Bill's injury; Bob Steuber, fleet freshman from Missouri who was a standout in the recent College All-Star game, and Doug McNulty, who played with a Wichita, Kas., professional eleven last year.

The Bears will leave Chicago tomorrow night for Buffalo, N. Y., where they have an exhibition date on Sunday with the New York Giants.

CARDINALS BEAT PIRATES TWICE; COOPER CHASED

Win Suspended Game of July 18, 6 to 5.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 1 (AP).—The St. Louis Cardinals played 11 innings today and gained two victories over the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6 to 5 and 8 to 6.

The first triumph came with the completion of two final innings of a game suspended on July 18 when Pennsylvania's Sunday curfew stopped the second half of a double header at the end of seven innings.

The two innings played today were scoreless and the contest went into the books just as it might have when it was interrupted, with Rip Sewell getting charged with his seventh defeat against 19 victories, and George Munger being credited with his seventh success.

Even tho the Cardinals won twice and Mort Cooper worked in both games, he received credit for neither.

LAKE FOREST COLLEGE GIVES UP FOOTBALL

Lake Forest college will not have a football team this fall, Ralph Jones, its veteran coach, announced yesterday. Most of the students on the campus, he said, are in the army specialized training program and the athletic department will be occupied in directing physical training for approximately 400 men who are required to taxe six hours of training each week.

2 FREIGHT GOLF ENTRIES DRIVE TO DEAD HEAT

Foreman and Emmanuel Post Scores of 79.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Harold Foreman and Jim Emanuel yesterday drove to a dead heat in the fifth annual golf tournament of the Central Motor Freight association, one of the top flight trade events of the season, at the Ridge Country club. Their 79s, scored off mutual nines of 41 and 38, gave them a tie for gross honors which will be raced off at a later date.

A number of guests joined the field of 150 players in the day's shooting, with Mike Turnesa, the middle member of New York's famed golfing family, turning in the best effort, a 71, one over par. Mike's brother, Staff Sgt. Jimmy, from New York's Halloran General hospital, came thru with a 73. Both Michael and James are en route to the Golden Valley round robin invitational beginning in Minneapolis, Minn., Friday with a select field of 16 professionals.

The feature foursome of the day sent Sgt. Turnesa and Walter Mullady against Chick Evans, Edgewater veteran, and Harvey Fruehauf of Detroit. Walter, southpaw president of the Decatur Cartage company, and Sgt. Jim brought the Evans-Fruehauf twosome home three down. Mullady had an 81, Turnesa 73, Evans a 75, and Fruehauf an 88.

Evans' 75 was matched by Ken Huffine for low gross among the guest amateurs, while Wilford Wehrle of Racine, followed with a 76 and Sid Yates, former University of Chicago basketball star and current champion of the Chicago Bar association, had a 78. C. John Viking, chairman of the tournament, came in with a 40—43—83. Leading gross scores follow:

END WAR ORDER REPRICING LAW, EMERY PLEADS

Says It Jeopardizes Peace Conversion.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

The outright repeal of the act under which the government is recapturing a large part of the profits of war contractors was advocated yesterday by DeWitt M. Emery, president of the National Small Business Men's association. Small and medium sized industrial concerns will not be adequately prepared to shift back to civilian production after the war if present renegotiation procedure is continued, Emery said.

De Witt M. Emery.

"We can rely on present corporation income taxes to prevent war contractors from making excessive profits," Emery said. "A few might escape with too large profits but that would be preferable to the present situation which is retarding war production and definitely increasing war costs."

Working Capital Tied Up.

The renegotiation procedure, he asserted, gives no recognition to the tax burden war contractors are carrying nor to the position they will find themselves in when the war ends.

"The manufacturer will have his working capital tied up in inventory, fixed assets, and in other ways," said Emery. "When his contract is terminated he will be required first to put his plant back in order for civilian production. That takes capital. And a great many small manufacturers have either used up all their working capital in getting maximum war production or have had their working funds so seriously reduced that they will be financially crippled when wholesale termination of war contracts occurs."

Emery's organization has repeatedly criticized the renegotiation procedure. At the last session of congress Emery and other organization officials appeared before congressional committees to urge that special tax exemption be given to war contractors to enable them to build up reserves to finance the reconversion to civilian production.

Advises Dropping Secrecy.

Short of outright repeal of the act Emery believes the renegotiation boards for the army and navy should drop the secrecy that surrounds their activities.

Emery cited a specific case to illustrate how renegotiation is inflating war costs. A manufacturer who holds two government contracts and is making a substantial profit on one job and losing on the other has no incentive to cut costs on his losing contract, he said.

"The manufacturer knows that when his profits are reviewed the amount he retains will be determined on his over-all results," Emery said. "The fact that his costs on his losing contract are high will prove a help to him in some cases. It will put him in a position to get a larger share of the profit he is making on his profitable contract."

18 Million West Texas Issue Is Offered Today

Public offering will be made today of a new issue of 18 million dollars in West Texas Utilities company first mortgage 3¾ per cent bonds by a group headed by Harris, Hall & Co., Inc., and the First Boston corporation. Due Aug. 1, 1973, the bonds are priced at 102.45 and accrued interest. Net proceeds are to be applied to the redemption of 18 million dollars of 3¾ per cent first mortgage bonds at 105 and interest.

Study 3 Plans to Aid Losers of Contracts

Three plans to make cash quickly available to war contractors upon termination of their government contracts are under consideration in Washington, Stanley F. Teele, deputy director of the war production board's procurement policy division, said yesterday. He spoke at the war problems school of the Chicago Association of Commerce in the Hotel Sherman.

One proposal calls for a fixed percentage advance upon the contractor's certification of claims. A second provides for direct or government guaranteed loans to prime and subcontractors based on the contractors' claims. A third scheme contemplates authorizing the government to buy up the rights of subcontractors, thereby making cash available immediately to thousands of firms engaged in war production but not holding prime contracts.

13,000 Hold Big Contracts.

At the present rate of government spending, Teele said, there are likely to be war contracts outstanding when the war ends of between 12½ and 19 billion dollars. One quarter of the total will be represented by prime contracts and the rest by subcontracts.

"There is no definite information on the number of subcontractors," he said, "but we know that prime contracts of $50,000 or more are distributed among 13,000 firms."

The government recognizes the problem of getting working capital into the hands of contractors quickly so that they can resume civilian production, he said.

Settlement Basis Uncertain.

It is still not clear, he said, what claims the government agencies will allow in settling terminated contracts. He expressed doubt that any allowance would be made for profit on the uncompleted portion of terminated contracts.

The problem of economic demobilization will be entirely different than that of getting into war production, Teele said. Manufacturers then had firm commitments from the government and knew where they were going. When peace comes, he said, many companies will be undecided in their future production plans. Some may quit business and others may go into new lines.

RESERVE AREA'S LAND INCREASES 8 PCT. IN VALUE

An increase of 8 per cent in land values in the seventh [Chicago] federal reserve district during the second quarter of this year was reported yesterday by the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago. The report was based upon information received from 600 country bankers in Iowa and the seventh district sections of Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, and Wisconsin.

The biggest rise was shown for Iowa at 11 per cent. In Indiana the gain in value was estimated at 9 per cent, Michigan and Illinois were up 8 per cent and Wisconsin 4 per cent.

The bank said country bankers found some speculation in farm lands thruout the district. Trade in the land market was said to be quiet to moderate in the district as a whole, altho the market was described as brisk by bankers in northwestern Iowa, southeastern Wisconsin, northeastern Illinois, and southwestern Michigan.

10 CENT DIVIDEND BOOST VOTED BY CREAMERY FIRM

The Beatrice Creamery company, Chicago, yesterday declared a dividend of 35 cents on the common stock, increasing the usual rate 10 cents. It said the increased rate was made with the view of establishing a basis of quarterly dividend payments which will reflect the conservative policy of regular distribution of profits.

This action will not preclude the payment of extra dividends if profits merit such action, the company said. A regular quarterly dividend of $1.06¼ was declared on the preferred.

War Plants' Labor Day to Be Just That

Labor day will be all that its name implies next Monday at large Chicago area war plants, where workers are too busy to take time off to celebrate. Most smaller plants are expected to operate with curtailed shifts. Stores, offices, and other places of business will be closed, as is the custom on Labor day.

The State Street council has announced that all stores on State street normally observing Monday hours of noon until 9 p. m. will put these hours in effect Tuesday, Sept. 7, for the one day only. Transportation schedules will be revised to accommodate shoppers.

The city hall and county building will be closed. None of the federal offices or governmental agencies, such as OPA, WLB, and WPB will be open, with the exception of the internal revenue bureau.

Full Operation for Aircraft.

Buick Motor company's aviation engine plant will operate full force with both office and factory workers on duty. Douglas aircraft plant will maintain its regular schedule. First shift employes will meet at noon during the luncheon period to see John Weaver, plant manager, confer medals and war savings stamps upon 18 employes whose suggestions speeded up plant production.

Railroad and bus companies anticipate a capacity week-end with soldiers and sailors on leaves. No extra coaches or buses will be available, said railroad officials.

OPA to Watch Motorists.

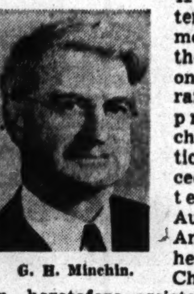
An OPA spokesman announced there would be the usual checkup on gasoline users. He said investigators would be on duty to list license numbers of those autos they might deem illegal users of motor fuel.

Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor club, predicted the Labor day holiday would be the safest on record.

Chicago park district and city beaches will officially close for the season Monday night. The Art institute will be open free from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. on Monday. The Museum of Science and Industry in Jackson park will be open from 9:30 a. m. to 7 p. m. free. Shedd aquarium will open at 10 a. m. and close at 5 p. m. Adler planetarium will be closed all day.

MINCHIN NAMED SANTA FE CHIEF OF OPERATIONS

G. H. Minchin, who abandoned school teaching for a railroad career 41 years ago, yesterday was promoted to one of the top positions on the Santa Fe railway — vice president in charge of operations. He succeeded W. K. Etter, who died Aug. 16 in Los Angeles. From headquarters in Chicago, Minchin, heretofore assistant vice president, will direct the operations of the road with the longest main line mileage in the United States.



G. H. Minchin.

Minchin was born in Springbrook, Ontario, Canada, July 20, 1882, and taught school at the age of 18. He became interested in railroading on a trip to the United States and began working for the Santa Fe in 1902 as a station clerk at La Junta, Colo.

WFA Allots 700,000 Tons of Peanuts to Food Use

Washington, D. C., Sept. 1 (AP).—The war food administration tonight allotted 700,000 tons of the new peanut crop for use in the food trade. With farmers' stock peanut production estimated at 1,493,000 tons, compared with 1,103,000 in 1942, the WFA said 700,000 tons, if properly distributed, will be sufficient to maintain the 1942 level in candy and bakery products and provide needed increases in peanut butter.

PERMITS FOR HOME BUILDING MAKE BIG GAIN DURING AUGUST

Permits for 718 residential units costing $2,850,981 were issued by the Chicago building department last month, Paul Gerhardt Jr., building commisisoner, announced yesterday. The August total was the largest in several years.

During July this year 321 permits valued at $1,276,390 were issued and in August last year 254 home permits costing $1,065,830 were issued.

Permits for single family dwellings last month totaled 170, valued at $743,685. During July permits were issued for 56 duplex and row houses, containing 157 units valued at $592,750, and for 164 single family dwellings costing $683,640. In August, 1942, permits were issued for 12 duplex and row houses containing 94 units costing $376,700, and for 160 single family homes valued at $689,130.

Draft Respite Urged to Aid Coal Delivery

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 1.—Draft deferment for coal delivery men in some areas was listed today by Joseph B. Eastman, director of the office of defense transportation, as one possible method of combating a threatened critical condition in winter coal deliveries to industries and homes.

Eastman, in announcing a plan for creation of coal dealer committees in each of the 142 ODT motor transport districts to study distribution, needs, and the prospective demand for coal this winter, said the committees would be empowered to request that the industry be declared "locally needed."

If the war man power commission grants the declaration in an area it would mean that draft boards would be required to weigh the fact that such employés are in essential work, with the result that deferments on occupational grounds could be granted in individual cases.

Could Control Jobs.

Terming the industry as "locally needed" also would put strict controls on the employé in the matter of shifting to other jobs. The United States employment service would work with coal dealers in providing new employés and retaining old ones.

Eastman predicted that residential consumption of coal next winter will be 22 per cent larger than the 1941-'42 consumption, in the face of a shortage of trucks and man power and conversion from scarcer fuels.

Eastman said that to meet this expected strain on the industry regional officials of the war man power commission will work with the dealer committees in studies of the employment problem and at the same time the committees will work out methods of utilizing to the fullest extent all available trucking equipment and man power.

Truck Pooling Predicted.

Pooling of vehicles and loading at another's yard will not be uncommon, Eastman predicted. Joint action plans involving two or more dealers will be set up wherever possible. Included will be such measures as:

1. Dividing responsibility for deliveries to sparsely settled areas.
2. Exchanging the use of motor truck equipment to eliminate empty mileage.
3. Pooling of the labor supply to assure undelayed distribution and a maximum work week.
4. Exchanging of orders to permit delivery from the yard nearest the customers.
5. Making special provisions for filling emergency orders even tho ordinarily such action would depart from the formal plan.

STOCKS EXTEND UPTURN, BUT ON LIGHTER SALES

Industrial, Utility Groups Lead.

New York, Sept. 1 (AP).—Leading industrial, rail, and utility shares edged higher today in the stock market in a mild continuation of Tuesday's recovery. The upturn lacked momentum, tho, and many gains were pared at the close.

After a fairly rapid start, dealings tapered off and for the full session amounted to 567,846 shares against 614,420 the preceding day. Of 776 issues traded, 409 closed higher, 153 lower, and 214 unchanged. The Associated Press 60-stock average rose .2 point to 49.8, the industrial and utility sections each adding .3 of a point.

Tax Worries Curb Buying.

A combination of factors tended to restrain buying enthusiasm, among them tax worries, a belief that major international developments may come any day, and the approach of a holiday week-end.

Reflecting declaration of a $1.50 extra dividend in addition to a 50 cent interim disbursement, South Puerto Rico Sugar climbed 2 points to 29. Ahead slightly at the close were United States Steel, Chrysler, United States Rubber, Goodyear, Sears Roebuck, International Harvester, United Aircraft, Douglas, Western Union, Standard Oil [N. J.], Consolidated Edison, Air Reduction, Santa Fe, Great Northern preferred, and Chesapeake and Ohio.

BONDS RISE SLOWLY.

New York, Sept. 1 (AP).—The slow advance of Tuesday carried on in today's bond market, numerous rails and utilities adding small fractions to more than a point. Other groups were mainly steady except for weakness in several Denmark loans.

The follow thru buying had its best effect in the secondary rail list, indicating revival of speculative interest in this group after the prolonged idleness of August.

CHICAGO LIST GAINS.

Prices advanced again on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday on transfers of 21,000 shares. Of 86 issues traded, 46 gained, 20 declined, and 20 closed unchanged. Midland United A preferred was the volume leader and closed at a new 1943 high of 14, up 1⅜. Middle West corporation closed at 8⅞, up ⅛, and Commonwealth Edison at 26⅞, up ½.

PRICES OF HOGS MOVE HIGHER AS SUPPLIES FALL

A decrease in supplies of hogs at all leading packing centers yesterday sent prices higher at the Chicago stock yards. Gains of 10 to 15 cents a 100 pounds were general, with many sows selling 20 cents above the preceding day as buyers turned to "lard hogs" in an attempt to hold costs down.

Principal Chicago buyers continued to restrict their offers at $14.75, but obtained only the heavier butchers and sows. The top, $15.05, was paid for sorted 200 to 220 pound early spring pigs. The average moved up 10 cents to $14.35.

A stronger opening of the market for steers and yearlings encountered buying opposition, and the finish was weak. Cows and heifers sold steady, but canners and cutters declined 10 to 15 cents. Bulls slumped 25 cents. Calves held steady.

MOST OF EARLY GRAIN FUTURES GAINS ARE LOST

Reports that the ceiling price on cash corn may be advanced to about $1.25 a bushel, 18 cents above the maximum in effect since April 15, started a buying movement on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday which sent all grains higher early. However, reports that the Commodity Credit corporation may withdraw support from the Minneapolis cash wheat market caused many of the early buyers to sell.

September rye, after an early upturn to $1.06⅞ a bushel, declined to about $1.04, and oats lost most of the early advance. Closing rye prices gained ¼ to ⅝ cent and oats finished unchanged to ¼ cent lower. Wheat was off ⅞ to 1 cent at the close.

Producers to Meet in Attempt to Avoid Fluid Milk Rationing

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 1.—In an effort to head off point rationing of milk, the nation's leading milk producers will meet in Washington Sept. 28, 29, and 30.

The meeting was called by John Brandt of Minneapolis, Minn., president of the National Coöperative Milk Producers' federation, representing dairy farmers in 41 states.

In addition to discussing ways to avoid rationing of fluid milk, Brandt said the producers were meeting to combat shortages and inequitable distribution of butter, cheese, cream, and other dairy products.

Dairy Situation "Critical."

"A critical situation in the nation's milk production has developed that involves all dairy products," Brandt said. "The national emergency meeting of these representatives of thousands of dairy farmers will endeavor to formulate a program to help government officials correct maladjustments of dairy prices and alleviate conditions hampering American dairy farmers in their efforts to produce at full efficiency for war."

Brandt attacked federal pricing policies on dairy products as the basic cause behind an expected decrease in milk production this fall below last year's levels. Milk producers are seeking price increases of one to three cents a quart in an effort to meet rising costs and thus stem the production decline. According to the announcement, producers' demands have been filed by the office of price administration without action.

Butter Shortage to Continue.

Brandt, also president of the Dairy Products Marketing association, government-financed corporation which owns one of the biggest single blocks of butter in the nation's history, warned the butter shortage would continue for several months.

"There will be no let-up in the current civilian butter shortage before December," he said, "and even then civilian supplies will be short unless prompt action is taken. Production is below last year because of government indecision on the price of dairy foods, making dairying less profitable than any other major farming project."

Brandt listed the following reasons for the butter shortage: 1. Seasonal decline in production. 2. Large government holdings. 3. Increased demand. 4. Maldistribution of available supplies. 5. Absence of price or rationing control of fluid cream.

July Aircraft Output Misses Goal by 12 Pct.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 1 (AP).—July aircraft production was 12 per cent behind schedule, a war production board spokesman disclosed today, despite Monday's announcement that plane output was 4 per cent above June, with a total of 7,373 aircraft produced.

As a result of the summer slump some WPB officials have concluded this year's 65 billion dollar over-all arms production goal will not be met.

Expect Fall Increase.

Officials assert the goal still can be achieved, but qualified observers within the agency reckon that production totaling 62 billion dollars is closer to the attainable.

Cooler weather and the end of the vacation period are expected to have an accelerating effect.

In recent statements Donald M. Nelson, WPB chairman, has emphasized that production increases at this stage of the war program come harder month by month, and that even small gains on some items "can be obtained only by efforts far more intensive than anything in our previous experience."

May Widen Deferment.

The WPB and the war man power commission are working jointly on a program for particular application to airplane producers on the west coast, where man power problems have retarded production.

A more liberal draft deferment policy for aircraft workers is part of the proposed program, it was ascertained, but other details have not been made public.

People and Events

Robert E. Johnson, director of advertising and publicity for United Air ines, Chicago, has been given a leave of absence by the company to become a lieutenant [j. g.] in the United States naval reserve and has begun training. Johnson has been with United since 1931, having entered commercial aviation two years earlier at Seattle, Wash., with the Boeing Aircraft company. Harold Crary, vice president of United, will supervise the line's advertising and publicity activities during Johnson's absence.

Robert E. Johnson.

Chicago friends learned yesterday of the promotion to sergeant of William N. Clark, former Tribune financial writer who is with the army invasion forces in the western Pacific. He and Clay Gowran, Tribune war correspondent, met early last month after the fight for Munda air field on New Georgia Island. Clark was one of three survivors of a 12 man squad engaged in the action.

C. R. Pettengill, 71 years old, Libertyville, yesterday retired as general manager of the Chicago and North Shore and Milwaukee Electric Railroad company. Pettengill started with the company as a motorman in 1910, was made a dispatcher a year later, and was chief clerk of the Highwood office from 1918 until he was named general manager in 1935.

W. W. Stephenson, rationing executive of the OPA shoe rationing branch, and Harold R. Quinby, his assistant, will speak at a meeting of 150 Chicago area shoe retailers Tuesday in the Morrison hotel. The meeting has been called to plan the organization of a Chicago area shoe retailers' association.

NEW PEAK FOOD OUTPUT DURING 1943 PREDICTED

Live Stock, Chicken Supplies Soar.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 1 (AP).—Soaring live stock, chicken, and egg production is likely to raise the 1943 food output 5 per cent above last year's record and 32 per cent above the pre-war average, the department of agriculture reported today.

In its most optimistic statement in weeks, the bureau of agricultural economics forecast an unprecedented production of 24 billion pounds of meat.

Prospective increases in total food output, including live stock production 10 per cent above 1942 and 38 per cent above the 1935-'39 average and the larger poultry and egg output, will more than offset a prospective 9 per cent decline in food crops below 1942.

Late Crops Damaged.

Publication of the report came simultaneously with the weather bureau's weekly crop bulletin which disclosed a continuance of drouth conditions in the southwest and sections of the midwest which are damaging late crops.

The weather bureau said there is need for rain "in varying degrees of urgency" in the southern portions of Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois, most of Kentucky, western Tennessee, Mississippi, Missouri [except northwest], Arkansas, Louisiana, the southern two-thirds of Nebraska, Kansas [except the northwest], Oklahoma, and Texas.

"In many places of this area late crops are suffering severely, pastures have dried up, and stock water is scarce; there are local reports of live stock dying in some sections where the drouth is as severe as any on record," the bureau reported. It said conditions were especially serious in Arkansas and Oklahoma.

Conditions Favorable Otherwise.

However, most of the northeast, the northern Ohio valley, the upper Mississippi valley, and northern plains have sufficient moisture and late crops are developing satisfactorily. Conditions in the northern sections from the lake region to the west coast generally are favorable.

The agriculture department said the over-all 5 per cent increase in food supply would mean a per capita civilian supply only slightly larger than the 1935-'39 consumption since war requirements will absorb about one-fourth the total production.

The report forecast a total output of dairy products about the same as in 1942 and a 20 to 25 per cent increase in pork production. It said marketing of chickens had vastly increased in recent weeks and egg production in July was 11 per cent above the previous record for that month last year.

The department said present indications were for a wheat crop of 835 million bushels, 44 million above the July 1 estimate.

Borden's Half Year Profits Rise to 87 Cents Per Share

The Borden company, in a consolidated report including domestic and Canadian subsidiaries, yesterday disclosed increased net profit of $3,791,275, equal to 87 cents a share, during the six months ended June 30, compared with $3,378,186, or 77 cents a share, during the first half of 1942.

The report said net earnings were after a 1½ million dollar provision for contingencies compared with 1 million a year earlier.

The company said it had acquired the assets and business of the Soy Bean Processing company of Waterloo, Ia., in a further diversification of its activities.

The Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock company reported preliminary net profit of $4,641,000, equal to $5.34 a common share, during the year ended Dec. 31, 1942, compared with $5,291,373, or $6.11 a share, in the preceding year.

Gross income was $180,723,000, compared with $94,278,906 in the preceding year. A reserve of $13,428,000 for federal and state income and profits taxes and 1 million provision for contingencies compared with $9,405,000 and $500,000, respectively in 1941.

ALUMINUM MILL PUTTING 200 ON A 4 HOUR SHIFT

Bendix Hunting Workers in Farm Areas.

The rolling mill of Aluminum Company of America in McCook, one of Chicago's large war plants, has adopted the four hour part time "swing" shift in an effort to meet a man power shortage, it was learned yesterday. Under the swing shift plan, employed white collar workers, professional men, housewives, and others work four hours a day in a war plant in their spare time.

L. R. Mercer, personnel director of the Aluminum company plant, said 200 or 300 part time workers, including women, are needed there. The plant also will be able to use all the farm workers who apply for full time jobs after the harvest season is over, he said.

"We need workers," Mercer declared. "We can use men and women who can be trained to perform operating jobs in a rolling mill, including some jobs which are mechanical. These can be either four hour shifts or full time. Examples of the types of workers we need are shear operators, inspectors and packing, and shipping operators. We also could use some machinists, welders, and mill repairmen on a four hour basis."

Work of Boys Successful.

Mercer reported that the company is having marked success with high school boys who work part time and get school credits for it.

Another Chicago war plant—that of Bendix Aviation corporation's Illinois division—disclosed that it is going into the farm communities to contact farm men and women who can take full time jobs at the plant when the harvest season is over. The company said it found the four hour shift impractical because of the skilled nature of its operations.

Worth Tracy, personnel director of the Bendix plant, said the company expects to hire farm men and women in large numbers on a full time basis as soon as they are available. Representatives of the plant are holding pooled or group interviews in rural centers to make contact with prospective workers, Tracy said.

Shift Not Yet in Wide Use.

The labor shortage in the Chicago area still has not reached the stage where wide use is made of the four hour shift. Federal man power authorities and factory executives said, however, that use of the plan probably will develop on a sizable scale between the first of the year and next July. The regional office of the war man power commission said no general demand for four hour workers exists in Chicago and none probably will develop until early in 1944.

William H. Spencer, regional director of the war man power commission, said the WMC employment service would let the public know when the need for swing shift workers becomes sufficient to justify employed persons making application for such extra work. Spencer invited employers to advise his office when they need part time personnel.

"We would not want to encourage a horde of people to apply for such work until jobs really are open," Spencer said. "We will let them know when the time comes.

Full Time Preferred.

"If more persons not now working do not come into the labor force, or if there are not enough transfers from non-essential to essential industries, then by the first of the year, and on to about July, there will be a great need for part time workers. As long as full time men and women workers are available, it is more economical to use full time shifts, but undoubtedly the picture will change as we come nearer production peaks."

Spencer said that a number of persons, including lawyers, have registered with the federal employment service for part time jobs, and that the employment service "will be glad to take such applications as it receives them and refer them to locally needed industries, essential civilian industries and war plants."

SETS DECADE'S HOME NEEDS AT MILLION YEARLY

One million homes annually will be needed by American families during the next 10 years, Fritz B. Burns last night told members of the Chicago Real Estate board and the Metropolitan Chicago Home Builders' association at a dinner in the board dining room, 105 West Madison street. Burns is president of the National Association of Home Builders and vice president of the Los Angeles Realty board.

The post-war and present war housing needs present a definite challenge to builders, Burns declared, but deplored the "excursions into fantasy" which visualize the post-war house as unlike anything ever seen in the past.

"Such thinking," he said, "will only confuse and delay the home buyer and deter the home building industry from doing that which it is counted upon to do, namely, to relieve the industrial post-war sag."

Eastern Supplies of Oil Products Rise in Week

New York, Sept. 1 (AP).—Another increase in eastern seaboard stocks of petroleum products was reported today by the American Petroleum institute, which estimated the total at 39.1 per cent of normal on Aug. 28, against 36.8 per cent a week earlier. The nation's aggregate stocks of light and heavy fuel oils rose during the week, but the supply of gasoline was down slightly.

LEND-LEASE NOT UNDERSTOOD BY ALL, SAYS JONES

Legislator Declares Arms in It, Too.

Tipp City, O., Sept. 1 [Special].—Rep. Robert F. Jones [R., O.] says America's lend-lease aid to the allies is underestimated, because the figures do not include facilities and supplies given by the army and navy to our allies which are not charged to lend-lease.

In a speech here tonight before the Rotary club, the Ohio member of the house appropriations committee declared America's lend-lease appropriations are 4 billion dollars greater than the appropriations of Great Britain, Canada, Australia, and New Zealand for the war in the four years ending with 1942.

"The amount we are furnishing to the other nations," said Jones, "is underestimated because many have not realized the change in conception of aid to our allies since Pearl Harbor.

Small Civilian Amount.

"Often lend-lease is discussed in terms of around 25 billion dollars. This is merely the amount that has been appropriated to the President and is a portion of the fund used to maintain the civilian economics of our allies and is under supervision of Edward Stettinius, as administrator."

[On Aug. 25, the White House reported to congress that 14 billion dollars' worth of lend-lease aid has been extended to America's allies. Of this $11,901,972,000 was for war materials, food, clothing, medicine, and industrial facilities delivered to some 48 authorized lend-lease recipients. Services rendered to these countries had a value of $2,071,367,000 for a grand total of $13,973,339,000.]

"Lend-lease appropriations," said Jones, "to date are $65,726,650,000, which is 4 billion dollars more than Great Britain, Canada, Australia, and New Zealand have appropriated for their entire war effort from the year 1939, the outbreak of the war."

War Appropriations Listed.

Jones read off figures, which he said were prepared by the legislative reference service of the congressional library at Washington, which gave war appropriations for the four years ending with 1942 of: British Isles, $52,356,117,300; Canada, $5,370,000,000; Australia, $3,303,677,430; New Zealand, $357,660,207. Total, $61,387,454,937.

"Lend-lease's own figures indicate the United Kingdom still gets 1.7 times as much as Russia, and latest figures for China alone show England received over 700 times as much as China. Lend-lease should be merged into the army and navy job of winning the war."

Jones said the large lend-lease exports to the United Kingdom are explained in part by the fact that England transfers lend-lease goods to other parts of the British empire.

"The admission by Mr. Stettinius" he said, "that goods are transferred to 56 nations, territories, islands or other political subdivisions by the British empire shows conclusively that some one else is gaining the goodwill to which we are rightfully entitled. From Aden thru the alphabet to Windward Islands, the United States should deal with each one of these countries direct to earn friends for America. Lend-lease is losing them for us."

RIGHT TO CALL 5 BOND ISSUES ASKED BY RAIL

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 1 (AP).—Guy A. Thompson, trustee of the Missouri Pacific Lines, petitioned Federal Judge George H. Moore today for authority to spend $44,055,305 to retire five bond issues, partially retire a sixth and pay interest on these and three other bond issues. The Missouri Pacific, which is undergoing reorganization, has enjoyed a war boom in business, Thompson informed the court, the road holding cash on hand and United States treasury notes totaling more than 100 million dollars. Judge Moore set Sept. 17 for a hearing on the trustee's petitions.

Five Sue Harvester Plant in Canton for Overtime

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 1 (AP).—Scerial Thompson, Harrisburg, attorney for district 50, United Mine Workers of America, said today he had filed suit in Fulton county Circuit court in Lewistown against the International Harvester company for $23,233, representing overtime wage claims, punitive damages and attorney fees sought by five district 50 members employed at the company's Canton plant.

ENTIRE NATION RUNNING OUT OF GAS, ICKES SAYS

East May Be Out in Few Days, He Warns.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 1 (AP).—Harold L. Ickes, interior secretary, declared tonight that at the present rate of consumption the entire nation faces the prospect of running out of gasoline and in the east it may be only "a matter of days."

Appealing for curtailment of all but essential driving, Ickes asserted in a radio address that motorists are dipping heavily into inventory stocks and that heavy military demands for fuel lie ahead.

Ickes said gasoline supplies on the west coast are "comfortable now," but "if the people there could know of the military demands that lie ahead, when the war in the Pacific really gets under way, they would know that there is anything but comfort ahead for them, so far as the sufficiency of gasoline is concerned."

Living on Borrowed Time.

The southwest and middlewest, he said, is "living on borrowed time," as far as gasoline is concerned, and to the motorists of the east he addressed this "unequivocal warning:"

"If there is any appreciable increase in gasoline consumption in the eastern states, above the present rate, we will be out of gasoline in a matter of days."

Ickes made it plain that the lifting of the pleasure driving ban in the east did not mean that the gasoline supply situation had improved.

No More Gas for East.

He declared that while there is no law to prevent pleasure driving "neither is there at this time, any gasoline to permit it."

Asserting the gasoline allowance for the east can not be increased at this time, he said the petroleum administration for war is supplying to the east all that it can "in the light of available transportation and in the light of war requirements."

"Remember," he said, "that all of our pipe lines, tanks, cars, barges, and tank trucks cannot be used to haul automotive gasoline for civilian consumption. They have to be used, also, to haul aviation gasoline in an ever mounting volume, toluene for TNT, butadiene for synthetic rubber, heavy oil for the navy, for the rapidly growing merchant marine, and for our war idustries—yes and furnace oil to keep America warm next winter."

ELECT MARCHEV NEW REPUBLIC AVIATION HEAD

Farmingdale, N. Y., Sept. 1 (AP).—Alfred Marchev today succeeded Ralph S. Damon as president of the Republic Aviation corporation. He said that "in all likelihood the production records established for P-47 Thunderbolts earlier this year again will be broken before the close of 1943."
